GUFFEY AND FLINN. Democratic and Insurgent Combine Working Against Quay. EYES ARE ON WASHINGTON. The National Democratic Committee Seeking to Prevent the Seating of the Beaver Statesman Upon Governor Stone's Commission. (Special Correspondence.) Harrisburg, Dec. 12.—Many prominent Pennsylvanians who were in Washington last week are in this city and have interesting stories about the Quay case before the United States senate. Developments in the political situation during the past few days have given new evidence of the compact that has been entered into between the Flinn-Martin Republican insurgents and the Guffey Democracy of Pennsylvania upon the issue of the election of a United States senator. It is quite manifest that rather than see Colonel Quay in the United States senate the Flinn-Martins would help elect a Bryanite of the type of Colonel Guffey from this stalwart Republican commonwealth. So vindictive are these men that they do not hesitate to hold conferences with the Democratic leaders and have it heralded to the world that they are working in harmony. As they did here during the fight in the legislature over the election of a United States senator, these men are co-operating to have the United States senate reject the appointment of Colonel Quay by Governor Stone. HIGH PRICED LAWYERS ENGAGED The Flinn-Martin-Wanamaker combine, with unlimited money at their command, have retained a corps of lawyers to appear before the senate committee and argue against the seating of Colonel Quay. Among these high priced lawyers is a former member of the United States senate, Edmunds, of Vermont, who has been living in Philadelphia for some time and who has not hesitated to take a fee from any side of any controversy at law. Edmunds has been retained by the millionaires' combination that is fighting Quay. What the size of his retaining fee was has not been made public, but he has the reputation of not working for nothing. It is possibly quite as well that the money goes to him, rather than be used for further debate the elections in this state. Now the queer part of Edmunds' participation in this case is the fact that he is on record as arguing and voting in favor of seating appointees of governors when state legislatures failed to elect or when a vacancy occurred during a recess of a legislature. The journal of congress has column after column of his speeches advocating the recognition of appointees of governors. He now accepts the fee of the Flinn-Martin-Wanamaker insurgents and is booked to make the effort of his life in contradicting everything he said before upon this subject. But this is lawyer like, and Edmunds is not to blame. And then he ought to make enough out of the game to put coal in his cellar for the winter, take a trip to Paris next summer and still have a comfortable sum to invest. As the insurgents have money to burn, Edmunds might as well help to burn it as anybody else. At least that's what Edmunds no doubt thinks. Ex-Senator Edmunds has been subjected to a broadside of railway since he has been in Washington. One senator suggested that Edmunds' speech in favor of the seating of Henry W. Blair, of New Hampshire, who was appointed by the governor, under exactly similar circumstances as exist in the Quay case, be printed in parallel columns with any speech Edmunds may now make against Quay. "My only connection with this case," admitted Edmunds to a friend, "is that of counsel for the opposition to Colonel Quay, and I propose to reserve my remarks until I shall appear before the committee."

GUFFEY CHIPS IN, TOO. Along with the monied men of the insurgent outfit, Guffey, who is several times a millionaire, has been spending cash freely during the last year to defeat Quay and have himself elected as United States senator. Guffey spent thousands of dollars trying to elect Jenks governor and many thousands more to help elect Democratic members of the legislature and to keep them in line when they were elected. He is now at work to get the Democratic United States senators from voting for the seating of Quay. He has enlisted the active co-operation of Senator Jones, of Arkansas, who is chairman of the Democratic national committee, to line up the Democratic party in Pennsylvania to keep Quay out of the senate, as it will encourage the Democratic voters to make an effort to elect a Democratic legislature in Pennsylvania next fall which would send Guffey to Washington to join the other wealthy men in the senate, as Brice, the Ohio millionaire, was sent some years ago. It is said that Guffey was always envious of Brice, and he long ago declared that it was the ambition of his life to occupy a seat in the senate chamber at Washington. The argument is advanced that if Quay shall be seated the Pennsylvania insurgents will be greatly discouraged and they will be unable to carry out the deals in contemplation with the Democrats for fusion tickets to defeat regularly nominated Republican candidates for the legislature next fall. "This is the situation as presented to the Democratic United States senators who are being urged in the cause of Democracy to vote against the seating of Quay. Through Chairman Jones the influence of the Democratic national committee is working against Quay. PENROSE GETTING READY. Senator Penrose had little to say for publication as to his plans, but it is known that he has in mind a speech which will fully disclose the inside workings of the political conspiracy which inspired and has continued the fight against both himself and Colonel Quay. The startling bribery scandals which followed the attempts to influence members of the legislature to violate their pledges to vote for Penrose for United States senator when he and Wanamaker were the conspicuous aspirants for that honor, and the despicable methods resorted to in the campaign against Colonel Quay's election, show the inside history of the famous conspiracy which resulted in the arrest of Colonel Quay, and his subsequent acquittal after the trial had been prolonged until after the adjournment of the legislature, the attempt at intimidation of supporters of Colonel Quay at the recent session of the legislature, and the misrepresentations and abuse of Republicans who stood by the caucus nominee by a subsidized and virulent press, and other things that will throw some light upon the character and the methods of the men who are in the conspiracy to drive Colonel Quay out of politics, will all come in for a share of attention from the brilliant young Pennsylvania senator, if he carries out what is at present in mind. There is likely to be some fur fly before this issue shall be decided. The law in the case has been carefully reviewed by Attorney General John P. Elkin, who is amply equipped to cross swords with any of the hired counsel employed either by the Republican insurgents or the Democratic leaders. Mr. Elkin, if he shall have an opportunity to appear before the senate committee on privileges and elections, which is to take up the Quay case for consideration next Saturday, will present a clear and concise statement of the facts and the law and constitutional provisions covering the action of Governor Stone in making the appointment, after the legislature adjourned without an election, and he will give the reasons which the executive believed to be good and sufficient for the appointment. QUAY'S FRIENDS HOPEFUL. Senator Quay's friends are more hopeful than ever of a favorable outcome of the contest. They are encouraged by the strong stand taken by Senators Lodge, Hoar, Chandler, Sharp, Allison, Mason, Foraker, Hanna, Platt of New York, Sewell and other Republican leaders, who contend that it is high time that the absurd precedent set by the senate in the case of Mantle, of Montana, should be swept aside. WHY QUAY SHOULD BE SEATED. "There is nothing more dangerous than precedent," said one of these senators, "and the present precedent of the Mantle case in itself furnishes the strongest argument why it should be abolished. As long as the senate holds to the belief that governors have no right to appoint where legislatures fail to elect it furnishes an incentive to a legislature to unite with the minority party to prevent election and thus prevent the state from having its constitutional representation in the senate. I have no doubt that the recent legislative deadlocks in Pennsylvania, Delaware, California and Utah were directly due to that precedent. Here are four states deprived of their proper representation, and if we continue encouraging faction minorities by upholding this precedent who can predict where it will stop? If we vote to deprive Senator Quay of his seat we will encourage party irregularity everywhere, and in time I would not be surprised to see the senate deprived of one-third of its members. We must end this business right here. We must upset this ridiculous and dangerous precedent, and the only way to accomplish this result is by seating Senator Quay. Senators generally recognize this fact, and I believe that he will be seated by a good sized majority."

TWO MORE RECRUITS. Among the recent Republican converts to Senator Quay's course are Senator Culom of Illinois and Senator Shoup of Idaho. Both voted against the seating of Corbett of Oregon, but both have announced themselves in favor of the distinguished Pennsylvania. Senator Shoup of Idaho, in relation to a report that as he had voted against Corbett, his name was not properly in the list for Quay, says: "Corbett's case and the Quay case are by no means parallel. In the Corbett case there was ample evidence of an arrangement between the governor and his appointee to prevent the legislature from properly organizing so as to be competent to elect a United States senator. Nothing of this nature has been shown in the Pennsylvania case, which is a matter of factional politics and nothing else. I have no hesitation in saying I will vote to seat Mr. Quay."
