GOOD REPUTATION.

No one has a better reputation in his line than Uncle Sam. In drugs we have endeavored to build up a reputation for the careful compounding of prescriptions and the dispensing of absolutely pure articles. It has taken years of study and labor, but drugs are dangerous when carelessly handled, and care is the only safeguard.

The Largest Flag.

The largest flag in the world is to be exhibited under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution. It was made during the Spanish-American war by Miss Josephine Mulford, N. J. There are 325,000 stitches in the flag, one for each soldier and sailor engaged in the war. The flag is 100 feet long and 65 feet wide, and the blue ground measures 35x40 feet. The stripes are 5 feet wide and each star is 2 1/2 feet in diameter. There is also a sentimental interest connected with several of the stars of the flag, as they were made at places in the various States which are associated with the great events of American history. Thus, the Philadelphia star was partly made in the house of Betsey Ross, in the room in which she made the first American flag. Then it was worked upon at Carpenter's Hall, in the room where the first Continental Congress assembled, and partly while sitting in Hancock's chair in Independence Hall. The New Jersey star was made at Washington's headquarters at Norristown; the Maryland star was made at Fort McHenry, in honor of Francis Scott Key; the Virginia star was made in the Lafayette room in Washington's Mount Vernon home; the New York star was partly made at Faunce's tavern, where Washington bade farewell to his officers, and it was finished on board the flagship "New York." Each of the forty-five stars is embroidered with the name of the State it represents and the date of admission into the Union. They are all arranged in chronological order. According to the New York Times, the flag is to be presented to the nation on the first anniversary of the signing of the recent Treaty of Peace.—Scientific American.

The latest form of swindle is a clever one and a Pennsylvania farmer was a few days ago made a victim to a trio of swindlers. A well dressed stranger having the appearance of a clergyman called upon the countryman and shortly afterwards an eloping couple came along in search of a clergyman to marry them. The visitor officiated, the farmer signed the certificate which later turned up to be a promissory note which he will have to pay.—Ex.

An exchange says spare the crows and blackbirds; they render the farmer valuable service in destroying noxious insects. They are justly entitled to the little grain they eat, and many times over, for his labor. One-tenth of all crops raised by farmers and fruit growers are lost by the ravages of insects and the way to stop this great loss is simply to protect the birds; they will do the rest. The farmer that allows shooting or trapping on his farm allows the hunter to destroy just so much of his next year's crop.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Frotton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and, thank God, I am a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at L. Taggart's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.
