Erie County Medical Society. Extract from the minutes of the proceedings of the last meeting of the Erie county medical Society.

The following resolutions were, after a full and free interchange of opinion, unanimously approved of by the Society: ... Resolved. That no member of this society shall be allowed to meet in consultation with any person acting in the capacity of a physician who is not a member of this the capacity, or otherwise qualified to become a member on application under the existing constitution and by-laws of the society; and for every violation of the letter or spirit of the resolution the member so offending shall receive for the first offense the consure of the society; for the socond offense suspension till satisfaction is given for the ofcond one need appeared in satisfication is given for the of-fense committed; and for third effense receive expulsion. Resolved. That the above resolution be published in the appear of the borough for three successive weeks.

Reduced, That Drs. Flint, Beebe, Vosburg, Miller and Perkins be appointed a committee to address a communication to the public, giving our reasons for taking the stand we have done in regard to consultion, and that said communication be published." By order of the society.

L. Sthone, Sec'y. ADDRESS.

In pursurance of the above resolution, the committee of the Medical Society would address the public, and state that both in Europe and the United States various scause have combined to impose upon the public men pretending offer to the public at greatly reduced prices. Pure Liquors and Wines, V dow Glavs of all sizes, Paints, Oils, Dyestiffs, &c.; which offer to the public at greatly reduced prices.

Eric, Nov. 2d, 1859. of the Medical Society would use that both in Europe and the United States various scause have combined to impose upon the public men pretending to medical acquirements who were totally incompetented take charge of the life and health of their follows. Duly educated and high minded physicians have seen the profession of Medicine tast degenerating from a science for the investigation of truth to a mere means of making a higher of the adecutful and dishonest one, and in pursuit 1500 LBS. PURE WHITE LEAD-just received by CARTER & BRO. or of a noble science alike lost sight of. These evils were more conspicuous in the United States than in Europe. To correct them, medical men of both continents unted in associations to deliberate upon the best means of giving the highest usefulness and the most honorable conduct in 1346 and '47, the medical profession in the United States that in convention for the purpose of organizing themselves into a permanent association. In 1848, the American Medical Association held its first session at Baltimore. It was composed of 493 deligates from 24 States of the Union, and of medical gentlemen of the army and navy. As pertinent to iris paper, we make the following extract from the opening address of the Presi-ly appealed to—certain chords, which when proper, touched, never fail to elicit an harmonious response.

Our profession, gentlemen, is the link that unites science and philanthropy. It is among the strongest ligaments that bind together the elements of society. It teaches the rich their dependance—and the poor to an in-nate sense of the dignity of their nature. Its aim is to add to the comfort and length of human life."

Sessions of the American Medical Association formed of delegates from county and State societies have already been held in Baltimore, in Boston and in Cincinnati, and much interesting and valuable information has thus been communicated to the profession.

We have been obliged to give but a brief and imperfeet notice of the formation and the results of this great Medical Congress. The States and counties by local so-cieties are now aiding in the work. Pennsylvania has a large and valuable society investigating all medical sub-jects most interesting to the community. We make the following extracts from the address of the opening of the session at Reading in April 1849. "The importance of a through organization of the medical profession was never more manifest; nor more universally recognized than at present, . Efforts for such regunzation, for the most parts uccessful, are making in almost every State in the Union, through the means of the Am. Med. Association. Nothing but this will preserve the character of the profession—improve its education and elevate its ethical standard. Nothing but this will serve to draw the line of demorcation between the physician and the quack, and save us from being contounded, in the popular estimation, with the ignorant pretenders whom the law presents from assuming the titles of the profession as a cleak for the vilest charlatanism. Our society has wisely resolved not to appeal to the legislature for its protection or encouragement. The remedy is in ourselves. We have but to unite the profession in one body, to labor for its advantement in learning and skill, tolcheer and encourage by friendly association every honorable physician and to exclude utterly from professional intercourse all ompirical and irregular practitioners. When we thus re-spect ourselves and our common art, an enlightened puthe oppion will soon be enabled to perceive the fact, and

The report then continues: "One principle want of medical men, in the country, is a more free and extended professional intercourse. The formation of a medical society will lend to more frequent intercourse and most mendly relations among medical men. They will come to understand each other better, and will be freed from that spirit of jealousy and ungenerous rivalry which un-fortunately too often embitters their feelings and causes tue scandal of the entire profession. Such societies also improve the state of medical knowledge, by affording anepportunity for a frequent interchange of opinion and comparison of observations. They give the means of attaming rehable results in regard to the character and course of epidemic and endemic diseases, and offer an epportunity of improving public Hygiene which no isolated practioneer can possibly have. The profession denves from them strength for its indivivual members, such as the public will not be slow to perceive.

