WASHINGTON LETTER. (From our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, May 16, 1898. President McKinley's greatest anxiety to-day arises from the fear that the Cape Verde Spanish fleet, now believed to be headed for Cuba, may escape the fleet of Admiral Sampson, which did such good work in destroying the fortifications in the harbor at San Juan, Porto Rico, last week, and the flying squadron of Commodore Schley, which is now being given its first opportunity to show what it can do in the fighting line, and get safely into some Cuban harbor.

only certain way in which the government can at short notice raise all the money that may be needed to fight the war to a victorious end the amended bill provides for an additional issue of greenbacks amounting to $150,000,000, a proposition that the House overwhelmingly voted down before passing the bill, and the coining of the so-called seigniorage of the silver bullion owned by the government, $12,000,000,000 in silver certificates to be issued in advance of the coining. Representative Steele, of Ind., a prominent member of the House Ways and Means Committee, said, after reading the bill reported to the Senate: "The majority of the Senate Finance Committee seem to think that this government can carry on an expensive war on wind."

Chairman Dingley said of the amended bill: "The Bryan Democracy appears to have abandoned free silver and gone back to fiat money, pure and simple. I am now wondering what the Republicans who left their party and enlisted under the Bryan banner in order to secure the free and unlimited coining of silver will say to that proposition. What's the use of going to all the trouble and expense of coining 50 cent silver dollars when you can print paper dollars in unlimited quantities and amounts at slight trouble and expense."

The bond clause is certain to be restored to the bill by a vote of the Senate.

Representative Cousins, of Iowa, who has been known as an anti-annexationist, but who voted in favor of the resolution providing for Hawaiian annexation which was reported from the committee on Foreign Affairs, of which he is a member, said significantly of our possession of the Philippine Islands: "No other power or concert of powers can be allowed to have anything to say as to how long the U. S. shall retain possession of those islands. We are at war with Spain, and the capture of the islands is one of the incidents of that war. No other power has anything to say about it."

Senator Sewell has positively declined to accept the commission of major general in the volunteer army, preferring to remain in the Senate.

There is no possibility that the amended war revenue bill which has been reported to the Senate from its Finance Committee can ever become a law. In fact, there is doubt whether it could pass the Senate in its present condition. In addition to striking out the clause authorizing the issue of bonds—the Senor Polo Bernate, late Spanish Minister to Washington, the Subject of Inquiry in Parliament Who Was Charged With Using Canada as a Basis of Operation Against the United States. The Anglo-Saxon Alliance Also Brought Up and Vehemently Cheered.

OTTAWA, May 19.—The war was incidentally discussed in parliament. In the first place Mr. Charlton protested against the presence of Senor Polo, late Spanish ambassador to Washington, in Canada if it were correct that he and his friends were using Canada as a basis of operation against the United States.

The premier replied that British soil was a refuge for all refugees, and as long as the hospitality extended was not abused nothing could be done. In this case the government had no information against Senor Polo.

As soon as this was disposed of Mr. McClearly from the Niagara district attacked the Canadian alien labor bill and asked that it be amended. In this connection he said that while all parties in Canada would pray that the American people would come out victorious, still there were not a few in Canada who would like to see the United States get a bit of a spanking because of its unfriendly treatment to Canada. Dissent came from all over the house.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier rose with some warmth to reply to this statement. The premier said: "I sincerely hope my honorable friend, who has taken his seat, in his utterances, which at the moment called for the expressions of dissent, speaks his own personal feeling and not the feeling of the party. I would rather hope that upon the present occasion, though we are bound to be neutral and must be neutral in the present difficulties between the United States and Spain, I should like to believe that if there is a feeling at all apart from our duty as neutrals it is a feeling of sympathy for those who are our neighbors and who share the continent with us."

Sir Charles Tupper expressed entire acquiescence in what the premier had said, and concluded his speech with the following words: "While we are bound to respect that complete neutrality that has been proclaimed by the parent state in reference to the war between the United States and Spain, nevertheless I feel that we can not forget the people of Canada as of Great Britain are but one branch of that great English-speaking family and that the interests of peace, the interests of civilization, and the interests of the world would be promoted by the most cordial co-operation between the two great branch nations." There is an awful lot of time wasted in hoping. The Best Remedy for Rheumatism. From the Fairhaven (N. Y.) Register. Mr. James Rowland of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which she had used ever did her as much good.
