EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Figures recently brought to the surface with reference to our export trade to China and Japan show that there has been an increase of more than 100 per cent. in our sales to those two countries during the past year, a very large proportion of it coming from the South.

Populists, individually and in conventions all over the country, are rejecting the fusion proposition which Chairman Butler and the other chairman with whom he is co-operating for selfish purposes proposed in their joint addresses two weeks ago. Butler comes to the front now with a statement that he is not favoring fusion, but "fair and honorable co-operation." Everybody knows, however, that he openly worked against the Populists' tickets in Ohio, Iowa, Kentucky, and elsewhere, and for Democratic success last year, and is working to the same end again.

Foreign manufacturers continue to invest money in manufacturing establishments in the United States, now that they have investigated the Dingley protective tariff law. A new silk mill at South Bethlehem, Pa., another at Patterson, N. J., a dress goods plant at Athenia, N. J., a velveteen mill at Mystic, Conn., and other establishments of this character in which foreign capital will give employment to American workmen, are announced as among the business developments since the enactment of the new tariff law, and others are to follow.

The Minnesota Populists do not take kindly to the fusion proposition which a few office holders in Washington cooked up to insure their own re-election. The gentlemen who visited them the other day to promote fusion were coldly received, and the committee called a meeting of a State convention for June 15, the chairman in issuing the call for the Convention giving no approval of fusion, but announcing that it was the sense of the committee that the integrity of the People's party should be preserved.

The one member of the People's Party National Committee from Indiana who held that the People's party could do greatest service to the people by sinking its individuality in the Democratic party has been deposed and in his place a Populist elected who believes that the People's party has a mission it can only fill by living. Indiana's three representatives on the National Committee of the People's party are all opposed to fusion, and this sentiment is rapidly gaining ground among Populists in all parts of the country.

The New York "Commercial," a financial publication, sustains the assertion made in these columns that the sugar trust gained no permanent advantage through the enactment of the Dingley law, by saying in a recent issue, that: "Refiners who know the profits of the business, and who had been long on stock for years, and sold it, do not dream of buying it back." Considering that this statement is made when sugar trust stock has fallen from 160 to 120, it is apparent that those most familiar with the real facts of the case do not consider that the trust occupies an advantageous position under the new law.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, March 22, 1898.

Silver continues to fall and farm products continue to rise. The latest number of Bradstreet's, that standard publication upon which democrats so much relied for data upon which to base their arguments in the campaign of 1896, shows that silver, which was 69½ cents per ounce on July 1, just previous to the adoption of the Chicago platform, had fallen on March 1, 1898, (twenty-one months later), to 54½ cents, while nearly all farm products had advanced. "Nearly every one of the leading cereals," it says, "and their products, including flour, advanced during February." The same is true in many other articles of farm production. Out of 108 staple articles whose prices are followed by Bradstreet's more than one-half have advanced during the month of February, while only 15 declined. The steady advance in the prices of all articles of farm production in the face of the steady fall in the price of silver is so strongly marked and in such sharp contrast with the assertions made by the Chicago platform and the silver supporters in the campaigns of 1894 and 1896 that a comparison of the present prices of the various articles of farm production with those which prevailed at the adoption of the Chicago platform will be of general interest, and especially timely at this moment in view of the insistence of the Democrats and Populists that the silver issue must again be made the leading feature of the campaigns. The following table compiled from Bradstreet's gives prices of various articles of farm production on July 1, 1896, compared with March 1, 1898, is chosen because of its proximity to the date of the adoption of the Chicago platform. The prices quoted in the tables below are those of the New York market unless otherwise specified:

Mason Hill Lecter.

On deck again, after the log drive. C. W. Williams left for parts unknown on Monday, in search of a span of horses.

R. Russell, bookkeeper on Cochran's log drive, was home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Marsh visited friends on Benetts, last week.

Contractor W. U. Barr, of Mix Run, was the guest of his mother over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Williams, of Huston Hill, called on W. J. Miller and wife, Friday.

The principal occupation of the "wheats" of this place, is setting behind the stove fighting the Spaniards. Mrs. Martha Miller returned home on Saturday, after a prolonged visit with friends at Medix Run.

Miss Vida Housler and Jessie Sterling, two of Sterling Run's estimable young ladies, attended the entertainment and visited friends here over Sunday.

The associate judgeship pot has begun to boil. About one hundred candidates are in the field.—A big fat office—too bad we can't elect all of them.

W. U. Barr, the Mix Run lumberman lost his pocket book somewhere near the school house on Saturday night. The finder will be liberally rewarded by taking it back to the owner.

Claud Williams, Supt. of Mrs. Barr's stock farm, at Medix Run drove down to attend the entertainment Saturday night.

Quite a number of young people from Sterling Run, Huston Hill and Millers Run attended the entertainment on Saturday night.

This region was visited on Friday and Saturday night by a terrific storm. The wind blew, the lightning struck, the thunder crashed, the rain fell in torrents and the end is not yet.

A large number of voters of this place attended the Republican primary at Driftwood on Saturday and judging from the amount of noise they made coming home they had a very fine time.

I feel that in the interest of justice and the purity of our homes to say that a certain young man (or whether we can call him a man or not will leave to the readers) came to the school house on Friday night when the teacher and scholars were practicing for their entertainment and acted in an unmanly way, pounding the school house, kicking the door, prying open the window shutters, looking in the transit, using disgraceful language, flourishing a revolver in the window and making threats he would shoot the first person that made any resistance and making noise that the people in side could hardly tell when it was thundering. The cause of his bad action cannot be accounted for, unless he was possessed with an evil spirit or perhaps partook of the wine when it was red. He was asked twice by the teacher in a kind and gentle way to come in the house, but he wasn't man enough to come in or go away. This young swain was raised by good christian parents and for their benefit and for the benefit of the community, county and state, I will not mention his name. What this fellow deserves is nothing less than a term of years turning the grindstone in the western "pen" and of which he no doubt will get if the jury does justice in the next term of court, and if he fails to get justice he had better go to the south sea island where he can find people of his own moral nature, and let civilized people live in peace.

Miss Amy Summerson of Sterling Run finished a successful six months term of school at this place on Friday last. Miss Summerson is a lady in every respect and gave general satisfaction to the parents and scholars and was respected by all. On Friday night the school gave an entertainment which was a credit to themselves as well as the teacher; notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the house was packed to the uttermost. Through neglect I am unable to get the program and will only give what I can remember:
