No American can find fault with the expansion which is going on in the demand for American goods in various parts of the world. The calamity howler will please come to the front. The one who blamed the soup houses on the Republican party is the one meant. Will he please stand away to the front so that he can hear? That will do. We want to tell him something. It is this: Beginning April 1st, 1899, there will be a general advance of about ten per cent. in the wages paid by the Pennsylvania Steel Company. That is all. The calamity howler can now go back to his little hole and chew himself.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, March 6th, 1899

Considering that they controlled only one branch of the Fifty-fifth Congress, the Republicans have every reason to be proud of the record left by that Congress, which has been in several respects one of the most remarkable in our history and which has played an important part in the world's history. It did not meet all the expectations of the country-no Congress ever did and probably none ever will—but it did much that was good and left undone many things it was urged to do that would have been bad and unwise. It was wise enough, for instance, to leave the President a free hand to deal with the Philippines while we are finding out what will be the best thing to do for them. President Mckinley fully appreciates the extent of the responsibility thus placed upon him, as well as the great compliment implied by this confidence in b and will, in accordance w usual custom, move ca all that he does. tion has been reg mistakes in ing deposed by their refusal to follow his lead in support of a motion to take up the resolution declaring the seats of Gen. Wheeler and the other three members of the House, who went into the army, forfeited, reported from the House Judiciary Committee, which was everwhelmingly voted down, had the nerve to get up and announce that he would no longer be the Democratic leader in the House, because those of them who did not vote with him did not love the Constitution as much as he did, or words to that effect.

Although the question had already been decided in the negative by President McKinley and his advisers, making legislation upon it unnecessary, the Foraker amendment to the Army bill, declaring that no property franchises in Cuba during its military occupancy, is warmly welcomed by the officials, because it will put a stop to the applications for such franchises.

The Nicaraugua Canal amendment to the River and Harbor bill, as finally agreed upon, authorizes the President to appoint a Commission of Engineers to investigate the Nicaraugua and Panama Canal routes, and report to him in time for him to report to the next Congress, and appropriates $1,000,000 to pay expenses.

The House succeeded in compelling the Senate to agree to the number of new warships authorized by the original Honse Naval bill, but the limitation of the cost of armor to $300 a ton, in the bill as finally agreed to, makes it impossible to make any contract for constructing the battleships provided for, without further legislation, because the bill provides that no contracts shall be given for the construction of ships until contracts for the armor have been made, and no contracts for armor can be made at that price. But Secretary Long says he can and will go right ahead with the cruisers provided for, as the armor they require does not come under the prohibitory clause of the bill.

Nothing but good words are heard of the appointment of ex-Gov. Merriam, of Minn., to be Superintendent of the Census, although his nomination did not reach the Senate until a few minutes before final adjournment, it was promptly and unanimously confirmed. His business career confirmed. His business career leaves no doubt of his making a success of the Census.

The Military Court of Inquiry will go west this week.

POINTED COMMENT.

Philadelphia Inquirer.

No Republican can oppose his party, seek to break it up and use his best efforts for the annihilation of the great principle of majority rule and expect to prosper politically. John Wanamaker may hope to succeed Senator Penrose four years from now, but he cannot do it. David Martin may have like aspirations, but he is done for the cannot do it.

"Don't Tell Them Where You Found fle"
The above is the name of a new song ssued on the following incident: The Rev. Thos. Delaney, when Chaplain of a large State Penitentiary while passing through the Hospital Ward was called to the bedside of a dying convict. The last words of this unfortunate youth were: "Father, I see you do not know me, but you know me well and my family. I will die to-night." I prepared his soul's exit into eternity and whilst his hands were clasped in mine his last request was made: "In my dying moment promise me what I will ask." I here gave him my word; he then revealed his parentage who thought him dead. "Now give me your word that you will send my body home, but don't tell them where you found me." I sent the body home to another State, but they never knew where I found him. THE GROENE MUSIC PUBLISHING Co., 32 E. Fifth street Cincinnati, Ohio, will send the above song to any address for 20 cents in silver or stamps; regular price

No Right to be Ugly.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched comcomplexion Electric Bitters is the medicine in the worlk to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at L. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by L. Taggart.

A father of 32 children has died in an Indiana poor house. He might have seen his finish.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh, Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by L. Taggart.

While a number of Buckeye statesmen have been throwing brick at Mr. Hanna of late, it is not on record that any of them have reached the mark.
