Saturday afternoon and evening, Oct. 15, I will display one of the finest lines of Ladies' and Misses' sailor hats and children's hats ever brought to Emporium. Prices very low.

MRS. BARDWELL.

Meeting of the State Board of Agriculture.

The autumn meeting of the State Board of Agriculture convened in the Court House, Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Thos. J. Edge, Secretary of the State Board presided and B. W. Green, Esq., made a neat address of welcome, which was replied to by Prof. S. B. Heiges, of York, Pa.

The remainder of the afternoon was occupied by discussions on interesting topics by Josiah Howard, Hon. J. C. Johnson, J. A. Gundy and others.

In our next week's issue we hope to be able to give a full report of the proceedings of this convention.

The Philadelphia Inquirer sums up the situation in this district very accurately when it says: Joe Sibley is a dangerous man. He believes thoroughly in free trade and free silver and is not the sort of a representative that any district in Pennsylvania ought to send to Washington. It is to Mr. Sibley's credit that he has never tried to deceive the people on the question of where he stood with respect to these issues. He has said substantially that he believes in a depreciated dollar, in giving employment to foreign workmen rather than to American laborers, and if the people of his district believe in his theories they ought to vote for him. But, unfortunately for the hides-hanging-tails down statesman, the people of the Twenty-seventh district do not believe in Mr. Sibley's theories. They want a dollar worth one hundred cents. They prefer, much as they like other Nations of the earth, that the smoke should curl above American factories to having the fires here banked while European workmen worked overtime supplying American markets with goods.

Addressed Warren County Voters.

Among the many prominent Republican speakers at the Warren Fair on Wednesday Sept. 28th, was B. W. Green, of Emporium, who made the opening address and said, in part:

Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow Citizens: I feel that I am acquainted with the people of Warren county. I reside in the most easterly county of this Congressional District. In years gone by I have had the pleasure of supporting some of Warren county's successful and distinguished citizens. Well do I remember the campaign in which the greatest commoner of this great commonwealth was elected to the honored representative of this district and again when your fellow-citizen L. F. Watson, represented you, and I am happy to say that now and for the past eight years you have been well represented by your distinguished fellow-citizen in the House of Representatives at Washington and it has been our privilege to cast our vote for C. W. Stone. We sent our representatives to the state convention at Harrisburg last spring to support C. W. Stone for Governor, not because we did not think W. A. Stone was the right man for Governor, but that we delighted to honor our distinguished congressman. On the 8th day of November next a ticket is presented for your careful consideration and every man is to cast his ballot. Let me say here that it is not only a privilege but a duty for every man to go to the polls and vote his convictions. You have a number of officers to elect this fall, governor, secretary or internal affairs, lieutenant governor, two congressmen-at-large, besides the congressman-at-large vote for in the 27th congressional district. We say to you, that whether upon state or national issues, the Democratic party has been invariably in the wrong.

The "Bolter."

Editor of the Press:—

In war time the only communication allowable with the enemy is through powder and lead, or perhaps, an occasional formal demand for surrender; and any person caught giving aid and comfort to the enemy is promptly shot. A man, even a leader, vide Benedict Arnold, may desert and go over to the enemy, body and breeches. A soldier may become discouraged and homesick and be carried to a hospital, but surely neither the sick man nor the traitor can have any voice in the conduct of the battle. The same or similar conditions confront us in political battles. We have our sick men occasionally and we should kindly nurse them back to health, but what shall we say of the traitors; men like John Wanamaker, who try to ruin the party which has given them all the prestige they ever had?

And why is this Philadelphia dealer in general merchandise trying to ruin the party that made him what he is politically?

Is it because the party is not good enough for him? Is it because he is too pure and honest to longer associate with Republicans? No! We might, perhaps, believe some of the lies of Honest John and his tool Swallow, if we did not know that this precious pair are working for nothing else under God's Heavens but to sneak into office in some way. Little matters it to them how many lies they tell, what cess-pools they wallow in, how many sewers they crowd through, so that they slide into office in the end. Wanamaker goes through the State howling that he is a good Republican. Swallow is a Prohibitionist if he is anything. Now even a fool knows that even a Prohibitionist can have nothing in common with the Democratic party. Yet these two men stand hand in hand, traitors and hypocrites both, working might and main to defeat the regular Republican ticket in Pennsylvania this year.

