WORSE THAN DEATH.

A T Woreester, Massachusetts, in the year 1835, a case of Elech phantiasis' came under a physician's care, the patient laboring under the usual syptoms of that hortif disease, which continued growing worse and worse for ten years, at this period the patient was abandoned by her physician's all saying that her case was incurable, and that she could not survive many weeks. Her limbs were swollen to an immense size, her face turned black, eyes starting from their sockets, and her whole person resembling some beast, too horrid for description. All the symptoms of this dreadful disease appeared in the worst form. The female had been possessed of much personal beauty, and great accomplishments, but these were now suck in the ranges of a disease was THAN DEATS. In 1847 a gentleman from Chicago, Illinois, visited her friends, and undertook to alleviate her sufferings—to hope of life, but a wish that death would end her sufferings, being the sentiment of herself and friends. Having much faith in "Bloars" Olympart, he had supplied himself with it to present to his friends. The first box of the Unitment evident y helped her case, and in the use of two more boxes decided hopes were entertained. In short this hitherto incurable disease was mastered, and this case in which hundreds of dollars had been squandered on physicians, was cured entirely at a cost of fifteen dollars, and the young lady now married, walks the streets of a western city, a living and most beautiful monument of the unparablled virtue of the case in which hundreds of dollars had been equandered on physi-cians, was cured entirely at a cost of fifteen dollars, and the young lady now married, walks the streets of a western city, a living and most beautiful monument of the unparabled virtue of the people's medicine, 'Sloam's Chetkern'. Last August I received a severe bruise on one leg, just below the knee, no attention was paid to it however for some time after, nor until I had taken cold in the sore, it now became very much swollen, and exceedingly painful, so much to that I could get no sleep for several days. A physician was called, and my leg lanced at two different periods, discharging very freely each time. I haid under Medical treatment about three months, but without the least permanent benefit. I then obtained a box of your Ointment, this soon removed all pain and sorquess, and in two weeks from the time. I began using the Ointment up leg was entirely well. WE observe that friend Sloan is extending his business into distant parts of the country. We lately observed his familiar name and column of advertiements in the Pittsburgh Saturday Visiter. They have for some time been flourishing as large as life in the newspapers of Ohio. Thus he is pushing his business with energy to the east and the south, reversing the order of business, the tide of which usually tolks to the westward. Wherever the medicines are sold, they are liked, and the demand for them continues to increase. When a good article is thus sold, we have no tearest that it brings in to the proprietor a righ harvest.—Wesno regrets that it brings in to the proprietor a rich harvest.—Wes

It is seldom, if ever, known to fall in breaking up the most obstinate and distressing Cough or Cold, in a few hours' time, if the directions are strictly followed. IT "The columns of the Press throughout the country seem to be so filled with notices of cures and specifies for all diseases, 'flesh is heir to,' that one hardly knows what to do in case of disease, for fear that in using one medicine, another and better any be overlooked. But from the remarkable exces, and the high order and wast amount of testimony lately brought under our personal notice of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Rogers' Syrup of Livenwort, Tar, and Caschaladea, we are come clied to regard the evidence of our senses, and confidently since, that for Cougks and Colds, and that hedra-headed monster, Concertros, we think the above preparation a safe, speedy, and certain cure. To all our friends we say, TRY IT; and it at does not help you, nothing clee will."

DEATH FROM A SLIGHT COLD!

To By neglecting those salutary precautions which common sense dictates, many, rery many, fall victims to their prudence. We have seen the young bride blooming like a bird of paradice—the fair of flower hope, the pride of her father, and the joy of her mother—her cheek flushed with natica fallen, and I er eye beam ing with the soft expression of love—the gay dreams of life cancing before her fainty, with the rich and variegated thus of the rainbow's hue. We have seen all this changed—aye, it e kedding gumeni for a shrund, and the brieful chantler for the sepulche of the dead; and all this by neglecting a "common cold!".
Now, before it is too late, use Dr. Regers' Syrup of Liverwork, Tar, and Caritation, which gives immediate relief, as thousands of our most intelligent and weathy families are ready and willing I ite-lify.
