Mr. Clay presented the resolutions of the Compromise meeting at St. Louis. This called up Mr. Benton, who denounced in his usual style. Mi. Webster has now the floor and is speaking in favor of all the Compromise propositions.

Capt. Dupé publishes a card in the Intelligencer denying that he was one of the five said to have been shot. at Cardonas.

Mr. Webster finished his speech upon the Compromise. He was in favor of settling the question of boundary between New Mexico and Texas in this bill, mainly on the ground that it would prevent collision between the people of the two States.

Mr. Seward spoke in favor of the claims of the United States to the disputed territory. He said the United State, had assumed the debts of Texas, and therefore she was bound to pay them, but he would not vote a cent to pay for her claim to a portion of New Mexico.

Mr. Clemens moved to fill the blank in the bill for the? purchase of the Texas claim to the disputed territory auth one nullion of dollars.

Mr Clay opposed the motion and said the motion to fill up the blank should be made on the third reading of the bill. He replied to the remarks of Mr. Seward, and charged that gentleman and the Administration with obstuncy, and with delaying public business.

- Washington, June 11. Straif.-The bill to increase the rank and file of the army, and to encourage enlistments, returned from the House with an amendment, was taken up-the amendment being in relation to the propriety of mounting certain prespe-was discussed at some longth, and concurred in. After the consideration of the morning business, the combus bill was taken up.

Mr. Cass addressed the Senate. He severely handled the remarks made by Benton vesterday. He regretted, especially, his allusions to the chairman of the Committee of 13. The Senator from Missouri diad truly said that ours is a great, a prosperous, and a happy country Pro-perous as wegare, trouble has arisen. He believed the compromise under discussion to be a most proper one. A short time since, the South was threatened with the Wilmot Proviso, and, yet when a project was brought forward to arrest that issue, and settle the whole question it mot with the utmost hostility from gentlemen represening the South. On the other hand, certain Senators from the North and West opposed it just as heartily, as an abandonment of important considerations. If he had a doubt of the justice of the scheme, before this meeting of extremes, it would have removed them all.
