Burglar and Orang-Outang.

Some two years ago a retired officer of the merchant service, living in the Rue d'Alesia, Paris, M. Duchesne, brought home an orang-outang from Borneo. Since growing to its full size the brute is a terror to the neighbors. Its master won't hear of its being chained up, contenting himself with shutting the animal in his bedroom before going out. This was done on day, but unfortunately for him Nicolas Bargeve, alias "the Devourer," had determined to make a professional call on M. Duchesne's apartment with in-tent to burgle. Now, as this illus-trious character had only completed three days at large after completing his ninth term of imprisonment, he was naturally unaware that such a pet as the orang-outang was tolerated in these particular rooms. Consequently, when the burglar was suddenly pounced upon by two hairy paws, he was somewhat surprised, and his screams soon brought help, with the result that N. Bargeve was drawn out of the room by his feet, in a very irresponding to the room by of the room by his feet, in a very ig-nominous fashion. He was taken to the infirmary, and it is reported that he has gone mad and now imagines himself to have been changed into an ape.—Paris Cor. London Post.

HEROES OF WAR.

From the Chicago Times-Herald. From the Chicago Lines-Herau.

The feeling of admiration for heroes of war seems to be innate in the human heart, and is brought to the surface as the opportunity and object presents itself.

Among those who proved their heroism during our Civil War was A. Schiffeneder, for volunters came early in 1862.

In the Army of the Potomach es saw much fighting, campaigning in the Saw much fighting, campaigning in the Shenandoah Valley. In the first day's fighting at the battle of Gettysburg, Schiffeneder received a wound in the right side, which afterward caused him much trouble. With a portion of his regiment he was captured and imprisoned at Bell Island and Andersonville, and afterward exchanged. He returned to his regiment, which was transferred to the army of General Sherman, and marched with him through Georgia to the sea.

In this campaign Mr. Schiffeneder's old wound began to touble him and he was sent to the hospital and then home. He had also contracted catarrh of the stomach and found no relief for years.

"I happened to read an account of Dr. Williams? Pink Pills for Pale People about a year ago," he said, "and thought that they might be good for my trouble. I concluded to try them. I bought one box and began to take them according to directions. They gave me great relief. After finishing that box I bought another, and when I had taken the pills I felt that I was cured. I recovered my appetite and at heartily. I can testify to the good the pills did me. Mr. Schiffeneder is a prominent Grand Army man in Chicago, whither he moved some years ago with his family.

WHAT WOMEN SAY Of Dr. Hartman's Free Advice and Remedies.

Hartman is constantly receiving s from grateful women who have ted the benefit of his free advice, and are entirely well once more, after years of suffering. The following are brief extracts from two such letters: Mrs. F. K. F. Gille, Box 19, Navasota, Tex., writes: "I think it is time to let you know what your treatment has done for me. I am rid of that terrible trouble I had when I wrote to you. When I would stoop over I could not straighten up without the most severe pain. I am well of that and much better in other ways." Mrs. Phoebe C. Carr, Orifino, Idaho, writes: "I am glad to tell you that I am entirely well. I am stouter than I have been for years and weigh more than I ever did in my life. MAKE YOUR OWN FILTER.

There Is No Excuse for Drinking Water Which Is Full of Germs and Impurities.

Everybody knows, or ought to know, that at this time of the year it height of folly to drink water that has not been previously purified in some way, either by boiling or by filtration. Boiling is an effective way of freeing the water from impurities, and should certainly be done where no better method exists, but a useful filter can be made so easily at home, at an almost nominal cost, that there is scarcely any excuse for a household not pos sessing one.

The homemade filter consists simply of an ordinary decanter, a lamp glass, such as can be purchased any-where for a few cents, by way of a funnel, and a piece of sponge or cotton wool. Some people prefer cotton wool because it can be thrown away after a time and renewed at a nominal cost a sponge is chosen it ought to be taken out often, cleaned in hot salt water and afterward rinsed in cold.

The sponge or cotton wool is placed for the distance of an inch in the lamp shade. This is then covered by a layer of fine white sand, which has been washed very clean, and placed in a fine lawn bag. This must be packed through the top of the glass, and spread out to fit across by the aid of a long pencil or a skewer.

On top of the sand must be placed a layer of animal charcoal which has and cut it out so that it has two long been previously thoroughly washed by putting it in an earthen vessel and pouring boiling water upon it. This layer should be at least an inch deep and should be well pressed down upon the layer of sand. The filter is now ready for use.

Water is poured into the lamp shade and allowed to percolate slowly through to the decanter beneath. After a time the charcoal will get clogged and a little must be taken from the top and boiled for a few minutes and then spread out before the fire. It will then be as good as ever and can be thus cleansed indefinitely. From time to time, also, the whole apparatus will want cleansing, and the whole of the charcoal, as well as the bag of sand and the cotton wool, or sponge, will have to be taken out and thoroughly boiled, or, better still, replaced with new material.

Provided the filter be thus kept thoroughly clean it will yield as good results as any of the patent filters on the market costing many times the value of this simple apparatus.-N. Y.

