Mr. and Mrs. James A. McKean, of this borough, showed themselves to be good Samaritans Tuesday night. This generous couple housed and fed fifteen of the unfortunates who lost their all at Newton, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. McKean went to Newton in the afternoon, arriving there shortly after the fire had swept the settlement out of existence, and invited the terror stricken sufferers to her home in this borough, and fifteen women and children accepted the invitation of this noble hearted woman and accompanier to this borough.—Smethport Democrat.

Just like our great hearted friends. It is just such kind acts that makes Mr. McKean so popular in McKean. While suffering probably more than any of the unfortunates he forgets his own misfortune and thinks of his friends. That's the kind of a gentleman who will represent our district in the Republican National convention.

A Fine Residence.

Contractor Kriner has a crew of men at work on the rebuilding of Dr. R. P. Heilman's residence. The roof has been changed to a half pitch and a tower is added to the structure, making a vestibule entrance. When completed it will be very handsome, commodious and convenient. We congratulate the doctor on his progressiveness and idea of architecture. He has proven himself a success as a wood-working surgeon as well as surgical operations on the human physique.

Memorial Day.

Headquarters Lieut. D. W. Taggart Post, No. 241, Dept. Pa., G. A. R.

COMRADES:—In accordance with National Department orders, we are reminded that some of our numbers have answered the last roll call since we last met and have gone to increase the number of Grand Army beyond the river of death; and as in the past we must attend to the duties we owe to those who have answered the summons of death to perpetuate their memory by strewing fresh flowers on their graves and place the flag thereon, which they so nobly helped to defend. Therefore, the following committees were appointed to attend to that duty in their several localities on Wednesday, May 30, 1900:

- Sinnemahoning—G. B. Barclay, J. R. Bachelder.
- First Fork—J. A. Wykoff, D. D. Coleard.

- