Ohio Democracy. Returns from Ohio indicate the re-election of Gov. Wood, the Democratic candidate for Governor, by a very large majority.

Who are Bolters? We do not often meet in Whig fights, but we have heard much swearing, both "loud and deep," since the election on Tuesday.

Mr. Brown's Death. On Thursday last, about 9 o'clock, Mr. J. H. Harrison, in passing from his residence to the Erie Academy, was passing by the Principal, fell down, and before assistance arrived, expired.

The Result in Erie County.

Below will be found the official result of the election in this county on Tuesday last. In brief, these figures prove that SAMUEL PERLEY, the Editor of the Chronicle, the Independent candidate for Prothonotary, has beaten James Skinner, the regular candidate that Judge Miles, who was thrown over in the Whig convention because he was a contractor on the Western Railroad and would not endorse John H. Walker's course in the Senate.

While the result in the District for Judge is of the most gratifying character, attesting that the people are capable of choosing their Judicial officers, we by no means claim it as a political triumph. Both in our own county and Crawford many reliable Whigs were found arguing the election of Mr. Galbraith.

As to the political aspect of the vote on Governor in the county, it is equally gratifying. The Democracy of Erie, are largely in the minority, and it is only upon extraordinary occasions that they can all be induced to turn out. This was not one of those occasions.

PROCLAMATION.

Know all men of the United States, that we, the sovereigns of Pennsylvania, have, in accordance with the high principles of national pride and self respect, on the 14th day of October, proclaimed from the Executive chair of our noble old Key Stone State, that our traitor and lawless partner to fanaticism, WILLIAM F. JOHNSON, that traitor to the memory of our fathers of '76, and a decent respect for the trials of those days "that tried men's souls," required that our hands should be signally rebuked, and that our indignation should be so broad as to reach the seeds of discord and dissension.

While the result in the District for Judge is of the most gratifying character, attesting that the people are capable of choosing their Judicial officers, we by no means claim it as a political triumph. Both in our own county and Crawford many reliable Whigs were found arguing the election of Mr. Galbraith.

English Pharisaism.

The English journals continue to abound with abuse and misrepresentation respecting the ill-starred Cuban expedition. It is described as a legitimate offspring of republicanism; as a measure warmly permitted, if not covertly assisted by our government; as an outrage upon the flag of nations and upon human nature itself, such as no civilized country has ever had the audacity to perpetrate before.

While the result in the District for Judge is of the most gratifying character, attesting that the people are capable of choosing their Judicial officers, we by no means claim it as a political triumph. Both in our own county and Crawford many reliable Whigs were found arguing the election of Mr. Galbraith.

New Orleans, Oct. 13. The Yacht steamer brings Rio Grande dates to the 8th. Previous accounts stated that the insurgents were marching on Rejos, which is confirmed as also the capture of that town. General Aviles was busily engaged in fortifying Matamoros. Col. Carrizal had issued orders not to acknowledge permits from the Mexican Custom House. Circular had been issued by the Collector at Brownsville, enforcing vigilance on the part of Custom House in consequence of the progress of the revolution.

A party of 10 armed Americans had landed secretly at Matatlan, and were made prisoners by the authorities. A melancholy disaster occurred at Pittsburg on Tuesday. It is thus narrated by the Gazette, of that city: A shocking accident took place yesterday morning, viz Birmingham, at the head of Drennan-st. A number of children were going to school, and when passing the platform of Knusel & Co., on which the coal brought from the pit above is placed, after having been brought to the railway cars—a loaded car was brought to rest by the engine, and the workmen in some manner neglected to fasten the hooks to it, when down it came with frightful velocity, and dashed the platform to pieces, knocking a workman who was upon it to a considerable distance, though fortunately without materially injuring him. The car was then projected into a group of children, five of whom were severely injured.

