Waiting to Be Eaten. The wasp is not a vegetarian, like the bee, and so the wasp mother has be-fore her the problem of supporting her young with meat. As her eggs are laid out in hot weather and as food enough must be stored in the cell with the egg to mature the young insects, the ques tion is how to preserve the meat fresh for so long a time. After a tube is finished except one end, which is left open, she flies off on a hunt for spiders. She finds a fat, healthy one, pounces upon it, stings it. carries it off and places it in the mud cell. She repeats this process until she has placed as many spiders in the tube as, according to her judgment, will be needed. She then lays an egg in the cell and walls up the opening.

Whether it is the result of a subtle poison or whether it is a special spot in the spider's nervous system where the sting is inserted we do not know but certain it is that after being thus stung the spider lives on in a paralyzed condition for weeks and even months. It can move only slightly and remains helpless in its mud sepulcher until the wasp egg hatches into a voracious grub, which at once falls to and eats with great relish the meat thus miraculously preserved.

Whether the spider can feel pain in this paralyzed state is not known; but it certainly retains its sight and so watches the wasp grub growing, and a spider's natural fear of a wasp would cause ample suffering to atone for its own onslaught on flies.

Peter Cooper Met the Spirits. During Peter Cooper's lifetime he was a frequent visitor at the home of Pardessus, on Pacific street, Brooklyn.

At one time Mr. Cooper became great ly interested in the spirit manifesta tions of the Fox sisters and was anx-ious to investigate their rappings personally, but he did not like to attend one of their public seances, for he feared recognition and consequently a great deal of talk. Finally it was ar-ranged that one of the sisters should spend a night at Mr. Pardessus' house and the durative Deteches he leaded to and the doughty Peter be invited to meet her.

Miss Fox came, and the spirits came too. The family retired early, Mr. Cooper occupying a bedroom on the opposite side of the hall from that of the fair ally of the supernatural. He was just settling himself comfortably for "a long winter's nap" when a rapping began on the headboard of his bed which sent shivers to his very marrow. It was only the beginning of a "rat, tat, tat," that kept up at intervals during the night in all parts of the room and before daylight came Mr. Cooper had listened to enough spirits to last him a lifetime. He never said much about the experience, but he never asked to have it repeated .- New York Mail and Express.

Don't Give Up the Ship. Somewhat more than 50 years ago it happened to me to meet at the house mutual friend a daughter of the late Major Benjamin Russell, for many years editor of the Boston Centinel. She was a bright, interesting woman and a brilliant raconteur, and she told me a number of anecdotes of her fa ther, who was a strongly individualized and notable character for a good many years. Among them was the following:

The battle between the Chesapeake and the Shannon took place just off the Massachusetts coast, and a sailor in some way got ashore and hurried to Boston with the news. It was in the night, and he went straight to The Centinel office, where he found Major Rus-sell, to whom he told the story, including the death of Lawrence. "What were his last words?" said the major. "Don't know," said the man.

"Didn't he say, 'Don't give up the

"Don't he say, "Don't give up the ship?" "Don't know," said the man. "Oh, he did!" said the major. "I'll make him say it." And he did—so much for history.—Hartford Courant.

The Effect of His Face.

Cost of Living in Sweden.

It used to be the general opinion that ne could live cheaply in Sweden, but the tables are rapidly turning. Every article of general consumption has advanced perceptibly in the last year, and the people are complaining on all sides.

An apartment of seven or eight rooms in Stockholm, without electric light, bath rooms or steam heat, costs $500 per annum. Half that amount was formerly a fair price. Let the flat be new and have a bath, central heating and other conveniences and $750 would have to be paid. Four dollars a month was formerly good pay for a general houseworker, while now they command $5 and $6 a month. First-class butter is quoted at 35 cents a pound. Meat and fish have gained 25 per cent. Oysters are a delica-cy. Vegetables are almost impossible to

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and it has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup but when given as soon as the croup south appears will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the soverity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriv-ing that disease of all dangerous consequences.