That they are trying to defeat the Hon. C. W. Stone in this district, is plain from the sneaking lies told early in this campaign.

The Hon. C. W. Stone is one of the ablest representatives in Washington; and is so considered by the best men of both parties, not alone in this State, but throughout the whole Union. No district in the State ever had a man who represented his constituents with more honesty, ability, and fairness to all, than Congressman Charles W. Stone, of Warren. And who are we offered in his place?

Joe Sibley, a man who wins his way by the corrupt use of money; by the open, brazen debauchery of the citizen and the ballot box. A man who is a rank free trader and a free silverite.

Emerson said: "Hitch your wagon to a star." This advice was probably intended for a poet, for no political party has yet advanced far enough to tie to anything quite so high, but surely there is no reason why we should fasten to a corpse, and Free Silver is dead—dead as a last year's mackerel.

Every patriotic citizen is in favor of supporting the administration of Wm. McKinley and endorsing his sound, aggressive, popular foreign policy, but if for mere spite, for mere personal and petty reasons we lose a Congressman here and there, and here and there an Assemblyman, we are likely to present to foreign countries in 1899 the disgracefully humiliating spectacle of a great and powerful nation binding hand and foot the executive, who has just brought that country successfully through a glorious and honorable war, and holding him helpless aloft, a pitiful example of the short-sightedness of the Republican bolter, who has accomplished more than he really intended.

Seed Wheat.

Mr. L. G. Cook has several varieties of seed wheat for sale, samples of which may be seen at Walker's hardware store. 25tf

Situation Wanted.

A steady, industrious, reliable man desires employment at some light work, or a position of trust and honor. Can furnish good references. Address, "Junior," Cameron County Press office, Emporium, Pa.

Last of Clearfield's Pine.

A tract containing eight hundred acres, principally of virgin pine and hemlock forest, located on the Little Mahoning, in Clearfield county, was sold to Philadelphia parties a few days ago. It is the best tract of timber remaining in Clearfield county and the pine covering it is of an exceptionally fine quality.

All Work Guaranteed.

Mr. J. H. Logue, of Sinnemahoning, desires to inform the people of Cameron county that he is prepared to do all kinds of masonry and stone work, also clem wells and repair pumps. Wells drilled or dug, all work guaranteed or money refunded. Address, J. H. LOGUE, Sinnemahoning, Pa.

Appointed District President.

Mr. Geo. H. Altwater, a prominent member of Washington Camp, No 88, P. O. S. of A., of this place, has received the appointment of District President of the Clinton-Cameron district. Mr. Altwater has been an active member of the organization for the past ten years and will no doubt make an efficient officer.—Renovo News.

Robinson--Stahly.

Two of Emporium's young people, Mr. John Robinson and Miss Elizabeth Stahly surprised their friends, a few days ago, by announcing their marriage, the same having taken place at St. Paul's M. E. Parsonage, Niagara Falls, August 30th, 1898, Rev. Robt. C. Brownlee, officiating. These popular young people will commence house-keeping on West Fifth street. Mr. Robinson is a hard-working, industrious young man and a son of our esteemed citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Robinson. Miss Stahly, the bride, has resided in Emporium for several years and her pleasant manners and many good traits of character have made her hosts of friends. The friends of the young couple extend their best wishes for a long and happy life—the PRESS joining in the good wishes.

Elect All Republican Representatives.

Every day now is developing new steps in the campaign. It is apparent that the Republicans do not propose to lose any ground in this part of the State through apathy. The opposition has nothing substantial to urge against Republicanism, and the people know it, while the Democrats have nothing themselves to commend them to a return to power.

The hardest times the people of this country ever had was when the last Democratic president elected was backed up by a free trade congress. The country does not want any more of it. They want Republicans in the different branches of the legislative department now to work with the Republican president. We want Republicans in every legislative district in the land, congressional and state, and national progress will prevail. There is strength at stake to cause the people to awaken and see to it that no ground is lost.—DuBois Courier.

Teachers' Institute.

Our County Superintendent, Miss Mattie Collins, always an untiring worker in the office she so ably fills, is putting forth every effort to make the Institute of '98 the best the county has ever had.

