PRESIDENT MCKINLEY.

"I am glad to participate with the families, friends and fellow citizens of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers in this glad reunion. You have earned the plaudits not alone of the people of Pennsylvania, but of the whole nation. You made secure and permanent the victory of Dewey. You added new glory to the American arms. Every one of the noble men, of the regulars or volunteers, soldiers or seamen, who thus signally served their country in its extremity (remained in the service after the expiration of their period of their enlistment) deserves the special recognition of congress, and it will be to me an unfeigned pleasure to recommend for each man a special medal of honor. The government to which you gave your love and loyalty welcomes you to your homes. With no blot or stain upon your record, the story of your unselfish service to country and to civilization will be to the men who take your places at the front and on the firing line, and to future generations, an example of patriotism and an inspiration to duty."—President McKinley to Lieut. Col. Barnett and his comrades of the Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, at Pittsburg.

SECRETARY OF STATE HAY.

"It is the duty of every Republican, no matter in what state he may live, to go to the polls next month and support the nominees of his party, and by so doing assist in bringing about a sweeping Republican triumph throughout the country. Nothing could be more gratifying to the Republican national administration and nothing could give more encouragement to the president in carrying out the policies he has outlined. Enemies of the country and the political opponents of our party would rejoice over a falling off of the Republican vote this fall. No more patriotic duty can be performed by Republican citizens than going to the polls and casting a straight Republican ballot and by getting their neighbors to do likewise. Next year's presidential contest is already under way. Republicans should be on the alert."—Secretary of State Hay, in recent interview.

SECRETARY OF WAR ROOT.

"Republicanism this year means, as it has ever meant, loyalty to our country, belief in the inviolability of public faith, an unflinching adherence to honest government and honest money, and an undying devotion to the honor and integrity of the flag, wherever it floats, carried by our soldiers or sailors on land or sea. This year all these qualities are accentuated in a marked degree, and the Republican who fails to go to the polls and cast a stalwart Republican ballot will ever regret having failed to take advantage of one of the grandest opportunities of his life to show his devotion to and practical and timely allegiance to the party, which means so much to the continued welfare of our people. The greater the Republican vote this fall the greater will be the incentive to Republican leaders to prepare for the great national struggle next year."—Secretary of War Root, in a recent interview.

SECRETARY OF NAVY LONG.

"It is the indifferent and stay-at-home voter that the party managers should direct their attention to this fall. These are the men who are so preoccupied with their business interests that they frequently do not appreciate the importance of a political campaign until after the election returns are announced. Then, if the result is not as they desired, they feel the sting of remorse and realize the result of their own negligence. This fall there is more than usual danger to the Republican party from the indifferent citizen. Our prosperous conditions naturally divert the minds of many from matters of public moment. The party workers should single out these voters and at the proper time see that they go to the polls. If they get them there, we need have no fear of them voting the Democratic ticket. The thing to do is to get them there—the intelligence of the voter will do the rest."—Secretary Long, in a recent interview.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT.

"Are the people so short sighted that they forget the miseries of six years ago? Do they forget the bread riots, the squalid want even of those able and anxious to work? We cannot by any laws bring happiness and prosperity to every one, but we can do what the Republican party has done; that is, by wise legislation and wise administration secure the chance for the bulk of our people to live out their lives and do their work with the odds as much as possible in their favor. This is a national contest. We appeal not merely to party, but beyond party; we appeal to all good citizens, to all patriotic Americans, to stand with us as we uphold the financial integrity and the conditions which stand for material prosperity at home, as we uphold the honor of the flag and the interests of the nation abroad."—Governor Roosevelt, in his recent Akron, O., speech.

REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN HANNA.

"There is no doubt that the state elections this fall will be taken as an index of the sentiment of the American people upon the issues of the approaching national campaign. It is, therefore, important that every Republican vote shall be cast in November for the candidates on the Republican state tickets in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Iowa and other states in which there are local contests for important offices. All our Republican majorities this year should be as large as possible to emphasize the popular feeling. The industrial conditions and the Philippine war will prove factors in the coming campaign. The Philippine war has been made an issue by the Democratic party, but we have nothing to fear. I would as lief have so-called anti-expansion made an issue as I would have the silver question, for silver is an old man of the sea. I am not afraid of the outcome among the people. They will not, I believe, by their own act, change the condition of the country. Republicans everywhere should go to the polls this fall."—Republican National Chairman Hanna, in recent interview.

BARNETT'S TOUR A BIG SUCCESS.

Republican Candidate For State Treasurer Enthusiastically Received.

A STRAIGHTFORWARD PLATFORM.

Will Administer the Office For the Benefit of the Whole People.

TO GUARD PUBLIC MONIES.

Will Insist Upon Immediate Payment of Interest Upon Public Funds and Will Cash Warrants Promptly.

(Special Correspondence.)

Philadelphia, Oct. 17.—The tour of Colonel Barnett, the Republican nominee for state treasurer, has been a series of popular demonstrations of enthusiasm, and as he proceeds in his canvass the meetings get larger and the ovations more enthusiastic. Many of the scenes witnessed in Roosevelt's whirlwind campaign for governor in the Empire state are being repeated here. The people, regardless of party, are turning out to receive the young soldier fresh from the Philippines, and all indications are that many of them will disregard politics when they vote next month and Democrats and Republicans alike will honor him with their ballots. Colonel Barnett is not a spectacular orator. He does not play to the galleries, but in a straightforward, matter of fact way he discusses the issues and tells the people just what he will do in the event of his election. He spoke plainly as to the office of state treasurer in a recent speech.

BARNETT'S PLATFORM.

In this address, among other things he said:

"The platform adopted by the Pennsylvania Republican state convention is the best that has been promulgated in any commonwealth of this republic. If I shall be elected to the office of state treasurer I shall ask no better rule for my guidance than the enunciations of that platform. Under those principles I shall hold the position for the whole people, irrespective of party. It shall be my duty, and it will be so fulfilled, as an accounting officer of the state, to aid in the prompt collection of taxes and claims, the prompt settlement of all accounts against delinquents, whether individuals, companies or corporations, without fear or favor, for the purpose of maintaining the credit of the state by promptly paying, under due warrants of law, all claims and appropriations. And especially for facilitating and carrying on the work of our grand free school system in every district, no matter how small or how remote.

"The Republican party has placed upon our statute books a law which compels bankers to pay interest on daily balances of deposit of state money. That interest shall be promptly collected and applied, under provisions of law, to the obligations of the commonwealth.

SOLDIERS ARE DELIGHTED.

The soldiers who are with Colonel Barnett on his tour are all delighted with the ovations that the party are receiving at every stopping point. Major Killian, of the First Nebraska, who was with Barnett in the Philippines, and who came east to help him in his canvass, makes a rattling campaign orator. He says the people of Pennsylvania are most patriotic and that from what he has seen and heard on this trip he is confident that Colonel Barnett will be elected by an immense majority.

The Barnett party are due at Reading tonight, Lancaster tomorrow night, West Chester on Friday and Media in the afternoon and Chester in the evening on Saturday next.

For the following week this is the schedule: Monday, 23d, reception in Philadelphia; Tuesday, 24th, Indiana; Wednesday, 25th, Kittanning, Armstrong county; Thursday, 26th, New Castle, Lawrence county; Friday, 27th, Franklin, Venango county, and Saturday, 28th, Erie. They will open the last week of the canvass at Warren, Warren county, on Monday, Oct. 30; on Tuesday, 31st, they are due at Bradford, McKean county; Wednesday, Nov. 1, at Williamsport. They are to be given a reception by the Penrose club, of Philadelphia, on Friday, Nov. 3, and by the Young Republicans of Philadelphia on Saturday, Nov. 4. This schedule is subject to a few changes. The Dauphin county Republicans insist upon Colonel Barnett visiting Harrisburg on the last Saturday of the canvass.

General Gobin has another party of spellbinders, who are at work daily. They are booked for Brookville this evening, Kittanning tomorrow afternoon and Butler in the evening, and Franklin on Thursday and Greenville, Mercer county, on Friday. They go to Meadville next Saturday. This party is accompanied by the Tenth Regiment Glee club, which is making a big hit wherever meetings are held.

AGUINALDO'S PRAYER.

Insurgents' Solicitude For Their Party Disgusts Loyal Pennsylvania Democrats.

CREASY'S UNPOPULARITY.

Official Election Returns Which Show That He Does Not Stand Well With His Neighbors.

(Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, Oct. 17.—Make a note of the date—Election day, Tuesday, November 7.

All good Republicans will bear this in mind. This is going to be a great year in national politics. The result of the elections in the several states next month will be watched not only by the people of the United States, but by the nations of the world. The issue of the foreign policy of the McKinley administration is inseparably connected with the canvass in every state in which there is to be an election, and the returns will be watched and reviewed with particular reference to their bearing upon the national administration. Nothing that has occurred in politics since the last presidential election has created as much talk as the proclamation of Aguinaldo to his followers, in which he said:

"In America there is a great party that insists upon the government recognizing Filipino independence. We must show gratitude and maintain our position more resolutely than ever. We should pray to God that the great Democratic party may win the next presidential election." This declaration from the ringleader of the insurgents has attracted widespread attention, and Democrats who are loyal to their government are disgusted with the position in which their party. They will refuse to vote the Democratic ticket this fall.

There is every reason why every Republican should go to the polls on election day and vote the entire party ticket, from top to bottom. There never was a time when a national administration deserved more thoroughly the hearty and cordial support of the party organization to which it naturally looks for indorsement.

The best way to indorse the administration at Washington is to go to the polls on Nov. 7 and vote the whole Republican ticket, and no Republican should omit the performance of that duty.

CREASY NOT POPULAR.

The candidacy of W. T. Creasy, the Democratic nominee for state treasurer, represents the radical wing of the Democratic party. He is being ardently supported by his fellow silverites and by that element of the party which is publicly proclaiming against President McKinley and his administration. Many of them are co-operating with the Atkinson movement, which is giving encouragement to the insurgents in the Philippines by the circulation of treasonable literature and otherwise attempting to create sentiment against the policy of the president.

Creasy himself is cutting a small figure in the canvass. He is getting speeches into the Democratic and assistant Democratic papers, which are being prepared for him, and is talking a great deal about what he knows very little.

Following up its arraignment of Creasy upon his antagonistic attitude toward the old soldiers, comes a plain, matter-of-fact statement from the editor of the Columbia Republican, published at Creasy's home, which tells its own story as to his popularity with his neighbors. This is what it says in this week's issue, under the caption, "What the Official Vote Demonstrates:"

In 1894 W. T. Creasy was a candidate for the legislature the first time in Columbia county, and was elected. His majority compared with Singler's is as follows: Singler had 1,334 majority over Hastings, Creasy had 1,010 majority, or 324 less than Singler.

In 1896 Creasy was a candidate for the second term. Bryan had that year 1,542 majority over McKinley and Creasy had 1,091 majority, or 451 less than Bryan.

In 1898 Creasy was a candidate for the third term. Jenks had 2,127 majority over Stone and Creasy had 1,404 majority, of 723 less than Jenks.

This is the verdict which his neighbors and acquaintances registered on three different occasions.

The campaign which is being made in the interest of Creasy has been a veritable frost.

An interview with former Republican State Chairman Gilkeson, of Bucks county, published in the New York Tribune, has attracted some comment.

"Only a few years ago," said Mr. Gilkeson, "40,000 was considered a normal majority in Pennsylvania. Since the Democratic factions have become so bitter the better element of their party has come over, so that Pennsylvania may be put down as normal at 150,000. The 300,000 majority may be drawing the line a little too far, but still in a national campaign the steady business Democrats who want no nonsense in politics can be counted on either to vote the Republican ticket or not to vote at all.

"I notice one thing in our district, and I think it is growing everywhere—that is the more active part taken by the farmers in political matters. They are beginning to wake up to the fact that manufacturers are not the only products of toil and skill to be safeguarded by putting the right party and principles in authority. They begin to realize that the great staples, cereals, dairy and meat products, cattle, sheep and hogs, and now chickens and eggs, are not articles of sale on market days or by street hucksters only in cities, towns and villages, but have become the leading articles of export to Europe. That being the fact a stable financial system, based on the coin of commerce, becomes as important to them as it is to the business interests of the country at large, if it wishes to maintain its lead in the commercial affairs of the world.

"The farmers are finding this out. I only hope the Democrats will continue the folly of the Chicago platform of 1896, just to let them see how public sentiment has progressed even beyond the thrashing they had in that year.

"The Democrats have not even a ghost of a show in this state. Barnett will get the full Republican vote, if not more."

"It looks as if we will have a full vote out. The people feel the enthusiasm of the return of the Tenth Pennsylvania and the Dewey welcome, and have not forgotten the Grand Army encampment and other ceremonies which arouse patriotism. I think Pennsylvanians feel that the eyes of the whole country are upon them, and notwithstanding that it is an off year in politics they must set the pace of majorities for the McKinley campaign of 1900. I think our people will give an expansion Dewey parade majority which the people of the sister states will not fail to understand."

ON THE FIRING LINE.

Stalwart Republican Editors in the Pennsylvania Campaign.

HOT SHOT FOR THE ENEMY.

They Lead the Advance For the Battle of the Ballots on Tuesday, November 7.

The control of the Democratic party, in the national and state organizations, says the Citizen Press, of Franklin, Pa., is in the hands of the disreputable and anarchic element, which is placing the honest, intelligent and patriotic Democrats in a false position, so long as they silently permit their names to be used as the supports of the platform erected and the policy expressed by the Altgelds, Bryans and other "statesmen" who assume to speak for the party. However, one by one of the heretofore prominent Democrats are placing themselves on record as opposed to the copperheadism which is manifested by the rabid leaders of the party and will emphasize their protest by voting the Republican ticket in November, hoping by such action to relegate to the rear the wild eye repudiationists now in control, and thereby save the party organization for the future. This course seems to be the only one open for them to pursue at this time and maintain their self respect.

Ex-Governor Pattison, of this state, is the latest to repudiate the policy laid down for the government of the party by Altgeld and Bryan, points out that patriotism is higher than party. "My duty as an American citizen," says he, "demands my support of the country's president at this juncture. When the president said in his Pittsburg speech that the Philippines were just as much American soil as were Texas and Alaska he spoke the truth. The islands are ours by title of treaty, and we have no title to Louisiana or Alaska except that confirmed by treaty. As they are ours, we are bound to see them pacified, to set up law and order in their midst."

This is the solemn fact, and people who throw obstacles in the way of the pacification of the Philippines are aiding and abetting the rebellion, and the Democrats who are of the same opinion should show their patriotism by voting the Republican ticket this fall. It is the only way to make themselves effective. Votes count.

A REPUBLICAN YEAR.

"This ought to be an easy year for Republican success. It does not require oral or written argument to induce men to vote the Republican ticket," says the Everet (Pa.) Press. "Argument and appeals fall on listless ears in the face of well known facts. When free traders cry out that the tariff robs you, the laborer answers with a shrug, 'Well, under your free trade we had no work and nothing of which to be robbed. Now, under protection, work is plenty, wages are good, or at least good in comparison with Democratic times, and we have plenty to eat, clothes to wear, and can send our children to school.' The tramp days of Democratic ascendancy are over. When they tell you that free silver will bring greater prosperity, the answer is, well let well enough alone; you have fooled us already too often to our sorrow; we will want more than theories now to induce us to leave the party under whose sway we have received and are enjoying the present good things. No Mr. Democracy for us."

FARMERS AND THE TARIFF.

"The American farmers should be pretty well satisfied with the new tariff law," remarks the Wilkesbarre Times. "Here is the official record of the exportation of leading farm products in the last year of the Dingley law, compared with those of the last year of the Wilson law:

Table with 3 columns: Product, Fiscal Year 1897, Fiscal Year 1898. Rows include Breadstuffs, Wheat, Flour, Corn, Oats, Rye, Oatmeal, Provisions, Live animals, Cotton, and Cottonseed oil.

"And this is the sort of prosperity the Democrats condemned at their last county convention."

DON'T FORGET THE DATE.

Free trade and soup houses. Protection and prosperity. We had the first under Democratic rule and prosperity came with Republican success," says the Franklin (Pa.) Citizen-Press. "Vote to continue the latter party in power, on Tuesday, Nov. 7. Don't forget the date."

THE STATE ISSUES.

A Good Man to Administer the Office of State Treasurer.

"Republicans are not afraid to take up the state issues or to discuss the necessity for Governor Stone's action in cutting down the most liberal item in the budget so as to make expenditures in income balance each other," says the Wilkesbarre Times. "We have already been too liberal at the expense of the state treasury, and if the action of the governor will draw attention to this subject he will have performed a public service. Money gotten by indirect taxation is apt to be lavishly spent, and we know something of this lavish expenditure by many of the school boards and townships in our own county."

"Nor are we afraid to discuss the management of the treasurer's office. Under the new laws there is no possibility of wrong doing, and the method of depository, together with the payment of interest to be turned into the treasury, makes everything so plain that only a reputable business man is required for the position of custodian. We have such a man in Lieutenant Colonel Barnett, the Republican candidate, who besides possessing all qualifications named is all right on the protective system, an advocate of sound money and a supporter of the McKinley administration. This is the man for the times, and the people of Pennsylvania will undoubtedly say so on the 7th of November."

THE AMERICAN REPUBLIC.

Significant Address by Archbishop Ireland as to the Philippines.

Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, was shown much attention during his recent visit to Pennsylvania. This distinguished prelate is a staunch Republican. In an address which he made at the banquet of the Marquette club, of Chicago, given in honor of President McKinley on his trip west, in responding to the toast "The American Republic," Archbishop Ireland, among other things, said:

"The American republic is the best form of organized democracy revealed in humanity's history; as such she claims homage from her own citizens; as such she draws to herself the attention of the world.

"And surely there has been in America no lowering of the highest standard of patriotism. Where is the country at whose call for heroes citizens with such speed, with such forgetfulness of self and in such numbers rally to the flag? Defeat is unknown in America; defeat is impossible in America.

"We proclaim that in Asia, as in America, the American flag means liberty and all the blessings that go with liberty. Some say it means in Asia the repression of liberty.

"It means in Asia order restored, and it must be restored; the flag of America may be trampled to be for the Philippines the harbinger and guardian of the liberty and the rights of the people."

AN HONORABLE RECORD

Review of the Career of Hon. Josiah R. Adams.

ABLE AND UPRIGHT LAWYER

The Republican Nominee For Justice of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, Who Is One of the Leading Citizens of the Quaker City.

Owing to his determination not to take the stump, but to adhere to the precedent of candidates for the judiciary not making a political canvass, the citizens of Pennsylvania, says a special dispatch from Philadelphia, will not have an opportunity until after the election of meeting one of the most polished and accomplished gentlemen, Hon. Josiah R. Adams, the Republican nominee for the superior court. He is well and favorably known in the Quaker City and by members of his profession throughout the commonwealth. Like the Republican nominee for state treasurer, Colonel Barnett, Mr. Adams is a son of a clergyman. His father, Rev. Ezra E. Adams, D. D., was of Puritan stock, and was engaged in the missionary service of the American and Foreign Christian Union, and it was while his parents were in Havre, France, that Josiah R. Adams was born. After his labors on the continent were finished Dr. Adams came to Philadelphia and founded the North Broad Street Presbyterian church. Josiah was then only 10 years old. He attended the Friends' school on Spring Garden street and subsequently attended the select school in the building of the Presbyterian Board of Publication, on Chestnut street. Afterwards he attended different institutions and was graduated from Princeton college in 1873, winning a gold medal in each of the four years of his course. He was admitted to the bar in 1874 and quickly became a successful practitioner, particularly in the civil courts.

"In his early legal career Mr. Adams became a counselor in bankruptcy, commercial and maritime law. Upon many occasions he served under appointment of the courts as examiner, auditor and receiver. As receiver of the Penn Safe Deposit and Trust company he collected $86,000 for the depositors by suits against the Spring Garden National bank and the directors. He is receiver for Pennsylvania for the Granite State Provident association. As auditor of the Remington estate he supervised the distribution of a quarter of a million dollars. A notable case won by him was that of Worrell vs. Bailey, in the courts of Mifflin county, this state, in which he succeeded in having overturned a decree for valuable property on the ground that it was obtained without consideration. He has a large practice, and is a director of the Lawyers' club, of Philadelphia. He was one of the founders of the University club, and is a member of the Art club, Philadelphia Yacht club, Clover club, the Knights Templar, Ancient Order of United Workmen, Royal Arcanum and other organizations. He is accounted one of the best informed attorneys of Philadelphia and a most skilled practitioner. In addition to these requirements Mr. Adams is a literateur who has given much study to the literary productions of the authors of the day, and who is thoroughly familiar with the productions of all the best authors.
