PRESIDENT PRAISED.

Patriotic Chicagoans Applaud Philippine Policy.

Mammoth Mass Meetings Manifest Loyalty to the Administration—Ringing Resolutions.

The Auditorium and Central Music hall, Chicago, were filled to overflowing Sunday afternoon, May 7, with thousands of cheering patriots who assembled to give utterance to their approval of the policy of President McKinley towards the Philippine islands.

There were present many prominent public men who were enthusiastic in their efforts to fittingly observe the occasion, and letters were received from notables outside the city who could not be present.

Foremost among the speakers at the Auditorium was Congressman J. P. Dolliver, of Iowa, who said, in part:

"I have just come in with an umbrella from an overflow meeting in Central Music hall, put there to illustrate that the patriotism of this town, like the valor of our soldiers and sailors, does not mind the rainy season a particle.

"We out in the country like to feel that the government of the United States has a few old friends left in town.

"I do not intend to occupy the time given to me by defending the government of the United States. It needs no defense before the patriotism of Chicago.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

They Meet at Charleston, S. C., in Their Annual Reunion—Gen. Gordon Vouches for the Loyalty of His Comrades.

Charleston, S. C., May 11.—Every steam whistle and all the church and fire bells gave a noisy greeting yesterday to the 35,000 people in attendance at the opening of the United Confederate Veterans' annual reunion.

The city was a mass of colors and the streets were filled with martial music. The bells in St. Michael's church chimed incessantly during the morning, playing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," "Star Spangled Banner," "My Maryland" and other patriotic airs.

The feature of the day was the parade of the veterans, followed by the reunion exercises at the new auditorium. Ten thousand old veterans were in line when the parade moved.

The divisions in each department were arranged in the order of the dates of secession. The first indoor session was held in the reunion auditorium.

The auditorium seats 7,500 people and several thousand were turned away. The address of welcome was delivered on behalf of the state by Lieut. Gov. McSweeney.

Mayor Smith also delivered an address of welcome. His reference to South Carolina and Charleston as the cradle of secession brought forth the rebel yell.

Gen. Gordon, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, received an enthusiastic welcome during his address.

Gen. Gordon closed his speech with these words: "I feel empowered by your confidence to send to every section and state the fraternal greetings of this convention and of the whole people, to pledge in the name of every Confederate's son and daughter of Confederates the south's eternal loyalty to every cause for the uplifting of American manhood."

Mrs. "Stonewall" Jackson was introduced by Gen. Gordon, who shouted: "I am going to hug her," and caught her in his arms and pressed her to his bosom.

The following resolution, introduced by Gen. Stephen D. Lee, precipitated a heated discussion:

"Whereas, in Atlanta, Ga., December 20, 1898, the president of the United States gave utterance to the sentiment: 'That the time had come when the United States should share in caring for the graves of the Confederate dead'; and

"Whereas, this utterance of the chief executive of the nation demands from us a frank and generous response to so lofty and magnanimous sentiment; therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the United Confederate Veterans, in annual convention assembled that in this act of President McKinley and in its reception by our brethren of the north, we recognize authoritative evidence that we are again a united people."

A motion was made to adopt the report, but Dr. Jones, of Virginia, moved to refer it to the committee on resolutions.

J. M. Bushae, of North Carolina, made a spirited speech in which he declared the line was indelibly drawn between the graves of the north and south.

The federal government can decorate the graves of the north, but the graves of the southern heroes are in the keeping of other hands," he shouted. The amendment was finally carried and the resolutions were referred.

HE LACKS "GALL."

Gen. Funston Declares that He Has Not Enough of the Above Named Article to Ask Kansans for an Office.

Kansas City, May 11.—The Star prints excerpts from a letter from Brig. Gen. Funston, whose brilliant work with the Twentieth Kansas regiment in the Philippines has won him fame.

Prof. S. L. Kollong, a former fellow student in the Kansas State University, in his letter, which is dated April 10, the Kansas gives the first intimation so far had by him regarding a political career.

