EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The dynamite shells of the Vesuvius are sent on their mission by compressed air instead of powder.

Germany can send as many ships as she chooses to Manila, but she mustn't try any "funny business" with them.

-[Pittsburg Times.

The death of Judge Wickham leaves a vacancy in the Superior Court of this State. Many names are mentioned for the appointment by the Governor. The appointment should be accorded the western portion of the State, and we know of no candidate mentioned who would give better satisfaction than Hon. O. C. Allen, of Warren. He is popular with the masses and an able lawyer. He would add strength to the ticket.

The State Chairman, J. P. Elkin, predicts a Republican victory this year. The campaign will not open before the first of next September. "It is not material," said Mr. Elkin, "who the Democrats nominate for Governor, Republican success this year is not contingent upon the mistakes of others. This is a Republican year and we are going to win, not because of any weakness upon the part of the opposition, but because of the strength of our own ticket, which will be elected by a handsome majority. The legislative contests are all in good condition and there is no apprehension felt on that score."

The Truth About "Bossism."

Is it not somewhat inconsistent for the friends of Hon. John Wanamaker to continue the cry of "bossism," when bossism is the fundamental principle of the movement which they represent? Mr. Wanamaker, for years has been seeking office at the hands of the Republicans of this State. Failing in this he has sought the position of a political manager or boss who could make or unmake nominations at will and dictate the policy of the party organization. In order to become a boss, John Wanamaker has called to his support a host of practical politicians made notorious by their connection with the socalled "combine." David Martin, famous throughout the country as a political boss, is and has been Wanamaker's chief-of-staff. Bossism is denounced by Wanamaker and his followers as an unpardonable offense and at the same time, to the full limit of their power, Mr. Wanamaker, at the eleventh hour, turned over his delegates to Hon. C. W. Stone, of this congressional district, because he (Wanamaker) was unable to make, as one of the delegates expressed it, "a ghost of a show," and he now expects the friends of our popular Congressman to array themselves under his leadership as inciters of factional discontent and confusion in the party ranks. Hon. C. W. Stone would have received no assistance from John Wanamaker at the convention in Harrisburg if the Philadelphia millionaire had had a chance to win, or to make even a respectable demonstration of personal popularity. It is the dream of Wanamaker's life to become a powerful figure in the politics of Pennsylvania, and if he could have accomplished his ends at Harrisburg there would have been no deal with C. W. Stone. The latter candidate, however, proved a most formidable competitor to his namesake from Allegheny, and the result of the balloting in his behalf placed him in a position to win, later on. He is to-day one of the strongest men in the Republican party of Pennsylvania. And like sensible man he is, our representative in Congress is not nursing imaginary grievances against the successful nominee.

Hon. C. W. Stone is a Republican. He is loyal to the party and he re-cognizes the will of the majority in reaching party decisions. He will vote for Hon. W. A. Stone for Governor, and use his influence to roll up the usual overwhelming Republican majority in the State.

In view of these facts, it is strange that certain friends of C. W. Stone should continue to exhibit resentment toward the party's candidate for Governor and proceed upon the foolish assumption that "bossism" has usurped the place of the popular will in party councils. Had C. W. Stone been nominated for Governor, many of the friends of the defeated candidates would have raised the same how't regarding the success of the man from Warren. It is a favorite cry in political campaigns and is usually a misleading one. The Republicans of Pennsylvania are free and intelligent citizens. They vote for the men whom they desire to elect. At the primaries they choose delegates to give expression to their choice in convention deliberations. To say that the Republicans of the State are under the control of this or that man, is the veriest nonsense. Republicans know what they want and generally insist upon having it. The present candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania occupies that position merely by virtue of the fact that he had a majority of the delegates on his side. For months he has been pressing his canvass in the various counties of the State; he is a popular, able man; sound in Republican principles; a champion of better immigration laws, and an ex-soldier. He was closely in touch with the people and was ably supported by some of the leading Republican papers of the State. And he succeeded. He did not have so large a majority as his friends desired, but it was large enough to win, and he occupies first place on

The plain duty of the Republicans of Pennsylvania is to remain true to the party and to themselves and to dismiss the idle clamor of the malcontents as a thing that deserves no serious consideration. The platform adopted at Harrisburg is one that strikes the keynote of the party's future position in National affairs; it is strongly American from first to last clause, and upon it Hon. W. A. Stone and the other candidates of the State ticket will be triumphantly elected in November. They will not be elected by "bossism," but by the people, and they will serve the people honorably and as statesmen.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, June 27, 1898.

President McKinley, his Cabinet, and Congress as a whole are much pleased, as they have every reason to be, with the news from Cuba. General Shafter's campaign has been a success from the moment his army was landed. Every fight with the Spanish has resulted in a victory for his men, and each day has seen his army nearer Santiago. He is free to use his own judgment as to whether he will at once storm the heavy fortifications at Santiago, defended by an army more numerous than his own, the men of which being acclimated do not suffer from the heat as our men do, or whether he will await the arrival of the reinforcements now on the way to him, and of those to be sent this week from Tampa. If he decides to go right ahead, news of a big battle may be expected at any mo-ment. The killing and wounding of Americans in the bush fighting that has taken place between Shafter's men and the Spanish, while, of course, deeply regretted, was no more than what was expected to accompany fighting on land. The storming of Santiago, whether at once or later, is certain to result in the capture of the town, but it is expected to be bloody work.

There is no truth in the report sent from Washington that General Miles was going to Cuba to take charge of the campaign against Santiago. Gen. Miles expects to go to Santiago in a few days, but he calculates to find it in the possession of Gen. Shafter when he gets there. His object in going is, not to supersede Gen. Shafter, but to make Santiago the base from which the operations against Porto Rico, which are to follow its capture, may be conducted, provided that our boys stand the climate fairly well. Santiago is several days nearer Porto Rico than the nearest port on the Florida coast. Like the President, Gen. Miles is perfectly satisfied with Shafter's work as far as it has gone.

If the report from Madrid saying that a new ministry was at once to be chosen for the purpose of sueing for peace was started with the hope or expectation that it would cause the slightest cessation in the vigorous prosecution of the war by this government, its originators must have been entirely ignorant of sen-timent on this side of the Atlantic, and may as well prepare for a disappointment. Spain can get peace by asking for the terms of the U. S. and accepting those terms without the slightest change, and in no other way. Having taken the trouble and gone to the expense to get ready to crush Spain, this government will not order the slightest delay in the crushing in response to Spanish trickery. Senator Hoar, chairman of the Senate committee on the Judiciary, says of the compromise Bankruptcy bill, which is now awaiting President McKinley's signature to become a law: "In getting it through we have been obliged to leave in it some crudities and imperfections, which must be remedied by subsequent legislation. The bill will enable from 150,000 to 200,000 bankrupts to get on their feet again. It will enable manufacturers and merchants to get a fair division of their debtors' property, and will prevent a great deal of fraud, embezzlement, and wasteful dealing with property.'

The Currency Reform bill, recently reported from the House Banking and Currency committee, will not be pushed at the present session of Congress. In deference to some of the members of the committee the bill has been recalled from the calendar, which leaves it occupying the same posi-tion it did before it was reported to the House. This is just as well, as it is well known that the Senate would not have acted upon the bill under any circumstances at this session. While the country is engaged in carrying on a war is hardly the proper time for Congress to handle a subject as important as the one this bill deals with. No time will be lost by deferring action by the House.

The attention of the would-be military critics, who seem to think it as easy to move an army as it is to trace lines over a map with a pencil, is called to the fact that Gen. Shafter's army was moved so rapidly after landing in Cuba, although the movements were made in the face of a fighting enemy, that the supply trains found it difficult to keep up with the men.

No one will be much surprised should the opposition to the Senate voting on the resolution for the annexation of Hawaii utterly collapse during the present week, as many believe it will. The stand of President McKinley and more than President McKinley and more than two-thirds of the House against any tadjournment of Congress until the Senate has voted has shown the opposition, with a few exceptions, that filibustering will not help them, and that as long as a vote has got to be taken before adjournment it would just as well be taken now as later. Adjournment is likely to speedily follow the adoption of the annexation resolution by the Senate, as all of the important business of the session has about been disposed of, and President McKinley is conducting the war so successfully that Congress is perfectly willing to leave its finish in his hands.

State Ticket Notes.

The Republicans understand that McKinley must not only be indorsed but that Republicans must be sent to the United States Senate and House of the United States Senate and House of Representatives in order to fully sup-port him. Pennsylvania was the ban-ner State in 1896, and she will take no backward step in 1898.

—[Clarion Gazette.

Disappointments were to be expected, but even those who opposed the selec-tion of Colonel Stone as the candidate of Senator Quay are expressing com-pliance with the will of the people as represented at the convention, and it will be a solid party which casts its vote in November for our ticket.

—[Lewisburg Chronicle.

With Colonel Stone in the Gubernative of the colonel stone in the colonel stone in the colonel stone in the colo

With Colonel Stone in the Gubernatorial chair there will be no factional favoritism, but a rendering of the affairs of the State for the greatest good to the greatest number. The people nominated him; they will elect him and he will not play them false.

—[Chambersburg Public Opinion. A fortnight ago there was some pretty tall talk about the dire disaster to the Republican party which would follow the nomination of Colonel Stone and it was confidently predicted by a certain class of politicians that there would be an independent movement, or bolt, of so prodigious proportions as would make sure the defeat of the Republican ticket; but already the atmosphere is clearing and already is it plain that no bolters' ticket can this year command sufficient support to endanger the defeat of the regular nominees —[Montrose Republican.

Colonel Stone will make a good Governor. He has back of him a record for which he need offer no apology and which is a guaranty that he will administer faithfully the trust the people will commit to his hands.

Talk that Colonel W. A. Stone and the whole Republican ticket will not be elected in this State has ceased. There never was any excuse for it, and now that the disappointed have had time to cool and think it over there is little heard of it.—[Crawford Journal.

Unless the present drift of Democratic affairs should change, Cnairman Garmon and his cheap money associates will control the Altoona convention, and the gubernatorial candidate will be one of their choice. Such a prospect must be gratifying to the Republicans, for the nomination could will be one of their choice. Such a prospect must be gratifying to the Republicans, for the nomination could not command anything near the normal Democratic vote of the State, and Republican success would be made comparatively correct Standard punction success would be made com-paratively easy.—[Somerset Standard. Pennsylvania is too deeply interested in the maintenance of a sound and stable currency and in the protection of her industries to falter in her support of Republican principles, even though the candidate presented for Governor was not the choice of ali. The party must do its full share to maintain Pennsylvania's reputation in both branches of Congress. It must stand by the administration of William McKinley.—[Ebensburg Herald.
