Dress Goods.

We assert that our showing of Dress Goods for Autumn wear is without a peer in the matter of variety and refined selection—a claim that is supported by a volume of business which is wholly unprecedented and is still rapidly growing.
Not only are these offerings superior, but the prices are most favorable.
These novelties must be seen to be appreciated.

Fall Capes & Jackets

This department is unusually active, and purchasers are reaping the benefit of the forehanded methods which gave us a large stock of Jackets and Capes for this season's trade, at prices extremely low for first-class garments.

Fashion has been kind in her plans this fall. Her decree seldom bends with economy; but for once the two are yoke mates.

The latest Fall Styles are here at the LOW prices that have made this department so well known.

Prof. Moore the optician, 740 Sanson street, Philadelphia, is here, and will call at your residence with a superior stock of Australian Diamond Spectacles that has never failed to strengthen weak eyes. After twenty-five years of continual investigation of the most improved methods used in fitting the eyes with glasses in the great public and private institutions of America, as well as those in England, France, Germany, combined with the wonderful discoveries he himself has made in restoring sight to those who have used his glasses.

If you are afflicted with weak eyes no matter what nature the trouble may be, come to see me, I will restore you to good sight, if there is any hope; if not, I will frankly tell you so. My reputation is a sufficient guarantee. All spectacles sold by me must give satisfaction. Moore's celebrated spectacles will strengthen weak eyes. All spectacles sold by me will be exchanged any time within five years free of charge.

Over fifty thousands persons fitted to spectacles by a scientific examination of the eye. The Professor guarantees to fit the eye so you can read or thread a needle the same as when you were young, with the first pair of spectacles shown, if the eyes are not diseased. Don't lose an opportunity you may never have again. Economy and go blind by wearing cheap spectacles is poor economy. Sight is priceless—money cannot buy it.

Office hours at the City Hotel 1 to 2 p. m., and from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m. Will only be here a few days.

A Successful Fair.

The Fair gotten up by the M. E. Sunday School class, known as the Willing Workers, and held last week in the Opera House, resulted fairly successful. Had not the Humphrey's Cosmopolitan Concert Company completely failed them by not appearing, this class would have been enabled to have paid off their entire assumed obligation of over a hundred dollars, out of the net proceeds.

The fancy goods department was well represented with many useful and beautiful articles, some of which were donated but most of which were made by the class. The concert on Thursday evening by the home Glee Club was very well rendered and enthusiastically received. The side entertainment consisting of Bible history scenes, set up by Mr. E. M. Bates, of Williamsport, Pa., was decidedly ingenious in its conception, accurate in the details of execution and withal highly instructive and entertaining. All who witnessed it and listened to the story of explanation as recited by Miss Grace Lloyd, expressed their appreciation of it as very fine.

The main feature of the fair however was the agricultural exhibit, gotten up by Mrs. Heilman and Mrs. Stoddard. This exhibit surpassed that of many of the regular county agricultural fairs. It is due to the farmers of the county to make especial mention of some of the best of these excellent products. The largest apples were presented by Mrs. F. P. Sykes, of Four Mile; the next largest by Matthew Phoenix, of Cameron; the largest quantity by any one person was by E. D. Sizer, of Sizerville. The largest potatoes were presented by Frank Kinsler, of Josiah Howard's farm, and by David Peasley; the next largest by A. C. Goodwin and the largest quantity by Jas. Hobson. The largest squash by Orren Freeman, second by Mrs. F. P. Sykes and by W. L. Thomas. The largest pumpkin by W. L. Ensign; the largest beets by Mrs. Franklin Housler; the best lot of Ruta Beggas by W. L. Thomas; the best flat turnips by L. Lockwood; the best lot of carrots by the Sizer sisters. The cabbage presented by B. L. Spence, P. S. Culver and I. M. Reynolds possessed so nearly equal merit that it was impossible to decide between them—it was simply excellent; Mr. Spence, however, presented the greatest quantity. The wheat presented by L. G. Cook, the buckwheat by AL. Wright and the pop corn by E. W. Gaskill deserve especial mention as being very fine products of the farm. We must not forget to make special mention of the excellent rye bread furnished by Mrs. Blumle, nor the beautiful and plump little four weeks old pig by Mr. Blumle; also the branch of apples by Edwin Close. This branch was two feet long and had on it nineteen perfect apples. There were several other donations of much merit but space forbids making mention of only a few of the best.

This fair has demonstrated to the people of Emporium and vicinity that Cameron county need not be ashamed of her agricultural products nor of the people who cultivate them. We are glad that Mrs. Heilman thought of making such a collection in connection with the fair, as it has paved the way for the making of a larger and more complete exhibit along this line at some future day.

More Pressure.

The St. Marys Gas Company are placing a steam force pump on their line between this place and St. Marys for the purpose of forcing the gas through to Emporium. This will be good news to our citizens, who suffered severely during the cold snap last winter when the gas pressure was very low.

THE BEST IS CHEAPEST.—Is it not? That is what you get when you purchase, groceries, etc., at Our House. Everything guaranteed to please. Money back if not satisfactory. Try our home-made sausage. Day's.

New Catholic Diocese.

A new Catholic diocese, to be formed of Bedford, Blair, Cambria, Huntingdon, Centre, Clinton, Clearfield, Cameron and Elk counties is being agitated, to be called Altoona diocese. The petition has gone to Rome and is now awaiting the approval of the Pope.

How To Keep Apples.

An exchange tells us that the proper method to keep apples in winter is to wrap them in old newspapers so as to exclude the air. The newspaper, however, must be one on which the subscription has been paid, otherwise dampness resulting from what is "dew" may cause the fruit to spoil.

Lecture

The Epworth League has been fortunate in securing Rev. Pardoe, of Renovo, to deliver a lecture on "Childhood," in the M. E. church, Friday evening of this week, and it is hoped that our people will all go and hear him. All are invited; especially parents and school teachers. No admission will be charged. Doors open at 7:30 o'clock. This lecture is sure to please.

Mrs. Vern Hillman.

Edna Eugenia Hillman was born at Campbell, Steuben Co., N. Y., February, 1875, and died at Galeton, Pa., Oct. 21st, after four weeks' sickness with malaria and typhoid fever. Her maiden name was Rendt and she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rendt, of Emporium. A husband, mother, father, one brother and three sisters are the immediate relatives. The funeral was held at the M. E. church Tuesday forenoon and was very largely attended. Burial took place in the cemetery at Sabinsville, Pa. Rev. Hugh Boyd, A. M., pastor of the M. E. church, officiated. Mrs. Hillman was an excellent young lady, and had a legion of friends. The husband has the sympathy of all in his terrible affliction.—Galeton Despatch.

Warner-Haynes.

N. P. Warner and Miss Annie B. Haynes were married at Rathbun, on Tuesday, at the residence of the bride's parents—Rev. Graybell officiating. A large number of friends from Emporium, St. Marys and other places witnessed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Warner arrived in Emporium yesterday and have commenced housekeeping on Fifth street. The calithumpians visited the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Warner, and our citizens were aroused from their slumbers about midnight by a terrible explosion. At first it was thought an explosion had happened at the furnace. It proved to be friends, (or fiends) of the newly married pair and proceeded to keep up a lively cannonading for an hour or more. The cannon was well loaded and made noise enough to wake the dead.

The University Association, 1899-'00.

The members of the University Association met in the basement of the Baptist Church, Monday evening, Oct. 30. The purpose of this meeting was to reorganize the Center, decide on the course of work to be pursued during the winter.

Those who have followed the work of the Association for the past two years will require no urging to continue this interesting and instructive line of study. If the centre so elects, the entire winter may profitably be devoted to the Literature Course. All who are interested in the spread of literary knowledge and culture are cordially invited to join the Association. Teachers in the public schools, Sunday school teachers, and High School pupils will find the work particularly helpful. Your active interest co-operation is desired in this important work.

Subject for next Monday evening, Nov. 6th: Colonial Period of American Literature.

Emmanuel Sunday School.

Beginning with next Sunday, Nov. 5th, the hour of Emmanuel Sunday school will be changed to 3 p. m.

Elocutionary Entertainment.

The Daughters of Rebekah connected with Beulah Lodge, have engaged Miss Eva L. Dunning, the popular Reciter, and will give an entertainment at Odd Fellows Hall, Tuesday evening next. The general public invited. It is hoped the citizens of Emporium will bear in mind the date of his entertainment and attend in large numbers. The proceeds are for the benefit of Odd Fellows Building Fund, an association richly entitled to your patronage. This organization has expended thousands of dollars in Emporium to aid the sick and bury the dead—in fact their charity has always been liberally bestowed upon the needy. Make a memorandum and be sure to attend. Tickets, 25 cents.

Serious Accident.

Last Monday, Lewis Conway, who is assisting in placing a new roof on the furnace east house met with an accident that might have caused his death. The workmen were standing on a swing ladder under the rusted roofing and when it became necessary to push the plank along, Mr. Conway stepped for the roof frame but lost his balance. He stepped onto the rotten roof and it gave way, precipitating him to the ground. His fall was somewhat eased by striking against a water pipe, thence onto a wheel-barrow. When taken to the Warner House and Dr. Smith called it was found that the muscles of the neck were torn from the bones and he suffered terribly. The patient is doing nicely at this writing and will be about again within two weeks.

He's There.

Can our neighbor hoist the name of J. I. Mitchell? If not; put up Reilly. —Independent. The PRESS is a stalwart Republican journal and Judge Mitchell in no uncertain tones stands squarely on the Republican platform and in his letter of acceptance his declaration of principles make it a pleasure for us to support him. He represents those principles we believe in and has the manliness to say so. Judge Mitchell's name was promptly placed at our mast-head. By the way, we should like the Independent to tell us whether the Democrats of Cameron county have a county ticket in the field—we have looked in vain at your mast-head but fail to discover it. We are not surprised that our venerable friend does not hoist a ticket nominated in a packed convention and upon a platform so entirely opposed to the prosperity and happiness of our people.

These are prosperous times and three good meals a day will work wonders and we should not be surprised to see both Hackett and Hockley proudly wearing a badge bearing the handsome picture of Col. Barnett, of the Fighting Tenth. Come along neighbors and we will make it unanimous.

Our County Ticket.

The Republican ticket presented to the voters of Cameron county this year is an excellent one and every voter should take especial pride in giving it a rousing majority—from the highest to the lowest.

For Sheriff we have J. D. Swope, who everybody likes as a citizen and respects him for his many good traits. He will fill the position, so creditably occupied by Sheriff Mundy, to the satisfaction of all. Chas. Gleason and E. W. Gaskill, who have shown such excellent fitness in the office of Commissioner are again placed before the people for re-election. Both are gentlemen of strict integrity and have only the welfare of the citizens of Cameron county at heart. See that they are both elected; you will rest easy, knowing you have two men in whom you have confidence and respect. For County Auditors we have Charles L. Butler and William H. Logue. Both are eminently qualified for the important trust. Mr. Logue has faithfully filled the position for three years. Mr. Butler the other candidate, has never aspired to county office and always stood manfully by the principles of that great party we all love. Mr. Butler will make a careful and efficient official. These are excellent gentlemen, voters of Cameron, and should and will receive a large vote. Republicans, especially, should not fail to vote, when this year it means not only an endorsement of President McKinley, Admiral Dewey, and the gallant boys who braved the dangers of battle, but it will show to the people of these states where Pennsylvania may be found in 1900, when the question of Poverty or Prosperity will be the great battle. Think! Vote for a good big basket full each Saturday night and not for Want, Despair and Poverty.

They Don't Like Mitchell Now.

(Philadelphia Inquirer.)
When John I. Mitchell was named the other day as the candidate for the vacancy on the Superior Court bench he was praised by the organs of the insurgents and the organs of the assistant Democratic newspapers generally as a fair man and an ornament to the bench. These assistant Democrats don't like Judge Mitchell now as well as they did. They expect him, we suppose, to vote for Creasy and praise the heroism of Aguinaldo, and to find in this campaign only a State issue. Judge Mitchell's letter of acceptance does not give these State issue gentlemen much comfort. Some of the points he makes are so telling that special attention should be directed to them. He says, for instance:

I am a radical Republican, and so long as my party adheres to its fundamental principles I shall stand steadfastly by it at the polls whenever its supremacy in the State or Nation is at stake. I regard this as a conscientious duty, for a false ballot in such a case is an assault upon the integrity of popular government.

A real Republican is the last man on earth for these insurgents and assistant Democratic organs to take to kindly. If Judge Mitchell had only come out with a fling at the Republican ticket or a finely rounded sentence or two relegating national affairs to the back-ground he would to-day be highly in favor, but he does not agree at all with these gentlemen who would overthrow Colonel Barnett and place the disciple of Mr. Bryan in the State Treasury. Republican victory is needed, according to him, for he says:

In these eventful times I consider the continued supremacy of the Republican party in State and Nation essential to the welfare of all the people under the sovereignty of the United States. Therefore, I cannot allow any voter to be misled in voting for me upon the false assumption that I am not loyal to the party of my choice in the upholding of our State and National administrations. I believe them to be honestly and faithfully devoted to all of the most important principles of public policy supported by the party from the beginning down to this time.

Judge Mitchell has not much use for the Democratic party. The time for these Democrats to discuss our Spanish possessions, he thinks, is after the authority of this Nation has been completely enforced. He is willing to trust this matter in the hands of President McKinley, but is very unwilling to intrust it or the money question to a Democratic President. Consequently he considers the elections on next Tuesday to be highly important, for they must have a potential influence upon the Presidential election. He adds:

Surely no true Republican can be willing to intrust these affairs to the Democratic party as now constituted and controlled. Therefore, if I were in no wise connected with the party as a candidate, I would vote for Colonel Barnett and the entire Republican ticket at the next election, regardless of any factional differences within the party. And I could not vote with any party that may propose to haul down the American flag wheresoever it has been planted under the sovereignty of this Nation.

These are the words of a true patriot, and we recommend them to thoughtful consideration of every voter in Pennsylvania. The Judge is very careful to say that so far as the administration of justice is concerned the question of politics cannot enter into it, but nevertheless he thinks it is only right and proper that when a candidate is before the people the people are entitled to that candidate's views, and so he gives them.

Our Democratic and insurgent friends are not getting much comfort out of this campaign. It is not much of a year in Pennsylvania for men who would tear down the party that supports the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley.

Sudden Death of James Cavanaugh.

The sudden demise of James Cavanaugh, aged 24 years and four months, at the St. Charles hotel, at 4:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, was a heartrending shock to his family and a large circle of friends.

The deceased was born in Emporium, in June, 1875, and was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Cavanaugh. He has been in poor health for several years, having suffered from a physical strain while employed in Howard's mill, terminating in heart disease which was the direct cause of his untimely end.

The body lay in state at the family residence on Second Street, where it was viewed by many sorrowing friends, until Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock, when the funeral took place from St. Mark's church, where Requiem Mass was said over the remains. Rev. Father Downey officiating. The Holy Father preached an appropriate sermon, touchingly illustrating his manly and courteous disposition and his reverence and loving respect for his aged parents, besides whom, he leaves to mourn his loss, three sisters, viz: Mrs. Thomas J. Lysett, Mrs. Samuel Cline, and Miss Ella Cavanaugh. The funeral was largely attended by relatives and friends; the A. O. H. and the Fire Department attending in a body. The pall bearers were taken from the Hamilton Hose Company, of which he was a member. Beautiful floral offerings from C. B. Howard & Co., A. O. H., Hamilton Hose Company, and numerous individual friends, completely covered the casket. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

EASTMAN'S KODAK

WILL PHOTOGRAPH THE WEATHER.

You can carry it in your hands, on your shoulder, in your pocket or on your bicycle. You press the button and the Kodak will do the rest.

LLOYD'S LONG RANGE FORECAST OF THE WEATHER AND EASTMAN'S KODAK.

She Sails.

Wind! Wind!! Wind!!! That is what the people of two continents have been looking for, for the past two weeks. Now they are getting it and how the Columbia sails. This store with her main-sail, club-top-sail and jib-sail set, has caught the first fresh trade breeze of the Autumn season, and like the victorious yacht, sweeping ahead of all our competitors on the starboard or port tack. We are leading the way in kodaks, bicycles, stationery, wall paper, guns, and ammunition that will bring your game across the finish line. We extend you a cordial invitation to try our guns and ammunition that will stop the birds from beating the wind, wind, wind.

HARRY S. LLOYD.
