THE PHILIPPINES SLIPPING AWAY.

MADRID, June 8.—4 p. m.—The following communication from Captain-General Augusti, dated at Manila, June 3, has been published:

"The situation is very grave. Aguinaldo has succeeded in stirring up the country and the telegraph lines and railways are being cut. I am without communication with the provinces. The province of Cavite has completely rebelled, and the towns and villages are occupied by numerous bands.

"A Spanish column defends the Zepote line to prevent the enemy from invading the province of Manila, but the foe has entered through Bulacan, Laguna and Moron, so that Manila will be attacked by land and sea.

"I am striving to raise the courage of the inhabitants, and will exhaust every means of resistance, but I distrust the natives and the volunteers because there have already been many desertions. Baco and Imus have already been seized by the enemy. The insurrection has reached great proportions, and if I cannot count upon the support of the country, the forces at my disposal will not suffice to hold the ground against two enemies."

General Correa, Minister of War and Captain Aunon, Minister of Marine, have gone to the palace to confer with the Queen Regent's to General Augusti's communication. It is reported that the Spaniards at Manila have already been compelled to take refuge in the fortification part of the town.

A dispatch from the commander of the Islands of Visayas says that official sent two gunboats to the island of Luzon with instructions to try to communicate with Manila, but, he adds they were compelled to return unsuccessful. The government, it is added, replied, instructing the commander of the Island of Visayas to restore communication with Manila at all costs.

A member of the government, whose name cannot be used, admitted that the dispatch of Spanish troops to the Philippine Islands could not change the situation.

Her screams brought the neighboring families to the spot, but as no one had a gun it crossed the road and disappeared in the bushes before any one could get a gun and being near night it could not be tracked and escaped.

MUCH TALK.

The Bear Lake Record says that an intelligent young lady, after entertaining a young man until the chickens were crowing their last nightly crow, handed him a pencil and paper and asked him to make nine ciphers in line, thus: 000000000, then to commence at the first on the left and from the right side of the cipher draw a straight line; on the right side of the fourth make a short line up; on the right side of the fifth make a line down, on the right side of the seventh make a short line up, and from the right of the eighth one mark down, and then read what he had written.

REMARKABLE TOWNS.

One In England That Is Made of Railway Carriages.

Scattered throughout the area of Great Britain are numerous towns and villages of a curious character. One large village actually consists of old railway carriages, even the little mission chapel being built out of four large horse trucks. Another village, with a population of 1,100 and a rateable value of £8,000, has neither church, chapel nor school, the only public edifice being a pillar letter box.

Villages with a single inhabitant are not unknown. At Skiddaw, in Cumberland, there is a solitary householder, who cannot vote because there is no overseer to prepare a voters' list and no church or other public building on which to publish one, while the only ratepayer in a certain rural Northumberland parish has recently declined to bear the expense of repairing a road because he considers it quite good enough for himself.

In the Isle of Ely there is a little parish which has been somewhat contemptuously described as "a portion of land, with three or four houses and perhaps 12 inhabitants." This place has no roads at all and is consequently put to no expense in keeping them in repair. As a matter of fact, there are no expenses of any kind and no rates.

One of the most remarkable villages in this country is Kempton, near Bedford, which is seven miles long and extremely straggling. To walk from one end of the village to the other occupies two hours.

Sometimes whole villages will practically disappear. A little Shropshire village has gradually sunk, until now it is almost out of sight. It is built on a disused coal pit, and the sinking goes on steadily every year. Now and then a tottering house is propped up to keep it standing, but in spite of all precautions buildings are constantly falling to the ground, and in course of time doubtless nothing will be left but a few bricks to mark the spot where a village once stood.

There are plenty of deserted villages throughout the country. A diversion of trade into other channels is sometimes sufficient to produce this effect. Not many years ago the proprietors of an iron works at a townlet near Sheffield, being unable to obtain certain concessions from a railway company, removed their works. Shortly afterward half the place was to let, and the windows of many of the houses were boarded up.—London Tit-Bits.

The man who most deserves a monument does not need it.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me; and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June, 1894, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured."
