Hon. Charles W. Stone.

The Press takes a pardonable pride this week in republishing an article which lately appeared in the Bradford Era, concerning the Hon. C. W. Stone, of Warren county, who is a candidate for reelection to the United States Congress. The editor of the Press is under obligations to Congressman Stone for favors rendered at a time when the Cleveland administration attempted to "butcher" the veterans of the late war of the Rebellion and but for his timely aid our name would now be "Dennis" on the pension rolls of the United States. Congressman Stone was our friend then, and he is still the friend of every deserving veteran of the war which tried mens souls. True, we suffered no such hardships as the boys who faced Spanish bullets, as the ice cream and cake always reached the front on time during those trying days, and the cattle cars in which we were transported to the front contained all the luxuries of the times, a courtesy which has not been extended to the fellows who are howling about hardtack, beans and pork.—Port Allegheny Press.

One More Swallow Friction.

Dr. Swallow has filled the State with his cries of criminal wrong doings by State Officials. He has charged them with every crime, from incendiarism—the burning of the Capitol building—to petty larceny—the stealing of old furniture. His charges have been broad, his facts meagre, and his proof absolutely non-existent. Yet he declares he has "convicting evidence" which he carefully conceals. Why does he conceal it? Probably because he has none to present. Several weeks since Colonel Stone pertinently suggested in writing to Dr. Swallow, that if he had evidence that would show probable cause for the charges of grave crimes he has been making, it was his duty, not only as an ordained minister of the gospel, but as a good citizen, to lay such evidence before the district attorney of Dauphin county for action by the grand jury. In reply to this opposite suggestion Dr. Swallow wrote Colonel Stone:

"Now, Colonel, you are a lawyer, you are more; a lawmaker in one branch of the highest lawmaking body of the nation, and yet you evidently don't know that a private individual cannot bring suit against State officials for malfeasance in office; that a grand jury cannot hear his testimony, and the district attorney cannot prosecute the case unless it originates and be presented for the Attorney-General of the State, as I am informed by well read lawyers."

This preposterous statement of the law was received with general ridicule. The suggestion that no one can prosecute thieves who steal from the State, except the Attorney-General, was so absurd that only the evidence furnished by Dr. Swallow's written statement could convince anyone that the idea had birth in Dr. Swallow's abnormal imagination. Of course, no "well-read lawyers" had informed him. Even the char-woman around a law office would write if such information were attributed to her. But then, Dr. Swallow, in the same letter, as though he believed in his own ridiculous statement of the law relative to thievery from the State, goes on to say that he has many times impertuned the Attorney-General to proceed against the State thieves, and has offered to submit his "convicting evidence." The ordinary citizen thinks that if Dr. Swallow has "convicting evidence," he ought to submit it, and not talk so much about doing so. But Attorney-General McCormick has evidently taken Dr. Swallow's statement about impertuning him seriously, and treats it as worthy of reply; for he thus addresses Governor Hastings:

"I believe it to be due to you and to the public, as well as to myself, to say that the candidate [Dr. Swallow] referred to, has never, directly or indirectly, mentioned the subject to me, and, of course, has furnished not a syllable of evidence to sustain any charge that he has made; nor has he, in any of his public utterances, shown that he possessed any evidence that would be admissible in any court in any civilized country in the world."

Such a stinging rebuke would not be accepted in silence by Dr. Swallow did he not know that his charge which brought it forth is baseless and that the rebuke itself is well deserved.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Stone or Jenks--Which?

So far as Dr. Swallow as a hopeful candidate is concerned, he need be given no further consideration, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

He is beaten. He has failed to arouse any enthusiasm in the western counties. His strength lies almost wholly in a few of the eastern counties and is steadily waning. All the reports show this. He is a disturbing factor, but is third in the race.

The time has come for all Republicans who have been blinded by the extravagances of the Swallow-eratic or Wanamaker orators to think deeply before they vote.

Swallow cannot be elected, but a vote for him, by withdrawing it from the Republican party, is half a vote for Jenks.

Citizens of Pennsylvania, either Colonel Stone or Mr. Jenks will be elected Governor. Do you want Jenks?

Think of this, Republican voters. Jenks—the free trader, the rank free silverite, the opponent of McKinley's Spanish policy—do you want him?

Remember that if he could be elected his success would inevitably carry several members of Congress, including, possibly, a United States Senator.

Do the business men of Pennsylvania desire to revive the issues of free trade and free silver in Congress and thus make them the features of the Presidential battle of 1900?

Do they dare to take this great risk?

The contest in New York is close and doubtful. Tammany controls the city because of a split in the Republican party at the last Mayoralty election. It is reaching out for the State.

Let the Democrats carry New York and Pennsylvania and the floodgates of silver oratory will be opened wide, Bryanism will become rampant, and two years hence will menace the country at the Presidential election.

In 1882 the Democrats carried Pennsylvania and elected Pattison Governor. What was the result? Cleveland was elected President in 1884.

In 1890 the Democrats again carried Pennsylvania. The Inquirer sounded the warning, as it is doing to-day, that Democratic victory meant danger to the Nation. What was the result? Cleveland was elected President in 1892 and inaugurated the soup house industry and closed the mills and all but ruined the country.

History repeats itself. Hand Pennsylvania over to the Democrats in 1898, and Republican business men will invite the Bryan whirl-wind in 1900.

Haven't we had enough of Democracy? Come, haven't we? We put the question in all the earnestness of its extreme gravity. Dare you take the chances?

The campaign which has been waged against the Republican party is little short of infamous. It has depended upon malice, misrepresentation and downright and willful falsification. Doubtless it has deceived many a voter. Yet out of the sorry mess of slander and abuse the Republican candidates arise clean, honest and unassailable.

If the Republican party has such candidates, men above reproach, why follow the reckless mouthings of disappointed ambitions and elect Democrats?

Either William A. Stone, the soldier, or George A. Jenks, whose love for the soldier was so great that in 1864 he opposed the legislation permitting the soldier to vote, will be elected Governor. There is no escape from this.

The election of Stone means safety to the State and Nation. The election of Jenks means the revival of Bryanism in its most blatant form. Choose between them.

President McKinley in his recent speeches appeals for unity. The whole policy of the administration is at stake in this fall's elections. Shall Republican Pennsylvania refuse to heed the call of this great leader?

Shall Pennsylvania send word to McKinley on the night of election: "We have decided to try Bryan"? The loss of Pennsylvania and New York would be accepted by all the world as a repudiation of the President.

Think well of this, Republicans of Pennsylvania.

Hon. Joseph Sibley might point to his record while in Congress under Cleveland. It was certainly startling, to say the least. If people examine his record and that of Hon. Chas. W. Stone's they will be convinced as to which is the better man to represent them.—Titusville, World.

Going West?
If you are, enquire of your nearest ticket agent about rates via the Nickel Plate Road, the short line between Buffalo and Chicago. Many improvements have been made in the past few years. Now the elegantly upholstered coaches, vestibule sleeping cars and powerful locomotives have been added to the equipment and substantial structures of steel and stone have replaced the old bridges, heavier rails and ties have been laid, and the road now stands at the front of the best roads in the country. The rates, however, still remains lower than via other lines.

If your ticket agent cannot give you all the information desired, address F. J. Moore, Gen'l Agent, Nickel Plate Road, 291 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y. 31-10t

Lowest Rates West.
Rates to the west are lower via the Nickel Plate Road than via other lines, while the service is excelled by none. Three fast trains are run every day in the year from Buffalo to Chicago. The day coaches are of the latest pattern, are elegantly upholstered, and have all the modern improvements, such as marble lavatories, steam heat, lighted by Pintsche gas, while colored porters are in charge to look after the wants of passengers, especially the ladies and children. Vestibule buffet sleeping cars are run on all trains, while the dining cars and meal stations are operated by the company and serve the best of meals at moderate prices.

If your ticket agent cannot give you all the information you desire in regard to rates, routes, etc., address F. J. Moore, Gen'l Agent, Nickel Plate Road, 291 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y. 31-10.