She has secured the services of an excellent corps of instructors, who will occupy the greater part of the programme of each day's session, and the evening entertainments promise to be rare treats to those fortunate enough to attend.

On Monday evening Dr. Lincoln Hulley, of Bucknell University, will lecture on "Riley the Poet." Tuesday evening, the celebrated lecturer, John B. DeMotte, will deliver his famous masterpiece, "The Harp of the Senses; or, the Secret of Character Building." Wednesday evening, Slayton's Jubilee Singers, the leading colored company of America, will give one of their entertaining concerts, which have justly given them the name of being the greatest company of colored artists that has ever appeared before the American public. Thursday evening, that master of wit, humor and pathos, Georgia's brilliant and gifted son, Rev. A. W. Lamar, will give a vivid portrayal of "Dixie Before and During the War." All of the above artists are too well known to need any comment from us and we hope they will have the pleasure of appearing before a crowded house.

Independent Republican's Opinion.

Editor Press:—

There is probably not a Republican in Cameron county who does not most heartily endorse the course of William McKinley's administration. The far-reaching statesmanship displayed by Wm. McKinley, the power to reason clearly and calmly, and to act with judicial fairness and firmness, for the best present and future interest of a great nation, called suddenly to decide questions of momentous import, has surprised the friends of the President and well nigh confounded his detractors. And yet, there may be some voters who, at first thought, do not realize that a vote for a Democratic Assemblyman in this county is a vote to tie the President of the United States hand and foot in the next Congress. There is too much at stake this year to take any chances. A vote against the Hon. Henry H. Mullin in Cameron county this fall is a vote to send a Democratic Senator to Washington next year; a vote to send a man to Washington to oppose the President in his great and glorious policy of expansion and freedom to all people who come within our sphere of influence; a vote for a Democratic U. S. Senator, a vote in favor of exhibiting ourselves abroad as a booby people who are afraid to accept the fruits of their victory, or too egregiously idiotic to understand that there is any fruit. By all the fires of patriotism; by all the blood shed by our heroes at El Caney and Manila this is of all years the wrong year to vote anything but the straight Republican ticket.

And where in Cameron county can we find a better man to send to Harrisburg than Henry H. Mullin; where a man who keeps in closer touch with his constituents and with the great heart of the laboring people?

We can find no better, no fitter man in Cameron county, because—there is no better man.

INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN.

An Elegant Turnout.

Wm. McGee the popular and wide-awake proprietor of the City Hotel has recently purchased a handsome new bus for the use of his patrons to and from the W. N. Y. & P. junction. The wood-work of the bus is decorated and finished off in a highly artistic manner and when it is drawn by the spanking team of "Greys", to the music of a set of sweet chimes, it presents a very stylish and attractive appearance.

Supper.

Under the auspices of the ladies of St. Marks Church, a supper will be served at the Opera House, Wednesday, Oct. 19, 1898. Supper will be served from 5:30 p. m., until all are accommodated. Supper, 25 cents. All are cordially invited and an excellent supper will be in store for them. Come young and old and enjoy yourselves. COMMITTEE.

Buckwheat.

Fred Norton is under the doctor's care.

Mr. Sipple is in line with swelled jaws.

What is the matter with the parties, boys?

Johnny Hobson is suffering with the mumps.

Dr. A. W. Baker is seen every day on our streets.

Lnie Norton has accepted a position with R. P. Bingeman.

Chester Sykes is swelled up like a man, with the mumps.

Mrs. J. Hobson was a visitor to the county seat, on Friday.

H. F. Kresge has secured a position as meat cutter, in DuBois.

Our postoffice has been changed to P. M. Heath's new residence.

P. M. Heath will soon have a force of men building rabbit pens.

Tourner and Welch don't come up quite so often. I wonder why.

C. M. Kresge is using his leg and will soon throw away the sticks.

There was an ice cream festival in the school house Saturday evening.

"Pete," the pumper for the P. & E. R. R., is like the cat—he came back.

We understand that a new telegraph company has been formed in our town.

W. H. Weaver was up the creek, looking over the cider and chestnut crops.

Buckwheat can boast of having one of the finest postoffices in the State, for the size of the town.

Pat Curmes, who has been laid up for two years with a smashed knee and has only worked four weeks, fell down stairs and broke his leg in two places. A report comes from the hospital at Kane that he will lose it.

