Letter from Judge Thompson Declining a Renomination for Congress.

The following letter from Judgo Thompson, received he Thursday's mail, explains itself. We have known by laure that he purposed declining a re-nominafer some mine post he has so admirably filled, and in common with his numerous friends, to whom he had expressed this determination, regretted it exceedingly. We had indulged the hope, indeed, that he would "vote reconsideration," and allow us again to present his name to the Democracy of the district, feeling perfectly name to the did so, they would rally to his support with the same unanimity and onthusiasm that has charscienzed them heretofore in three successive triumphs. But appears his determination is immovable, and wo hasten to communicate the fact at as early a moment as histen to enable public opinion to concentrate upon some one else before the meeting of the Congressional conferees. So far as Erio county is concerned, we feel perfectly safe in saying, that her delegates will be happy pencer, perceptate in the nomination of any Democrat who comes before the convention with a majority of the delegites from the balance of the district. After the favors shown her candidate heretofore she can do no less. The following is the letter;

WASHINGTON, JUNE 15, 1850.

B. F. SLOAN, Editor of the Observer. Dear Sir. Having for some time determined that would not be a candidate for Congress, at the ensuing election, I take this early occasion to make known this conclusion. I have been generously supported, and for three successive times elected, for which I feel the most profound souse of gratitude to my Domocratic brethren. I shall now be most happy to take a part with them in the ranks, where I trust we shall be as inseparably united as heretofore. To my Democratic brothren in Erie county who have again, in convention, placed me in nomination, and to numerous friends in other parts of the district who have expressed a desire that I should again be a capdidate, I tender my most hearty thanks for their coundence and kindness; and I will take this occasion to arrure them, and all my friends in the District, that I. shall be most happy, if an opportunity shall ever present, to cancel some portion of the obligation that I am under to all and every of them.

With great respect, I am truly yours, JAMES THOMPSON.

While he has his "hand in," wouldn't he do well to catch the man who pokes his nose into other people's business .- New London Star. Not at all—he only wants curiosities.—Boston Post.

True as preaching, Mr. Post. "The man who pokes his nose into other people's business" is no curiosity.—
He can be seen at almost every hour of the day or evening. His greatest delight is to "poke his nose" into an Editor's "paste-pot" or "inkstand;" and then with a visage as wise and knowing as an owl's, he will tell you this selection is not exactly the thing, or that Editorial may True as preaching, Mr. Post. "The man who pokes this selection is not exactly the thing, or that Editorial may all be well enough as far as it goes, but then there is one very prominent point of the subject you have unaccountably neglected to notice at all. Or, if the leader of the Tweedledum Singing Club, sends a card of invitation, and you notice it and the club, ten to one if he don't take you to task the first time he sees you for daring to notice the Tweedledums instead of the Tweedledees. In short, the "man who pokes his nose into other people's business," although no "curiosity," is decidedly a man of parts-that is, he infests all parties and all parts of the world. He can be found in every town or hamlet state or nation; savage or civilized, barbarous or semi-barbarous-consequently, even Barnum could'nt make such a speculation pay.

IT We see that our friend, WM. P. SHATTUCK, Esq., of Crawford, has been called upon by a number of the democracy of that district to allow them to use his name as a candidate for Congress. We hope he will be nominated, for besides being a down-right clover, whole-souled Democrat, he can be elected—and that is saying a good deal for him in the Crawford District.

Upon enquiry, it was ascertained that the old man had gone out from home some days before and remaining longer than usual, his wife went in pursuit of him; and having, it is presumed, found him much fatigued and unable to proceed any further, and herself wearied by the walk, she resolved to stay with him, and trust to the timely search of friends for relief. They were reposing in close proximity, and the posture and arrangement of the bodies indicated that he had died first, and received some of the kindly offices prompted by the hand of affection.
