Me-srs. Lester, Sennett & Chester: Gent.—To your inquiry whether the "Hang Up" Cooking Stove purchased from you dirring the present month, has given satisfaction or not, I have the pleasure of answering that said stove has met our fullest expectation in every particular, and would not be exchanged for any other pattern now in use of which I have knowledge.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

A. SCOTT.

Messra, Lester, Sennett & Chester; Gent.—We are using your improved modern Cooking Stove, called the "lang Up," and after a fair trial I can recommend it as superior to any stove in use in this section of the country. Among the most prominent advantages of this stove, is the commodiousness of the Oven, it being sufficiently capacious for the largest family, and also in a saving of the I. I am satisfied that one half the nel necessary for any stove we have ever used will amply supply this. Take it all in all think it difficult to improve.

FAIRBANKS' SCALES. FAIRBANHS' BOALDS.
THE well-carned reputation of l'airbanks' Scales has induced the venders of imperfect and worthless balances to offer them as "Furbanks' Scales", and purchasers have thereby, in many cases, been subjected to frand and imposition. The subscribers have no controversy with honorable competitors who transact business in their own names, but regarding the perpetrators of the above frand as purshing a course alike unjust and dishonorable, they take this measure to caution the public of their impositions. ZRIE DAGUERREAN GALLERY. CHERMAN & LEWIS are happy to autiound to the Ladies and Gentlemen of Eric, and the friends of science and art in the region round about that they are prepared to take Likenessessor's superior quality at their reous, over Middleton & Murphy's store three doors cast of Brown's Hotel. There are reveral reasons why persons can obtain better pie-ures atour rooms than at any other in this city, or in this part of he country. One is, the country. One is,

WE HAVE THE BEST LIGHT!

Skylight and side light COMBINED—each correcting the faults of the other, and producing a natural and most beamful effect.—

TRY IT, WHOEVER IS NOT SATISFIED WITH PIC-

TURES TAKEN ELSEWHERE!! Another reason is, we have the best apparatus. The importance of this will be obvious to any one.

We shall not offer those who favor us with their patronage, the flat, insipid, corpse-like things which many who call themselves artists present to the public. Neither shall we offer those dark, gloomy, images, which human beings are sometimes told resemble themselves; but clear and accurate Likenesses, possessing the most beautiful blending of light and shade, richness and depth of tone, remarkable distinctness of features, true expression of the eye, boldness of relief, distance and invisibility of back ground, delicacy of finish, softness, transparent and artistic effect.

Remember there is no room of the kind near here which has the facilities of this. It is designed to be a permanent establishment, NOT TO BE EQUALED is our motto.

Lawyers at a Premium.

The Boston Post in commenting upon the fact that all Mr. Fillmore's Cabinet are Lawyers, says, "this shoul! encourage young men who are in doubt what profession o adopt. The postmaster general, Mr. Hall, was Mr. Fillmore's law partner at Buffalo. We think if all the printers could agree, their fraternity might always furnish a suitable person for head of the post office department. The merchants might produce a man with sufficient intelligence to be secretary of the treasury. A farmer or planter, now and then, might make a decent appearance at the head of the home department. There are some wel informed mechanics in the United States. Physiciaus, too, sometimes understand very well the theory and practice of government under our republican system, and there have been many enlightened legislators of that profession. The attorney-general ought, doubtless, to the ata attorney and counseller at law, but that Mr. Fillmore could have found no suitable person out of his own trad, for even one of the seven cabinet appointments is some. thing that barristers can reflect upon with more satisfied tion than the public in general."

First Steamer at the Head of Lake Superior.

The Lake Superior Journal, of the 17th inst, contains an account of the trip of the first steamboat which has reached the head of Lake Superior. No vessel has herefore approached, by steam, nearer the head of the lake than La Pointe, which is ninety miles distant. The propellor Manhattan, the pioneer steamer, went twenty miles up the river St. Louis, which empties into the Lake at Fond du Lac. We extract the following from the account in the Journal.

"We spent the day at La Pointe, the head quarters of the late American Fur Company, and next morning proceeded up the islands of the Apostles for the terra neognita beyond. The weather was thick, and we were hours without beholding a vestage of land, though we could sometimes hear the loud voice of the billow; as it spoke back to us from the shore. The vast lake, blue beautiful blue, had become turbid as with the waters of a swollen stream. At last the clouds dispersed, the sun appeared, and up stood on our right the high ridges of Minesota, on our left the more level lands of Wiscoasin, in front of the rapid waters of the St. Louis dashed upon our prow. Our excellent pilot, Capt. Ripley, had brought us as by intuition to the precise point we had desired. The surprised Chippewas, some of them in a state of absolute nudity, whose lodges covered the store, gazed with wonder upon the thing of life that walked the waters before them. ' Fairly in the river we were obliged to anchor till morning, on account of the returning thick. ness of the weather.

