Local Institute.

The local institute held at Sterling Run, Jan. 21, was a success. The day started in fine and the morning train from each direction brought a good representation of teachers. The institute was opened with devotional exercises by Rev. Piper, of Sinnemahoning. Rev. Ebersole being absent, Rev. Piper delivered the address of welcome in his usual pleasing way, dwelling upon the importance of the position of the teachers among his fellow men.

Prof. Stouffer took the next period and delivered a very interesting and instructive talk on School Hygiene, showing among other things the importance of school architecture and proper ventilation. A number of short talks by different teachers followed on the subject of Hygiene.

Supt. Miss Collins then gave a very interesting discussion on Geography, followed by a general discussion of Geography by institute.

The institute then adjourned until 1:15.

The afternoon session was opened by a song entitled "Scattering Precious Seed." Mr. B. E. Woodward, of Driftwood, then gave a talk on History, dwelling upon the importance of having the pupils appreciate the motives that actuated men in the early part of our history, also the importance of biographical study. His discussion was followed by remarks on History by Messrs. Hart, Wyley, Stouffer and others.

Miss Minnie Brooks read a very good paper on "Observations in the Reading Class," which lead to a number of talks on reading.

Mr. D. B. Peterson closed the institute by thanking the teachers for responding so well to all calls upon them, made by him, as chairman.

The people of Sterling Run made every endeavor to have the teachers enjoy themselves and we hope that they went away feeling that they were benefitted by having visited our town.