BILLY SAWDUST.

A new lot of men's and ladies' collars at Soble's.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Republican candidates on our county ticket are calling on the voters and are being well received. The cordiality with which the voters are receiving the candidates clearly demonstrates that this is a Republican year.

Chas. M. Thomas, the Republican candidate for County Treasurer, is making an honorable canvass. Mr. Thomas has resided in Cameron county for upwards of twenty-five years and is a successful lumberman. That he will be elected goes without saying.

John McDonald, the Republican candidate for Associate Judge, will call on the voters this week. Mr. McDonald is a very efficient gentleman in any position he may be called upon to fill. Vote for him.

Death of Mrs. Lusk.

The many Emporium friends of Mrs. Sara Ann Lusk, of Penn Yan, N. Y., will regret to learn of her death, which occurred on September 26th. The deceased was a sister of D. H. Lamb, formerly of this place, who, with a son Loren, and mother, Mrs. Eliza G. Lamb, survive her.

Committed to Fort Mundy.

On the night of Oct. 4th, burglars broke into the office of L. R. Gleason and Sons at Driftwood, and after ransacking the office and safe were obliged to leave without having secured anything of value.

Special officer Reid of the P. R. R. Co.'s force was detailed on the case and on Friday the 7th, arrested his men at Lock Haven and brought them to Emporium.

They were brought before Justice Lawrence, the following day, who after hearing the evidence bound them over to court in the sum of $500 each, in default of which they were committed to the tender keeping of Sheriff Mundy. The men gave their names as Robt. J. Hoyt and James Price, and when arrested were found to have in their possession a complete set of burglar's tools besides a good supply of powder and fuse.

Some Good Advice.

Monday's Cleveland Leader contains the following editorial:

"Joseph C. Sibley has agreed to stand as the Democratic candidate for congressman in the twenty-seventh Pennsylvania district, and, we are sorry to say, it is reported that he was induced to become a candidate by promises of support from Republicans in his district."

"Joseph C. Sibley ought not to get a single Republican vote, for his election would serve no good purpose, and it would be hailed everywhere as a victory for the most pernicious principle the Democratic party has ever advocated. Sibley is, moreover, scarcely a Democrat. He was elected to congress four years ago as a Populist, and became a Bryan Democrat in 1896. He is a radical free silverite and is opposed to everything which the Republican party has ever advocated or any decent Republican believes in."

"To the Republicans of the twenty-seventh Pennsylvania district who are thinking of giving their support to this Popocratic candidate the Leader says:—Don't. The place to settle their quarrels is at the caucuses or in the convention. When a candidate is fairly chosen by his party he is entitled to the support of all its members at the polls."

University Association Notice.

At the meeting last Monday evening it was resolved to adjourn until Monday evening, Oct. 24, on account of the Teachers' Institute next week.

The assignment for that evening is '539-548 in Syllabus 11. We are now in the most important and interesting part of our History course, viz: in American History. All members are cordially urged to be present at the meetings. The members of the Association will also please take notice:

1. That the first year's work will be completed about the first of December. The work for the second year will be in literature. It will be well for those who contemplate taking up the second years work to communicate with the organizer, Mr. Josiah Howard, not later than Nov. 15. The price of the magazines to old members is $2.75.

2. There is a deficit in the Treasury which calls for the payment of dues that are in arrears.

Pressed Bricks.

A new line of hats at Soble's. Austin is to have a new gas line. It will be piped from Sharon, Potter county.

N. Seger has just opened a new line of boy's winter clothing upon which he intends to make a special run.

Peter Chastain, one of Ronlette's pioneer citizens, passed away Friday Oct. 7th, aged seventy eight years.

The last of the illustrated sermons will be next Sunday Evening in the M. E. Church, subject "The Wayward Boy at Home."

These cool nights and mornings remind you most forcibly of your overcoat. But you don't need to wear the old shabby one any more, for you can get a new one at N. Seger's, mighty cheap.

On Saturday Sept. 24th, Abner Redner of Hector, Potter county, celebrated his 103rd birthday, with fair prospects of passing a few more milestones on his way down the sunset slope of life's journey.

