

DEMOCRATIC STATE NOMINATIONS.

WILLIAM BIGLER, SETH CLOVER, For Justices of the Supreme Bench.

JEREMIAH S. BLACK, of Somerset. JAMES CAMPBELL, of Philadelphia. ELLIS LEWIS, of Lancaster. JOHN B. GIBSON, of Cumberland. WALTER H. LOWRIE, of Allegheny.

Sanbury and Erie Railroad.

A public meeting of the Citizens of Erie on the subject of the Sanbury and Erie Railroad, will be held at the Court House in Erie, on Saturday evening, the 26th inst., at 7-1/2 o'clock P. M.

Printer's Profits.

The Post Master at Springfield Cross Roads informs us that J. H. Pickett, one of our "patrons," has left "for parts unknown." It was only indebted to us for $6 40—that's all!

Whig Judicial Troubles.

The troubles of Whigery are manifold, and their vexation of heart and spirit various and perplexing. It took a good deal of figuring of the wire-pullers to settle upon a time and place to decide the conflicting claims of the various aspirants.

The Question Answered.

We are pleased to be able to announce that the question we asked our contemporary of the Gazette, in regard to the truth of the charge made by the Lancaster Express, that Gov. Johnston was so overcome with liquor on the day of his nomination as to be unable to address the Convention when called upon to do so, has been satisfactorily answered.

What they Labor For.

Gov. Johnston and the whig party of Pennsylvania stand pledged to disturb the Compromise measures by repealing or amending one of them—the Fugitive Slave Law. They come before the people of Pennsylvania with the black flag of "Agitation" and "Disunion" flaunting in the breeze, and still tell us they are in favor of carrying out all the provisions of the Constitution...

Melancholy Accident.

We find in the Westfield Transcript the account of a most melancholy and fatal accident, which occurred in the town of Ripley on Saturday last, by which two interesting and amiable young ladies lost their lives, by drowning.

What a Whig Governor has Done.

Some of the whig papers are sure the people will vote for Gov. Johnston because, say they, "two months after his inauguration into office he paid the interest of the public debt promptly, without resorting to the Locofoco expedient of a loan."

PAPER ROOFS.—We observe in one of our exchanges, that a paper mill in Georgia is engaged in manufacturing an article of paper for roofing, which is believed to be better and cheaper for that purpose than almost anything else.

It is certainly a new article for roofing, yet Erie can boast of a roof of this material. It is on the new brick block of Bennett & Co., on State street.

THE ADVANTAGE.—Elections will take place in the States of Kentucky, Indiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois and Iowa, on the 4th of August.

LETTER FROM OREGON.

Correspondence of the Erie Observer.

PORTLAND, OREGON, June 6, 1851.

Dear Sir:—The last mail brought me yours of March 18th, that to-morrow takes my reply. To your first question, as to what Oregon is in an agricultural point of view, I answer that it is emphatically the best I ever saw.

To your second inquiry, I reply that business generally in prospect is fair, yet better than that it is good. Still I cannot now name any that will prosper "speedily and greatly."

As to the business you speak of, that is "cultus," as the natives or Cheenook Indians call it, meaning thereby "good for nothing." It is altogether overdone.

In relation to the Lumber business, it can be carried on to any extent. We have plenty of the finest timber on any one tract; plenty of mills (Saw and Flour) are up and being put up, and plenty of good sites for more.

I have enjoyed good health since I came into the Territory, and weigh some twenty pounds more than I ever did. I am at a loss to attribute it to the strawberries and cream I am the daily recipient of, together with the healthy climate.

I believe we have some of the best friends of any Editor in Pennsylvania. We are always remembered when there is anything good to eat or drink in the market.

WE BELIEVE we have some of the best friends of any Editor in Pennsylvania. We are always remembered when there is anything good to eat or drink in the market.

WE BELIEVE we have some of the best friends of any Editor in Pennsylvania. We are always remembered when there is anything good to eat or drink in the market.

WE BELIEVE we have some of the best friends of any Editor in Pennsylvania. We are always remembered when there is anything good to eat or drink in the market.

WE BELIEVE we have some of the best friends of any Editor in Pennsylvania. We are always remembered when there is anything good to eat or drink in the market.

SIFTINGS FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

WITH EDITORIAL DAMNIES BY A FREE PRESS.

A man is never irrevocably joined until he marries a bad woman; so say those who have tried it. Philanthropic.—It is said that enormous draughts of a mixture called brandy and water will demonstrate to any man that the world turns round.

Green apples are admirably calculated to produce peculiarly unpleasant abdominal feelings. So avoid them. Mrs. Swinheim, the mistress of the Pittsburgh Visitor, gives public notice that she is just thirty-five years of age. That she is not "fair, fat and forty."

That was a true remark of the Boston Post that unassuming and unobtrusive gentility is always superior gentility. The garment which one has long worn never sits unbecomingly.

Both candidates for Governor in California are natives of Pennsylvania. Good for the Keystone—if she is destined never to furnish a President, she is great on Governors.

The churches of Cleveland were all alive with "Bloomers" on Sunday last. Some two hundred ladies were out in the new fashion. Cleveland beats Erie in Bloomers, Railroads and Population, none!

Gen. Joseph Lane, who was removed by Gen. Taylor from the office of Governor of Oregon, has been elected delegate to Congress from that territory by a large majority over Wilson, who Gen. Lane commanded the Indiana brigade at a battle of Battle Vista.

There is not any slavery in the British colony of the Cape of Good Hope, only an "apprenticed" slave system; this refers to the colored people who are bound to the soil, and offers a reward for lodging him in prison.

There is much truth in the remark of an exchange that if people would only keep their heads as well furnished with books as they do their coat tables, what an intelligent world this would be.

One of the Editors of the New Orleans Crescent, in making a speech in that city the other day, in referring to his favorite candidate for Congress, said he was a "man, every inch; he had nice brothers, and all of them white."

One of the Editors of the New Orleans Crescent, in making a speech in that city the other day, in referring to his favorite candidate for Congress, said he was a "man, every inch; he had nice brothers, and all of them white."

One of the Editors of the New Orleans Crescent, in making a speech in that city the other day, in referring to his favorite candidate for Congress, said he was a "man, every inch; he had nice brothers, and all of them white."

One of the Editors of the New Orleans Crescent, in making a speech in that city the other day, in referring to his favorite candidate for Congress, said he was a "man, every inch; he had nice brothers, and all of them white."

One of the Editors of the New Orleans Crescent, in making a speech in that city the other day, in referring to his favorite candidate for Congress, said he was a "man, every inch; he had nice brothers, and all of them white."

One of the Editors of the New Orleans Crescent, in making a speech in that city the other day, in referring to his favorite candidate for Congress, said he was a "man, every inch; he had nice brothers, and all of them white."

One of the Editors of the New Orleans Crescent, in making a speech in that city the other day, in referring to his favorite candidate for Congress, said he was a "man, every inch; he had nice brothers, and all of them white."

Letter from Valparaiso, Chili.

Correspondence of the Erie Observer.

VALPARAISO, Chili, April 4, 1851.

Dear Frank—You will, no doubt, be somewhat surprised to receive a letter from me bearing the above date, but certain it is, after baffling the ice bergs, to say nothing of starvation, off Cape Horn for a month, our Jonah-typhoon ship has at last come to anchor in the Bay of Valparaiso; and just in the nick of time, too, for your humble correspondent to see his old mother-earth "cut such fantastic tricks before high Heaven," which, if they did not exactly make the "angel weep," brought the "brine" from the eyes of a great many besides your humble servant.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

On the 14th inst., after a lingering illness, Mrs. Carpenter, consort of S. M. Carpenter, Esq., of this city, aged about 30 years.

Destructive Rail-Storm.

Correspondence of the Erie Observer.

COLUMBUS, Pa., July 22, 1851.

GEORGETOWN.—Although not a journalist I sometimes take rough notes of the way when anything attracts my attention of novelty or interest. Of this character I consider the hail storm of the 19th inst. A novelty to me certainly, and interesting to those whose crops and windows have been ruined by it. Its effects attracted my attention about three miles east of Wayne Corner, on the road leading from Waterford to Jamstown. The large elder bushes standing by the side of the road were completely stripped of their foliage and the road covered with leaves; farther along, the crops showed its effects; the leaves of the corn were completely reversed, and all hung on the east side of the stalk, so much so that the man who planted it could not have told "the weed" if he had not known where it was planted.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

On the 4th of July they pronounced against the Government, and on a body of troops being sent to disperse them, a skirmish ensued, in which the troops were defeated, with the loss of their commander and from 20 to 30 killed.

REVOLUTION IN CUBA.

Correspondence of the Erie Observer.

NEW YORK, July 22.

The steamer Cherokee, which arrived last night from Havana, brings intelligence of an insurrection at Yaguajay, a city near in importance to Havana.