FOR BEAUTY'S SAKE.

plexion Usually Is a Perfeet Digestion.

Remember that no woman can be lovely with a poor complexion, nor wil cosmetics, however fine and expensive, delude the observer in the searching light of day, cautions the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. The secret of a clear, beautiful complexion is periect digestion, and in summer, especially, a light diet is sufficient for the indolent lives led by most of us during the heated term. Fruit, fresh and ripe, boiled milk, clear soup, whole wheat and rye bread are the best friends for ruddy ing comes next. Tight corset, shoes belts and bands produce coarse, red skin and give a harsh, strained look to the lips and eyes. Friction batk, cool plunges and rigorous massage, laugh ter and exhiberating sport make the blood bound freely, round the muscles and reduce loose, flabby flesh to normal proportions. Do not eat if you are very tired and warm. Take time to bathe the face and neck freely, loosen our clothes and rest half an hour after a shopping tour or vigorous exercise, and you will feel like spending the evening sociably. If your skin feels parched and dusty on coming in bathe the face gently in tepid water, then apply a soothing lotion, which any druggist will prepare for you, of glycerin, benzein, alcohol and rose water, and let it dry in the skin without wiping

YOUNG GIRL'S HEALTH.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer Gives Some Directions Regarding Her Dress, Diversions and Diet.

"A young girl should be taught to carry her body erect, holding her abdomen in, and putting the bail of her foot first on the ground," writes Mrs. S. T. Rorer on "The Best Diet for Bloodless Girls," in the Ladics' Home Journal. "This is of the utmost importance to keep the organs in good posi-tion. The clothing should be loose, light, warm and suspended from the shoulders. Skirts should be made of light material-either wool or silk. stockings fastened to the waist by means of supporters; the one skirt worm buttoned to the bottom of the waist, with an outside dress supported from the shoulders, should form the necessary clothing. The shoes should be made to fit the feet, with broad soles and low, broad heels. Gloves should be sufficiently loose not to stop the circula tion at the wrists. A short walk each day may be taken, but fatigue should never be produced; far better to spend most of the day out-of-doors in the hammoel or a steamer-chair.

"Early to bed should be the first motto. In the morning, after a sponge bath with a thorough rub, she should draw half a glass of comfortably hot water. When appetite is felt a soft-boiled egg, a piace of whole wheat bread thoroughly baked and well buttered and a sittle while after a glass. tered, and a little while after a glass of cool water, not iced, may be taken. The noonday meal should consist of a good, clear beef soup, a broiled steak or roasted beef, a little boiled rice, a lettuce salad with olive oil dressing and some simple dessert, such as whipped or Bavarian cream. After dinner, rest should be taken in the open air, either in the hammock or steamer-chair, and without reading or heavy mental occupation. For supper, beef or mutton broiled, and good whole wheat bread well buttered. At the close of this meal she should take slowly about two teaspoonfuls of olive oil and masticate it before swallow ing."

Delicious Sponge Cake.

For sponge cake, weigh six eggs take their weight in sugar, and hal their weight in flour; separate the egg carefully; add the sugar to the yolk and beat until light; then stir in care fully the well beaten whites; sift the flour two or three times, adding it a little at a time, folding and cutting i in. Turn into a pan lined with grease paper, and bake in a quick oven for from 20 to 25 minutes.—Mrs. S. T Rorer, in Ladies' Home Journal.

Decorating with a Shawl.

A pleasing effect was achieved in the decoration of a music-room recently on the occasion of a wedding, by the use of an India shawl. It was a larg and fine one, with a pink center. This was spread over the grand piano, and on the pink center stood a pink jar-diniere filled with apple blossoms. At the side of the piano, in a tall Chinese jar of pale pink and green, were massed more blooms of dogwood and apple

Has Not Slept for Five Years.

It is reported that a man in Indiana has not had an hour's sleep for five years. He constantly walks about, unable to rest, and is now little more than a skeleton. There are thousands of men and women who are unable to sleep more than an hour or two a night because of nervousness, weakness, dyspepsia, headache and constipation. A certain remedy for these disorders is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. All druggists sell it. No Wonder the Query.

When the news came to the Chickamauga hospital of the destruction of Cervera's fleet one of the nurses commenced to read it aloud. He had got as far as the statement that the Brooklyn had been hit 45 times, when a fever patient, a little out of his head, shouted: "Great Scott! Who pitched for Brooklyn?" "San Francisco Wave.

The War Is Over

The War Is over

And now our thoughts are all of peace and home. There are, too often, people to be found who have no home, and it is to them these few words are addressed. If you really want a home you can easily get one, but you should act at once before the relapse from the war puts prices on the advance. In Marinette County, Wisconsin, the very finest farming land is to be had now at a most modest figure. Excellent home markets are at hand to take whatever the farmer raises, and good prices are given. These lands are on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and full information concerning them will cheerfully be furnished by C. E. Rollins, Immigration Agent, 161 La Salle Street, Chicago.
