I will visit Drifwood the first Tuesday, and Sincemehoning the third Wednesday of each month.

A Railroad Rumor.
There is local interest in the report in railroad circles that the Pennsylvania Railroad is negotiating to purchase the W. N. Y. & P. The Pennsylvania, as is well-known, connects with W. N. Y. & P. at Emporium. The Pennsylvania is very anxious to get into Buffalo, and by the purchase of the W. N. Y. & P. this end would be accomplished. It is said that the directors and officers of the Pennsylvania favor the scheme. The Buffalo Commercial says that "enough has leaked out through semi-official sources to warrant the statement that the Pennsylvania has or will make a deal." The Western New York & Pennsylvania would be a most valuable link in the vast chain. The absorption of the Western New York & Pennsylvania by the larger company would undoubtedly take the present car shops away from Olean in the end.—Olean Times.

They Were After Free Silver.
Like carrion crows, the vultures who were after Mr. Sibley's cash were hanging around his hotel yesterday as long as he remained in town. A conspicuous one was from Bradford, a man who represents the Jamestown Vart Land. It is possible some of the Swedes in McKean county will be caught through this man's sale, but not an intelligent one will. He has not only sold the Swede paper he represents, but he is trying to sell the tried and true Swede Republicans. Will he succeed?—Kane Republican.

No indeed, Brother Rogers, the Swedish-American Republicans of the 27th district are too intelligent and well read, and have too much principle to sell their ballot for a little of "Honest Joe's" filthy lucre.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup has superior merit. Try it for a cough or cold and be convinced. There are many cough remedies on the market but Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best.

From Coal Dump to Legislature.

Suppose we were to read of some man, living in another county or state, who managed, before he was sixteen years old, to acquire a good common school education while working as slate picker in a colliery at 50 cents per day. Suppose we should read that this boy at the age of sixteen years went away to a strange place, where a country paper was published, and hired himself out as an apprentice; that he rose by the power of hard work, honesty and integrity, from the position of "printers' devil," to be sole manager, editor and publisher of this same paper; that when he was 45 years of age he had been for many years one of the acknowledged leaders of the Republican party in his county, a man of influence and a leader in all public enterprises; and that he had honorably represented his county in the State Legislature, (this same county to which he came at the age of 16 years), with nothing but his honesty and energy to recommend him. Should we read this thing we would envy the county that had such a man among her citizens. We would say, "There is a man his fellow citizens should delight to honor; there is a man any county ought to be proud of." Where does this man live? He is a citizen of Cameron county, Pennsylvania, and has been for thirty years or more. For the above is, though brief, a true sketch of the life of Henry H. Mullin, our candidate for Representative, and a man whom the people may rely upon to be in his place from the beginning to the end of the session of the Legislature, and to fairly and honestly represent his constituents at all times. Henry H. Mullin stands squarely before the people on his record.

It was common talk among the Representatives from all parts of the state, at Harrisburg, during the session of '94 and '95, that no man in the state worked harder, more persistently or more enthusiastically for the best interest of his county than Mullin, of Cameron. A strong party man, loyal, brave, true to his friends, yet Mr. Mullin may always be depended upon to remain true to the best interests of Cameron county under any and all circumstances.

Judge Metzger Held Up.

While walking along Fourth street, near the Church of Annunciation, at Williamsport, Saturday night, Judge John J. Metzger was held up by four men who had hidden in the shadow of the church. One of the men demanded the Judge's money while the others surrounded him, but just at this juncture Alderman Batzle and a friend approached and the footpads escaped into an alley.

It is to be hoped his Honor will have the pleasure of seeing these four gentlemen again, but in the Court House, at no far distant day.

The P. R. R. Co.'s New Bridge.

Work on the new bridge that the P. R. R. Co., are putting in just below the junction, is progressing as rapidly as possible. The middle pier has been completed and in another week the west end abutment will be in condition to support the sleepers and iron railing. In order to insure a solid foundation for the pier and abutment, excavations were made to the depth of twenty-eight feet below the level of the rails. Two crews are employed, one for the day and one for the night shift.

Austin's New Paper.

Copy No. 2, Vol 1, of the Austin Republican came to us last week and we warmly welcome it to our exchange list. It is bright, newsy contains a neat display of ads and the general make-up is attractive. The Republican ably champions the principles of the party whose name it bears and we wish it a long and prosperous career.

Seed Wheat.

Mr. L. G. Cook has several varieties of seed wheat for sale, samples of which may be seen at Walker's hardware store. 25tf

Cow for Sale.

A good fresh milch cow for sale. For particulars inquire of
ROBT. E. DEVLING,
Sterling Run.

Called them Stalwarts.

Knapp Commandery, Knights Templar, of which the Emporium Knights are members, is reported by the Pittsburg papers as having made itself conspicuous in the big parade Tuesday by the stalwart proportions of its members.

Piano Tuner Coming.

Prof. O. B. Hummel, the piano tuner, and dealer in pianos and organs will be here on his regular tuning trip on Oct. 24th, and will remain for ten days. The Brett piano leads the world. For catalogue and terms write to O. B. Hummel, 318 Bellefonte Avenue, Lock Haven, Pa.

Emerson's Son as an Author.

Ralph Waldo Emerson's son, Dr. Edward Emerson, himself a boy when Louisa Alcott was a girl in Concord has written an article on "When Louisa Alcott was a girl," which the Ladies' Home Journal is about to publish. Doctor Emerson gives a new view of the author of "Little Men"—as a mimic, and as the central figure of every dance and merrymaking in old Concord.

Wedding Bells.

One of the prettiest autumn weddings ever witnessed in Emporium was solemnized at the Methodist Episcopal Church last Wednesday at high noon, when Miss Mary Ardelle, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Phoenix, of Cameron, and Mr. Richard Skyles Oyler, of Westport were united in the holy bonds of wedlock.

The church was beautifully decorated; the altar being one profusion of roses, ferns and smilax and the chancel rail was banked with palms and autumn flowers.

At half-past eleven the guests began to assemble and before the midday hour had arrived the church was filled with interested spectators.

Messrs. Mock, Porter and Harris as ushers discharged their duties most gracefully.

Promptly at the appointed time the doors were thrown open and to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, rendered by Miss Sadie Chapman, the ushers entered and slowly moved down the aisle followed by Miss Gertrude Potter, Miss Byrde Taggart, Miss Staples, as bridesmaids, Miss Nellie Huntley, Maid of Honor, with Mr. Skillington as best man and the bride leaning on the arm of the groom.

The bride was arrayed in a rich gown of mousseline de soie over white silk and carried a bouquet of Bride's Roses, and the groom was neatly attired in the conventional black.

At the end of the aisle they were met by the Rev. J. M. Johnston who performed the beautiful and impressive marriage service of the Methodist Episcopal Church, after the two had been made one the blessings of God were invoked and the newly married couple marched down the aisle, the admired of all present.

The bridal party together with a large number of relatives and friends were conveyed to the Warner House where a brilliant reception took place, and at 3:20, amid a shower of rice and the best wishes of their friends, the happy couple departed on a wedding tour to Washington, Philadelphia and other eastern cities.

The bride with her many accomplishments and charming personality has ever been a central figure among the young set of Emporium, and her popularity cannot be better attested than by the genuine regret with which her host of friends witnessed her departure. The groom is a popular and talented young minister and at present is filling the pastorate of the Westport M. E. Church, at which place they will reside upon their return from the wedding trip.

POLITICAL NOTES.

If District Attorney Graham has no more evidence against Senator Quay than he has yet produced he may find himself impeached and removed from office, as it is somewhat dangerous to attempt to blacken a man's reputation with trumped up, rotten charges.

The pharisaical reformers make a great ado about Senator Quay's telegram in which he says "he will shake the plum tree." These wonderful second sight-seers will get it through their heads after a while that what they think this phrase meant is not evidence and that they can by no possibility learn what the Senator did mean by it unless the Senator himself tells them.

The Philadelphia Press published an important dispatch from Norristown, which stated that the Anti-Quay League "expected to poll a large vote in the strong anti-Quay districts" of that county. That a man would be likely to meet the strongest opposition where he had the strongest opposition is, to say the least, a very peculiar thing, the importance of which it requires the enormous brain of a political genius working over time to discover.

Another Murder in Potter.

At three o'clock last Saturday afternoon at the quiet little town of Mills, located in the heart of Potter county, James Whitehead frenzied with jealousy deliberately entered a neighbor's house, where his wife was staying and fired three shots into her defenseless body. After committing the cowardly deed he coolly walked away from the house, entered a piece of woods and has not been heard of since. A large posse of men under the leadership of Sheriff Gillon are scouring the woods and patrolling the different roads leading out of Mills, in search of the murderer and as his description has been telegraphed to all surrounding towns, his capture will only be a question of a few hours.

Mrs. Whitehead is still alive but cannot recover.

Whitehead's description is as follows: Five feet, six to eight inches in height; weight, about 140 pounds; dark hair and moustache; thumb off right hand; left shoulder recently injured, may still be bandaged; reserved demeanor; generally uncommunicative to strangers. He wore a light-weight coat—no overcoat—and pointed shoes. County Commissioner Stevens visited the scene of the murder yesterday and assured the District Attorney that a reward would immediately be offered for Whitehead's apprehension.

A Romantic Meeting.