We succeedy hope that the present year will not be allowed to pass over, without the effort in question being made. Let no man content himself in idleness with the reflection that it is not his buisness. It is the buisness of every member of the profession, and in each county where the effort is not made, every physician is alike responsible."

The profession being thus organized and for such noble ends, it is fair to infer that any one rightly entitled to the name of physician will enter the organization, and if he does not, that he is indifferent, or opposed to pro-fessional advancement and the public good, or else that be is unwilling to come under the professional honor and courtesy. The society which any individual possesses of forming his associates according to his estimate of their character, and in so doing it interferes with the privelege of none, as all have the full right of employing which they please. All that we claim is, the privelege of not degrading ourselves by such unworthy association. No medical man, loving honor and rectitude, can hold fellowship with those who reject the laws acknowledged and subscribed to by the body of the profession in every part of the world.

The society subscribes most heartily to this article in the lody of the profession in every part of the world.

"THE HIGH CONTRACTING PARTIES."

The great excitement of the day is no longer about a continuous line of railroad through the county, but the all absorbing subject of interest to this community is the commotion at the corner store opposite Brown's florel, where people do say there is a greater rush, more goods are sold of better quality and at lower prices than at any other establishment in the city.

LAIRD & RUST, who succeed C. B. Wright in business at the old stand on the corner of State street and the Public Square, opposite the Court House, are now receiving a large, splendid and well selected stock of DAY GOODS, Hardware, Groceffes, Liquore, Flour, Fish and Salt, which they offer to the public at unprecedented low prices. Having resolved to do business upon the ready pay system, which is the only frus system, better for the buyee and better for the seller, they are prepared to sell goods as cheap as the chaepest and no mistake. One of the firm has just arrived from the city, having purchased a very large stock which they undertake to say will compare favorably in quality, prices and judicioueness of selection with any in the city. They will wouch for the truth of this statement and will prove it to the satisfaction of a candid public, if they will only take the trouble to call and examine for themselves. Their stock embraces Dry Goods of every description, such as Shawls, lalest styles, Go de Rine Silks, Satin de Chien, Poplins, new styles, De Lancs, plain and figured, French Twilted Broad Cloths, Cassimers, plain and francy. "We have uniformly refrained from recommending to the public any of the various Patent Medicines of the day, unless thoroughly convinced of their value. Among those we consider worthy of notice is the German Butters, invented by Dr. Hogland, and prepared by Dr. Jackson-in Philadelphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this medicine have been tested, has fallen under our observation. During the last summer, a son of Mr. Abraham Crabill, of this county, was very seriously affleted with Liver Complaint, and after trying in van vorious remedies, he purchased a bottle of the Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of his distressing malady, that he produced another bottle, and is restored entirely to health."

Judge M. M. Nosh a gentleman with great scientific and literary attainments, said in his "New York Weekly Messenger," January 6, 1850.

"Da. Hootlands German Bitters.—Here is a preparation which the leading presses in the Union appear to be unanimous in recommending, and the reason is obvious. It is made after a prescription furnished by one of the most eclebrated physicians of modern times, the late Dr. Christopher Withchn Hootland, Professor to the University of Jena, Private Physician to the King of Prussia, and one of the greatest medical writers Germany has ever produced. He was emphatically the enemy of smbng*, and therefore a medicine of which he was the inventor and endorser may be confidently relied op. He specially recommended it in Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Debility, Vertigo, Acudity of the Stomach, Constipation, and all complaints arising from a disordered condition of the stomach, the liver and the intestines. Nine Phila lephia papers express their conviction of its excellence, and several of its editors speak of its effects from their own individual experience. Under these circumstance, we feel warra