There will be a supper at the Baptist Church next Friday evening Oct. 13, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. Baked Beans and brown bread and a good supper in general will be served for 25cts. The patronage of all is earnestly requested.

Charles McKean, on Friday last, exhibited at this office a beautiful rose he picked on his premises that morning. He grafted the rose bush into a tree on his grounds last summer, and the rose has blossomed every month since. Frost does not appear to have any terror for this rose.—McKean Democrat.

In the death of Sydney A. Wetmore on the 24th inst. Warren loses one of its oldest and most respected citizens. He was born in Warren, July 18, 1825. He was the seventh in descent from Thomas Wetmore, who was one of the founders of Hartford and Middletown, Conn., and who in turn had immigrated from England where the family had for centuries held estates. The former's more immediate ancestors for generations had been lawyers and judges.

When one person is uplifted into a higher, nobler sphere of living through the influence of another, the power of that uplift will tell in other lives brought into touch with him, and from soul to soul the ever-widening circle will bless and ennoble. But when the larger part of a community is thus uplifted, who can tell what the end will be—in stronger manhood, purer womanhood and a more determined title for the right and against the wrong. Such an uplift has come to Newton through Prof. J. B. DeMotte. Every such wave brings us a little nearer the perfect life, for which all true-hearted people are striving, and the moral tone of the whole community will be stronger and purer thereby.—Margaret Robinson in Newton Journal. At Teachers' Institute, Driftwood, Pa., Oct. 18th, 1898.

No man in the United States is accomplishing more good than Prof. De Motte. There is nothing of the sensationalist about him, but with his elegant actions, fine presence, ripe scholarship, ability as a thinker and reasoner, and exalted ideas, what a man he is! He is a man of the world, a practical scholar, a profound student of human nature, who has successfully grappled with the problem of life, and who is teaching a lesson that should be learned by every young man and every young woman in this land—the lesson that impurity and immorality will undermine them, physically and mentally, and in the end hurl them down to destruction. No man or woman, capable of thinking or being instructed, ever heard Prof. De Motte without being deeply impressed and benefited.—Marysville (Mo.) Tribune. At Teachers' Institute, Driftwood, Pa., Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, 1898.

What are little personal enmities and petty jealousies compared to the country's welfare? Perhaps the defeat of a Congressman in this district or a member of the Legislature in this county will not cut much figure in the aggregate, and yet it does not pay to take chances. It is very important that the next Congressman shall be strongly Republican and we should not risk losing a single member when there is no good reason therefore. A United States Senator will be voted for by the Legislature elected this fall and we certainly want a Republican to take Senator Quay's place. The Senate is too close as it is and has been too much of a drawback on legislation. The war is over but the questions arising from the same will have to be settled and the President should be given all the help possible in the power of the patriotic citizens of this and every community. Vote the ticket and you will show that you believe in the president.—Mt. Jewett News.

The Slayton Jubilee Singers now entering on their sixth year, have become so well known that there have been several calls for their services in England, Europe and Australia. During the period they have been in the field this company has given a larger number of concerts than any other musical organization. There are already many cities that do not consider their course complete unless they include the company each season. The Slayton Jubilee Singers have given over fifty concerts in Chicago alone. Their successful appearance at the Auditorium drew the largest door sale ever known in the history of that famous hall, and the cheapest seat in the house at that time was one dollar. At the Chautauquus there is no musical organization that can equal this in popularity and drawing power. As this prospectus goes to press over one hundred and forty nights have been sold for the season, from Maine to Kansas. At Teachers' Institute, Driftwood, Pa., Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, 1898.

FRIDAY, - Probably rain in the morning, clearing during afternoon; warmer; variable winds.

SATURDAY, Clear; colder with northwest winds. SUNDAY—Fair; west winds.

Preparedness.

The frost that we predicted for last Friday morning, did not materialize, the temperature 40° above the freezing point, the dense fog kept it off, we noticed that you were prepared for it by putting covering on those tender flowers—result that we have flowery and roses in bloom the middle of October. Our store is full of things useful and things beautiful. We are prepared to give the largest equivalent alike to the longest purse and to the purse that is lengthened by economical choosing. A hundred bargains awaits you on Friday and Saturday in WALL PAPER remnants. A change of store room, results of a change in prices heretofore unknown to Emporium. Now is your opportunity to prepare to paper your room.