As we approached the mouth of the river the pilotage had been committed to Joseph Landne, a half-breed, who had made himself acquainted with the river, for conducting us up. He performed his duty admirably, and kept our keel, up and down, free from contact with earth. Our cargo consisted of provisions and supplier for Indian consumption. We arrived at Fon du Lac, and while our vessel did its appropriate business, we looked upon the wild life that was scattered around. The half-naked savage, painted to hideousness in the mids; of emblems consecrated to peace, exhibited the will dance and the song of his nation. The braves discoursed of their encounters with the foe-the battes they wore disclosed the number of scalps they had won. A gentleman conversant with the Chippewa, gave us a brief translation of the addresses that were made.

The climate and soil of these regions are far more congenial to agriculture than we had supposed; veg eiation possesses a rankness and thrift unknown to to too indelent productions of a Southern climate.

Beauty of Jewesses. .

It is related that Chateaubriad, on returning from his Lastern travels, was asked if he could assign a reason why the women of the Jewish race were so much handsomer than the men, when he gave the following out: -- 'Jewesses," he said, "have escaped the curse which alighted up in the reathers, husbands and sons. Not a a lowers was to be seen among the crowd of priests and rabble who in ulted the Son of God, scourged flim, crowned Him with thorns, and subjected Him to infame and the agony of the cross, The women of Judea be-Tiered in the Serione and resisted and southed Herries der affliction. A woman of Bethany poured on H. head precious ointment, which she kept in a vase of alabaster. The sinner annointed his feet with perfame! oil, and wiped them with her hair. Christ, on his pail. extended mercy to the Jewesses. He rased from the dead the son of the widow of Nain, and Micha's brainer Lazarus. He cured Simon's mether-in-law, and the woman who touched the hem of his garment. To the Samaritan woman he was a spring of living water, and a compassionate judge to the woman in adultery. The daughters of Jerusalem wept over him; the holy wemen accompanied him to Calvary, brought him balm and spices; and weeping, sought him in the sepulchre .-Woman, why weepest thou?" His first appearance after the resurrection was to Mary Magdalene. 'He said to her, "Mary!" At the sound of his voice, Mary Magdalene's eyes were opened, and she answered, 'Master.' The reflection of some beautiful ray must have rested on the brow of the Jewessesl"

Just Like Them.

The Brooklyn Lagle advises its readers never to inerfere with a man and his wife when they are fighting. A friend of ours was awoke from his sleep and heard thervoice of his landlady shouting "murder! murder!" He rushed to the spot whence the sound issued, and found the woman prestrate on the floor. Impulsive he tackled with the man and threw him down. The woman seeing this new state of things, soized a caudlestick and struck her deliverer a blow on the bridge of hisnose that blackened both of his eyes, she screaming at the top of her voice, "Villain! do you want to murder my dear husband?" Our friend says that in future, ho shall let them fight it out.

A New Remedy.

One of our exchanges has the following new remedy or love. We copy it for the benefit of others, as it is not probable we shall ever have occasion to try its efficacy. The best cure for love is sickness. If any of your friends are troubled with this complaint, therefore, don't persuade them to seek consolation in good advice or assenic, but induce them to eat green fruit till they get the chelic. No man can go crazy about a piece of calico se long as his bowels are deranged.

Tunks-In their manners and customs they appear the very antipodes of the civilized North, and all their habits antithetical to Europeans, they sit on the ground crosslegged, we sit upright, upon a chair. They eat with their fingers; we with forks.-Their woman wear trowsers: their men wear petticoats. We take off our hats on entering a room; they take off their shees .- Our gentlemen visit the ladies; their women the men. Our fait ones ride sideways; their beauties ride a straddly. They glory in plurality, we think one enough. Their fair each paint their eyelids and fingers; ours only their cheeks. We think them barbarians and fanatics, and wonder at their taste; they retaliate by calling us dogs, and are equally astonished at our want of good breeding. There are scearcely two points in which they both agree, and if may be said, with truth, that what the Angle Sarea it the Turk is not .- Rev. Mr. Furness.

II A speaker in a meeting, not long since, enlarging ipon the rascality of the devil, hit him off in the publ words:-"I tell you, brethren, that the devil is an old har. For when I was about getting religion, he told me that if I did get religion, I could not go into any gay compary and lie, or any such thing, but I have found him out to be a great liar!"