Two children of Mr. John Kunkle were dangerously wounded. One has his skull fractured, and is supposed to be mortally wounded; the other had his leg broken, and was otherwise much injured. Their respective ages were six and eight years.

A little son of Mr. Jacob Byer was severely injured internally and is not expected to recover. A son of Mr. John Baldwin, aged eight years, had his skull fractured, and is not expected to survive.

Curiosities of the Arctic Expedition. The New York News gives the following account from an officer of the American Arctic Expedition, of the boats used in that region: "My boat is a kind of boat used by this people, and are, certainly, very curious affairs, four of which were brought in the advance. They are made by stretching seal skin over a light frame work of wood, shaped very much like a flattened cigar, both ends being very sharp, with a hole in the top about 14 inches in diameter. The whole length of a boat is about 12 feet, by 14 inches in width, and 8 inches deep at the centre. The bottom side is his legs and thighs through the aperture in the top of the boat, and the hands and arms, while from his legs are outside. This part of the body is covered with seal skin, made the same as a "Jumper," and lashed with drawing strings at the bottom, to a rim round the aperture in the boat. The bottom part, about seven feet in length, made of light wood, and slightly made the main part about 14 or 15 inches in diameter, and the blades of the blades, and are ornamented with ivory. With this the boat is hoisted through the water at a very rapid rate. By a dexterous movement with his oar, an expert boatman will completely turn his boat over and come up on the opposite side, still retaining his accustomed situation.

In this fragile vessel he pursues his avocation of spearing seals in the roughest weather, for which purpose he has a barbed spear several inches long, made of steel, and very sharp, which is attached to an ivory point about 6 inches in length and 1 1/2 inches in diameter; to the steel is attached a line, forty feet in length made of the hide of the Walrus, and this is fastened to a bladder made of the skin of a seal and filled with air lying on the after part of the boat. When the spear enters the seal, it is arranged so that it disengages itself from the ivory point, by the point slipping at the same instant from the seal, but it is attached by a string and floats with it, while at the same time the bladder of which the line is made, is thrown overhead, preventing the seal from sinking any farther than the length of the line; the staff and seal are then recovered at his leisure. For killing waterfowl, of which there are but few, a sharp round spear is used, attached to a staff seven feet in length. These spears are thrown with astonishing accuracy, rarely if ever missing their mark. Another manner, and the easiest by far of spearing the seal, is by doing it through a hole in the ice where they come up to breathe; they will frequently scratch holes through the ice from the under side, where it is several feet thick, to get fresh air; the natives are accustomed to the noise made by the scratching, and will hear them a long distance and watch for them, and as soon as they make their appearance they are at once killed and secured.

RISK OF THE SIERRA MADRE REPUBLIC. By way of New Orleans we have news that the revolution there has proved successful. It commenced at Camargo, where the patriots attacked the Mexicans and were victorious, having taken the town by storm, with a loss by the Mexicans of 60. The government troops were entrenched in a church with artillery. The revolutionists are commanded by Caraby, who has with him two companies of Texans. At last accounts they were marching on to Matamoros and Reynosa. General Avila, who is at Matamoros, has only 300 troops. He had a requisition on the city for 3000, but the city refused to send a single man. The plan of the revolutionists was a proclamation, which was widely circulated. Tampico and vicinity is in the hands of the insurgents. The people of Matamoros are quietly waiting the arrival of the liberating army.

Cur of RATTLE-NAKED BIRDS.—A correspondent of the Baltimore American, writing from Russell county, Virginia, recites two cases, one a negro man and the other a boy, in which severe bites of rattlesnakes have been cured by the free-administration of brandy, half a tumbler full at a time every few minutes until a quart had been taken. We have heard eye-witnesses attest the virtue of this remedy. It is said that the liquor in such cases does not inactivate.

Just as we go to press, on Friday evening, we see that our neighbor of the Chronicle has a very nice looking Rooster sitting on his office. These who see him are sure to say he has a "secret circular" in his beak.
