New York, June 23.

There is a growing dissatisfaction among a large proportion of the whigs of this city at the nomination of Scott, and efforts are making to hold a convention to nominate Webster as an independent candidate.

A call in the Courier says the platform adopted by the convention is only the expression of the principles of a majority of the convention, and is not binding to the whole whig party.

Thousands of the whigs will vote for Pierce while many of the democrats will vote for Webster, if he is nominated.

The Massachusetts Webster Delegation left for Boston the P.M., one of them stating that $500,000 would be pledged by the Tennessee men, if an independent ticket, headed by Webster should be brought forward.

The delegation will wait till they get to Boston, when they are to be received in procession, to decide upon it.

CINCINNATI, June 22.

The news of the action of the Baltimore Convention produced an intense excitement here, 100 guns were fired and preparations are on foot for a grand ratification meeting.

COLUMBUS, O., June 22.

Despatches were received here yesterday P. M. announcing the nomination of Scott and Graham. Ohio is alive with enthusiasm at the event.

Louisville, June 22.

The Baltimore nominations appear to give much satisfaction. Cannon were fired on the receipt of the news, and other demonstrations of joy were apparent.

MATTSVILLE, Ky., June 22.

The nomination of Scott and Graham caused some disappointment here, but the party will generally stick to the ticket.

MURRISS, June 22.

Scott and Graham nominations were received here with mingled cheers and hisses.

St. Louis, June 22.

Much enthusiasm prevails in this city in relation to the nominations in Baltimore.

The Whigs very generally promise their hearty support to the ticket.

SAVANNAH, June 22.

The Baltimore nominations have been received, but with considerable coldness.

PITTSBURGH, June 22.

The nomination of Scott and Graham has caused much enthusiasm in this city, and a salute was fired in honor of the event.

RICHWOOD, June 22.

Scott's nomination is much regretted, though a greater portion of the Whig party say they will abide by it.

CLEVELAND, June 23.

The Steamer Northern Indiana put into this port in Cleveland in consequence of injuries sustained by a collision with the schooner Plymouth at half-past one this A. M. The collision took place between Black River and Cleveland. She struck the Plymouth, about midship, piercing her nearly through, the concussion was very severe. The captain and two hands sprung overboard from the vessel who escaped in the small boat and were taken on board the steamer destitute of clothing. The vessel went down bow first.

The accident is unaccountable, as both vessels had lights out at the time. It will probably end the excursion, or so far as its pleasure is to induce many to leave for other ports.

BOSTON, June 21.

CHEERS AND HISSES IN BOSTON.—The announcement of the nomination of Gen'l Scott was received here with mingled cheers and hisses by the whigs—but the hisses predominated. The chagrin of the friends of Mr. Webster is very great. The streets are crowded with people discussing the nomination, in a rather sulky mood—The Commonwealth newspaper, in heralding the nomination, added, "State Street Groans." The Advertiser however has up the Scott flag, and the friends of the nominee have fired 100 guns on the common. The rejoicings are for him being general or hearty.

CORCORAN, N. H., June 21.

DIGESTION OF OPINION AT CONCORD.—MAGNIFICENT ORDER OF THE DEMOCRATS.—Scott's nomination has just been received with much indignation among the Webster whigs—but there is much satisfaction among the free soilers. The Democrats are pleased, and are urging the whigs to fire a salute, offering to pay for powder. The latter had not been accepted.

WASHINGTON, June 21.

Without notice of any concert of action, several thousands of our citizens with a fine band of music, marched in procession this evening along Pennsylvania Avenue to the residence of Gen'l Scott. The band played "Hail to the Chief," and long and prolonged cheers were given. Gen'l Scott appeared and addressed the assemblage as follows:

Gentlemen—This is the first political greeting I have ever received. This manifestation of your kindness touches my heart deeply, coming as it does from my near neighbors and friends. My residence in the city of Washington has been very agreeable to myself. This was laid out under the eye and direction of the immortal Washington, and I trust the prosperity of the city will continue to advance with the growth of the Union, until it becomes every way worthy of the Union, and of him whose name it bears.

I trust, gentlemen, that so long as I shall continue among you, the same friendly relations will be cultivated, whether I continue to occupy the position of a soldier or shall be elevated to that of Chief Magistrate.

Goatman—The high honor which the Baltimore convention has conferred on me over my illustrious and friendly rival, the Chief Magistrate of the country, and the Secretary of State—already known to fame, was wholly unmerited and will be a cause for my making still greater efforts to merit the approbation of my country and of that Convention.

I know that much easy and many trials are to be passed through before the ratification of the people will be heard—whether it shall confirm the action of the convention or not, I shall be satisfied, for I know that it will be conferred upon a man deserving your confidence and support. In whatever position I may be placed it shall continue to be the great aim of my life to discharge my duty to my country.

If I should be elevated to that distinguished position for which I have been named, I shall seek to conduct myself so as to merit the confidence which you have so kindly conferred on me in advance.

Gentlemen—You find me greatly fatigued and exhausted, and for the present I can only thank you for this kind congratulation, the first of the kind which I have ever received, and bid you all good night. After an enthusiastic cheering the procession proceeded to Secretary Graham's house with a response to the patriotic music and loud calls, that gentleman appeared and made a neat address.

SEAL'D PROPOSALS.

In pursuance with the following Resolution Proposals will be received at the office of the Mayor until the first of July next for furnishing three hundred thousand feet of Plank, and for grading State, Street, and laying the Pavement:

Wardens, in the opinion of the Select and Common Council of the City of Erie, it is expedient and necessary that State Street be laid with a double track of Pavement, from the North East to the South West, where the same will be laid, and the Almond and Main Streets, Erie Pa.

On the 1st inst., by the Rev. Charles F. Dyer, Mr. John Hunt, of Millcreek, and Miss Isabella Powers, of Waterford, Pa.

MR. BUSHNELL, a well-known Clerical Physician, is stopping at the Reed House for a few days, and will lecture on those sciences, and make physiological examinations. We gave her a call yesterday, in company with a few friends, and were much astonished as well as delighted at her facility, and correctness in delineating character. We acknowledge to having been "like a book," and as far as we could judge, one of those in company with us, was equally as correctly described. If there is any of our readers skeptical on the question, we wish to think to Parlor E. Read Home, will dispel it.

UP EAST GAS COMPANY.—The Erie Gas Company has been organized, we understand, by electing F. McFetrich, President, and Benj. Grant, Esq. Secretary and Treasurer. Arrangements are in progress—a contract for building entered into with the manufacturers, and the balance in negotiation—whereby the works will be completed this fall. Mr. Merle, the builder, is already here, and the work will be commenced as soon as possible.

THE WHIGS WILL VOTE FOR PIERCE WHILE many of the democrats will vote for Webster, if he is nominated.