There was a somewhat romantic meeting at the home of Hon. C. W. Stone, Sunday, when Gen. B. F. Fisher, of Valley Forge, Chester county and Captain L. T. Borchers, of this city, grasped hands and exchanged felicitations for the first time in thirty-four years. Both are veterans of the civil war and the last time they saw each other was in Libby prison, where for seven months they endured together the terrible hardships of rebel prison life. The two former comrades were invited to dine with Congressman Stone. They spent the afternoon together and recalled incidents of the war and prison experiences. Gen. Fisher was one of the party of eleven, headed by Captain Rose, who dug a tunnel out of Libby prison and escaped on the night of Feb. 10, 1864. He was never recaptured. He kept under cover of woods and after a number of days he reached Fortress Monroe. About that time Captain Borchers was paroled after twenty-seven months of prison life. Gen. Fisher returned to his home Sunday evening.—Warren Mirror.

THOS WADDINGTON.

Facts for Republicans.

"Silver Joe" Sibley can only be elected to Congress by Republican votes. Why should he be elected? Look over his record. While in Congress he introduced nine bills; only one was taken out of committee; and not one of the nine became a law. What was he good for in Congress?

Our present representative, Charles W. Stone has a much different record. No member is more faithful to the interests of his constituents; no member is more prompt to answer every inquiry; none more active diligent and attentive to duty.

In what way can Mr. Sibley be a better representative of this Congressional district than is Mr. Stone?

Why should Republicans elect a full-blooded Silverite? A man of fads and notions. There is no good reason.

We say to the Republicans of Warren county: Don't let the personal differences and factional quarrels of Republicans in Kane, Oil City or any other place in this district, influence you a particle or turn you away from supporting Mr. Stone for Congress; a man who is an honor to Warren county and who stands high in the estimation of President McKinley and other prominent Republican leaders. Don't forget that the election of a Democratic Congress this year would be a public calamity. Vote for men who are true to the party and to the people they represent.

The chairman of the Venango Democratic county committee said recently: "THE ONLY HOPE WE HAVE OF ELECTING THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET IS BY GETTING REPUBLICANS TO VOTE FOR OUR CANDIDATES. WE HAVE NOT ENOUGH DEMOCRATIC VOTES TO WIN."

This open admission ought to be sufficient to inform Republicans of Warren county as to the purposes and plan of campaign by the Democrats. Every possible effort will be made to induce Republicans to betray their party, and repudiate their life-long devotion to its principles. Appeals on personal grounds and every other device will be used as a means of getting Republicans to vote for the Democratic candidate for Congress, who, if elected, would vote in opposition to every Republican measure calculated to support the administration of President McKinley. Charles W. Stone, the Republican candidate for Congress is a tried, true, able, honest man. Don't fail to vote for him. He will represent you faithfully.

Installation.

The following officers of Emporium Lodge No. 974 I. O. O. F. were installed Thursday evening by H. G. Ault District Deputy, Noble Grand, Frank Halderman; Vice Grand, Wm. Taylor; Asst. Secretary, L. ### Homeward Bound.

The famous Sixteenth Regiment from the Pennsylvania iron and oil region, passed through here Wednesday morning on their way home. Great preparations were being made at the different towns at which the companies were formed, to give them a royal welcome and no doubt the boys received one that one that they will long remember.

Will Pack 10,000 Bushels.

William Fisher, the Unionville nurseryman, will pack 10,000 bushels of apples this fall. He has grown 7,000 bushels in his own orchards and will buy 3,000 bushels to fill his cold storage house. Each apple is wrapped in paper and packed away until sold.—Clinton Democrat.

Took Their Faces.

Tuesday morning photographer Schriever had the honor of taking a picture of Col. W. A. Stone and party who had stopped off here enroute to Coudersport where they were to be present at a mass meeting. Jim will have the picture of our next governor, on exhibition in a few days.

The front of the express office and two covered express wagons that were standing in front of it, were liberally plastered with yeast.

Lloyd's Long Range Forecast of the Weather FOR EMPORIUM AND VICINITY.

FRIDAY, Fair; west winds; cooler.
SATURDAY, Fair; variable winds. SUNDAY, probably rain.

We were satisfied with our long range forecast last week. Were you? Who in this town can tell on Thursday what the weather will be on Sunday as we did last week. That is what we call satisfaction.

This is both a store and a school. A store that gathers the greatest stock of Stationery shown in this county. A school in styles, quality and beauty, study. Now boys and girls while the teachers are attending institute at Drifwood this week, let us roam through this store. Interest in this event will be increased when we announce that through fortunate purchasing we are enabled to offer you a select lot of school supplies, viz: School bags, school companions, crayons, pencils, rulers, slates and the biggest tablet on earth for five cents. You need these supplies to do your school work at home satisfactory. Come again boys and girls, again and again, it's a good habit. The habit of buying at Lloyd's Stationery Store. And the broad reason is "satisfaction." People are satisfied with Lloyd's prices, people are satisfied with the ways of the store, its manner and methods. And we are satisfied with our store and its new location. Watch the new style patent curtains next week.