"I cannot think there is much in the talk about doing the handsome thing by me. There are mighty few offices that I would have and the one or two within the gift of the people of Kansas I have not the gall to ask for."

Gen. Funston apparently remembers some of the criticisms in connection with his Cuban campaign when he says: "Now I have proven a dozen times at the risk of my life that I am not a fake" and it is his main hope that his record in the Philippines may satisfy the former critics.

Grain Shovelers at Buffalo are Willing to Accept the Vessel Owners' Terms.

Buffalo, May 11.—The trouble between Contractor Connors and the grain shovelers is nearer a settlement than at any time since the shipping season opened. The prospects now are that before the end of the week the whole matter will be straightened out.

The grain blockade will be raised and the men will be at work. Last night the leaders of the shovelers were prepared to make terms along the lines laid down in the last proposition made by the lake carriers, which provided for the appointment of a general superintendent who should have charge of the unloading of grain at this port.

A Stringent Anti-Trust Bill. Lansing, Mich., May 11.—A bill has passed the senate which practically shuts trusts out of Michigan and its friends claim votes enough to pass it.

NOT A PARTY TO THE CASE.

Many anecdotes are told of the late Judge Cox, of the district bench of Washington, D. C. One of them will bear retelling.

A young lawyer, defending a criminal before him, and whose idea of eloquence seemed to consist in constantly calling upon the Creator, concluded with this remarkable peroration: "I ask your honor for God's sake to have mercy on my client!"

The judge adjusted his spectacles, asked for the papers, examined them with much deliberation, and then said: "The plea for mercy for God's sake cannot be entertained by the court. After a careful examination of the papers I do not find that God is a party to the record in this case."—San Francisco Argonaut.

To these Mrs. Pinkham's help is offered. A letter to her at Lynn, Mass., will bring her advice free of all charge.

Miss NANCIE SHOBE, Florence, Col., writes a letter to Mrs. Pinkham from which we quote:

"I had been in poor health for some time, my troubles having been brought on by standing, so my physician said, causing serious womb trouble. I had to give up my work. I was just a bundle of nerves and would have fainting spells at monthly periods. I doctored and took various medicines, but got no relief, and when I wrote to you I could not walk more than four blocks at a time. I followed your advice, taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier in connection with the Vegetable Compound and began to gain in strength from the first. I am getting to be a stranger to pain and I owe it all to your medicine. There is none equal to it, for I have tried many others before using yours. Words cannot be said too strong in praise of it."

MISS POLLY FRAME, Meade, Kan., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I feel it my duty to write you in regard to what your medicine has done for me. I cannot praise it enough. Since my girlhood I had been troubled with irregular and painful periods and for nearly five years had suffered with falling of the womb, and whites. Also had ovarian trouble, that left ovary being so swollen and sore that I could not move without pain. Now, thanks to your wonderful medicine, that tired feeling is all gone, and I am healthy and strong."

Boudins from Cold Chicken. To make boudins, chop sufficient cold chicken or turkey to make one pint. Put half a cupful of water or chicken stock into a saucepan, and add two tablespoonfuls of soft white bread-crumbs; boil a moment, take from the fire; add one tablespoonful of butter and three eggs slightly beaten; add the meat, a teaspoonful of salt and a quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper; mix thoroughly, and put into greased custard cups. The cups may, before filling, be garnished with chopped parsley or chopped truffles or mushrooms. Stand in a baking-pan half filled with boiling water and cook in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. While they are cooking prepare a half pint of sauce by mixing a tablespoonful of butter and one of flour, and adding half a cupful of milk and half a cupful of chicken stock; stir until boiling; take from the fire; add the yolk of one egg, half a teaspoonful of salt and a dish of pepper. Strain this into the serving-dish and turn into it the boudins. The dish may be garnished with small triangles of toasted bread or carefully cooked peas, or simply with curled parsley or celery tops.—Ladies' Home Journal.
