LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Contributions invited. That which you would like to see in this department, let us know by postal card, or letter, personally.

J. B. Shriever returned to Wilkesbarre on Monday.

B. C. Farrell, of Costello, was in town Monday evening.

Dr. Bradford, of Austin, was circulating among Emporium friends last Thursday.

Miss Loretta Swayne, of Austin, was guest of Miss Ella Newton, Thanksgiving day.

E. S. Watson, State Organizer of K. O. T. M., was calling on Emporiumites on Monday.

Miss Mattie M. Collins, of Driftwood, transacted business in Emporium on Monday and Tuesday.

Miss May McCarthy returned last week from an extended visit among friends at Hamilton, Ont.

We neglected to mention in our last issue, the arrival of a bouncing boy at the home of J. P. McNarney.

Ed. Cook, who has been conducting a hotel near New Castle for some months, is visiting in Emporium.

W. J. Friezer, of Washington, D. C., U. S. Fish Commissioner, registered at the Warner House on Sunday.

L. B. Seibert and Frank Andrews, of Coudersport, stopped in Emporium on Monday while en route for the south.

Geo. J. LaBar and wife ate their Thanksgiving dinner at Elmira, N. Y., with their son and daughter, Chas. Deihl and wife.

B. W. Green, Esq., has a patent plan for extracting teeth, especially when they are kicking. Henry Auchu heads the list yet, with his rat-tail file.

E. H. Hillyard and Chas. Auchu have gone to the Warner House to live, Mrs. Cavey, with whom they have boarded so long, having ceased keeping boarders.

Mrs. J. H. Ryan, of Emporium, was visiting among Port Allegany friends on Saturday last.....Dr. D. D. Colcord, of Sinnemahoning, is visiting his son, Dr. J. B. Colcord, of this borough.—Port Allegany Press.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Stodpard and Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Coppersmith pleasantly entertained a few friends at five o'clock dinner on Friday. The dinner was excellent and ye editor who sparingly (?) sampled the good things has not been well all week.

A. C. Blum and wife, H. S. Lloyd and wife, Mrs. J. M. Givin, of Kane, and ye editor and wife, hugely enjoyed an invitation to attend a turkey dinner, last Sunday, with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hill. Of course we regretted our inability to cope with friends Hill, Blum and Lloyd, yet we just meekly followed and wondered how it must feel to be a good feeder. Mrs. Hill knows how to get up a meal and she admirably sustained her reputation on this occasion, ably assisted by her daughter Miss Edna.

Chas. Lion, of St. Marys, spent Thanksgiving Day in Emporium.

Sheriff-elect Swope and wife have been on the sick list several days.

Court Stenographer Hagerman is ill at Lock Haven, with scarlet fever.

Miss Susie Bauer, of St. Marys, was guest of Emporium friends last Thursday.

Christina Flederman, of St. Marys, was guest of Ed. Blinzler and wife the latter part of last week.

Mr. J. J. Lingle, D. W. Felt and Mrs. J. J. Lingle are visiting in Philadelphia this week.

Mrs. John M. Given, of Kane, has been guest of F. A. Hill and family the past few days.

Mrs. Geo. A. Walker and Mrs. W. L. Sykes left this morning to visit in Buffalo.

Mrs. W. W. Fisher, nee Rose Seger, presented her husband a baby boy yesterday.

Piano tuner and dealer O. B. Hummel, of Lock Haven, was a PRESS visitor yesterday.

Samuel Shadman, of Emporium, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Geo. Grove, Grant street.—Williamsport Bulletin.

Mrs. I. K. Hockley is attending the meeting of State Board of the Children's Aid Society at Pittsburg, this week.

Jacob Troup returned from Lebanon on Monday evening, where he had been visiting his family for several weeks.

N. J. Swartz was stepping lively last evening and feeling jolly good over the advent of a beautiful girl baby at his home.

Postal clerk F. D. McClure has moved his family from Bradford to Emporium and occupies Richard Kelley's house on Fifth street.

T. S. Clark, J. C. Hill and Attorney Gilmore, of Williamsport, have been attending to legal business in town the past two or three days.

Chas. Rishell's little son had a narrow escape from being seriously burned, one day last week, while playing with matches. Dangerous practice.

Ralph Fornwalt, a stove-tender at the furnace, left Tuesday evening on a two weeks' vacation with parents and friends at his home in Lebanon.

Messrs. Brown, Horn, Stover and Green, a quartette of Austin's promising young men, attended the L. C. B. A. dance, at this place, on Thanksgiving evening.

Frank W. Taylor has closed his winter's work at Montour's Run and will spend the winter months with his family in Emporium. Mr. Taylor is deserving of a good rest.

W. B. Brightman, Sanford Lewis, J. L. Knox and wife, John Omerod, and W. I. Lewis and wife, all of Coudersport, passed through Emporium on Monday, en route for Philadelphia.

G. M. Pott and family were overcome with gas early this morning—the gas coming on during the night when they were asleep. Dr. Baker was called and found Mrs. Pott quite sick.

W. W. Ayers, of Eugene, Oregon, who has been visiting Pennsylvania and York state relatives for the past two months, left Tuesday morning, accompanied by his son Henry, of Costello, for the Pacific slope, where they will locate.

C. A. Van Lew, F. P. Rentz and F. P. Strayer, of Emporium, have purchased the pine timber on a thousand-acre tract on Montour Run, near Grove and will commence the erection of a shingle mill at an early date. Chas. Van Lew, who is an experienced shingle manufacturer, will manage the business.

The Hon. W. L. Woodcock, of Altoona, who was visiting Rev. Wilford P. Shriner last week, lectured on Friday to the Epworth League of the M. E. church on "The Model Epworthian," and on Sunday evening to the public congregation in the same church. Both lectures were greatly enjoyed and were of a very high order. Mr. Woodcock is apt in word painting and at times became quite eloquent. He is a gentleman of broad culture and has the experience of wide traveling both in this country and abroad. He is a member of the General Board of Control of the Epworth League and Superintendent of the American University work among the Epworth Leagues of this State. Any future visit of Mr. Woodcock to our town will insure a hearty welcome among our people, where he has already made many friends.

How Long, Oh! Lord.

During the last few days there has been a great amount of suffering in Emporium owing to the failure of the gas supply. The greater portion of citizens have depended upon the Gas Company for their light and fuel, very many of our people not being prepared for such inconvenience as they are now meeting. It is high time that we had some understanding with the gas company, and not place the health of our people in jeopardy. If they have not the gas to supply their Emporium customers they should say so, that all might make other arrangements. Our citizens are justly indignant, and have reason to be, at the treatment Emporium is receiving. We hope the Emporium stockholders, in justice to their neighbors, will protect the rights of their patrons in this town, who have patiently borne the disappointment of the past, hoping that the future service would be better. How long, Oh! Lord, is this going to continue?

Mr. Geo. A. Walker, went to St. Marys this a. m., to enter a vigorous kick against the treatment Emporium is receiving from the St. Marys Gas Company. Several of the St. Marys manufacturers are using, we are reliably informed, the gas for fuel. This is an outrage.

BRIEF MENTION.

Who gets the gas? Emporium does not.

"New Irish Visitors" at the opera house, Dec. 19th.

The pump stations at Pine and North Bend have been shut down.

The Maccabees enjoyed a spread last evening after election of officers.

Pity the poor men if our supply of gas proves a failure this winter. Won't they catch it?

Two P. & E. engines collided Monday night at Wilcox. Both engines were telescoped. One man injured.

The Warner House bar room has been completely remodeled and presents a much neater appearance.

Owing to the scarcity of gas during the day time the laundry force are compelled to work at night, there being an abundance of gas after ten p. m. Queer business, this.

The 56th Congress convened last Monday. President McKinley's message is pronounced the greatest State paper ever presented to Congress, and meets with the hearty approval of the people.

Struggling with a cat which he was trying to kill, Francis Pelkey, of Novato, Cal., was shot in the foot, the animal clawing the trigger of the rifle which he held in one hand.—Phila. Record.

A shortage of limestone caused Supt. Brady to "bank" the furnace on Sunday and Monday. Stock is now coming in quantities and they hope to be supplied in the future. The immense demand for limestone and coke, and shortage of freight cars, is playing hob with the iron furnaces of this state.

Billy McGee says he is fattening a turkey for Christmas and expects to feed all the big eaters. His gobbler-ship now weighs so much that it is not able to fly to its roost, and to aid the bird, McGee has placed a rope and pulley from the ice house roof and attaching the ice tongs around the monster nightly assists it to its perch.

Notes and News.

Mrs. S. C. Hatten died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Ridgeway, West Reynoldsville, Nov. 24th, 1899. The deceased was a daughter of Jacob and Hannah Kunes, and was born Aug. 1st, 1832, at Snow Shoe, Centre county. She married Edward Hatten, December 25, 1850.

New Wagon Road.

A movement is on foot to build a wagon road from Emporium to the head of Canoe and Sterling Runs. The plan is to build a bridge across the river at foot of Broad street. The right of way has been secured from the Land Company, C. B. Howard & Company, Elk Tanning Company and Dr. Heilman. Josiah Howard heads the list with a $500.00 cash subscription. This road will open up a good farming section.

SIBLEY A FREE LANCE.

Favors McKinley's Policy and Will not Stick to Democratic Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Representative Joseph Sibley, of the twenty-seventh Pennsylvania district, who was elected to Congress last year over Hon. Charles W. Stone, Republican, has arrived in Washington with his family for the winter. In conversation with a representative of the Leader to-day Mr. Sibley intimated very strongly that he was no longer in strict accord with the Democratic party in all issues, and intended to vote as his conscience dictates on questions of vital interest to the country's welfare regardless of past or present political affiliations.

Mr. Sibley will caucus with the Democratic party on the question of selecting candidates for the empty honor of speaker, clerk, door-keeper and sergeant-at-arms, of the house. He will not be bound to any political policy the caucus may adopt, however, and will act independently on all questions which may come up in the house.

"I have no political ambition and am free to act as my conscience dictates," he said.

Mr. Sibley will support Representative Sulzer, of New York for the Democratic nomination for speaker.

It will be recalled that Mr. Sibley was the original free silver man in the Pennsylvania delegation in the Fifty-third Congress, and created a sensation in the House by his speech against the repeal of the Sherman purchasing act of the extra session of that Congress. When Bryan was nominated for President at Chicago in 1896, Mr. Sibley was offered the vice presidential nomination, but declined it.

"Will you support the administration in its colonial policy regarding Cuba and the Philippines?" Mr. Sibley was asked.

"Most assuredly. Every person who has the welfare of his country at heart ought to stand by President McKinley until the war in the Philippines is over and also support him in his policy of territorial expansion. Why, sir," said Mr. Sibley, with some emphasis, "if President McKinley should adopt any other policy in the future than he has been pursuing since the beginning of the war with Spain, he would go down in history the most generally condemned President this country ever had. What would have happened to President Thomas Jefferson had he listened to the clamor against the policy to purchase Louisiana? Would he to-day be still living in the hearts of his countrymen? I answer no. It was the best thing that ever happened this country that Mr. Jefferson took the bold stand he did on the Louisiana question."

"Then you think President McKinley's territorial policy ought to be sustained?"

"I certainly do and if the opportunity offers I will make a speech on the floor of the house in support of his expansion policy," replied Mr. Sibley.

"Then you are not in favor of giving independence to the Cubans and Filipinos?"

"I am not prepared to say at present whether I am opposed to giving them independence or not," replied Mr. Sibley. "This is not the time to settle that question. That will come later and will finally adjust itself. It is the duty of this country to first bring the rebellion in the Philippines to a hasty close and then establish law and order in the islands. After that, if Congress thinks the inhabitants of Cuba and the Philippines are capable of self government it may be a good thing to give them a trial. It is my opinion, however, that it will be many years before the Philippines will be capable of maintaining self-government. It is different with the Cubans. They are more intelligent than the Filipinos and ought to become Americanized more easily."

"It is reported Mr. Sibley, that you are no longer in sympathy with the Democratic party on the question of free silver."

"Well, I don't know about that," replied Mr. Sibley. "In my opinion free silver is no longer an issue. The great prosperity which the country is now enjoying ought to be evidence enough to convince anybody that the financial policy of the present administration is all right on that question."

At this juncture of the conversation Mr. Sibley excused himself to join his family in a ride about the city in his new automobile.

During the interview Mr. Sibley was asked whether or not he thought Mr. Roberts, the Mormon representative-elect from Utah, ought to be given his seat in the house.

"Being one of the jurors in the case," he said, "I must decline to answer that question. From a constitutional standpoint, however, I will say that I do not believe he will be seated."—Pittsburg Leader.
