Spreads Like Wildfire. You can't keep a good thing down. News of travels fast. When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bottles I have ever handled in my twenty years experience." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Peats new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run down man or woman. Only 50 cents. Sold by L. Taggart, druggist, guaranteed.

An exchange says. It is no trouble to ward off the grip if you only know how. Eat raw cranberries in copious quantities, put sulphur in your shoes, swallow large capsules of quinine, and either freeze yourself in an iron tank, or boil yourself in oil to kill the germs, and the epidemic will not prove troublesome. If it does, call a doctor.

In commenting upon the published statement that cards of thanks are out of fashion, the Franklin News very truthfully says that such public expressions of gratitude are not in good taste. Friends who help in time of trouble can be thanked personally and there is no call for making a public matter of it. But, just the same, when people make up their minds that they want such a card published, you might as well try to turn back the waters of Niagara as to dissuade them from their purpose.
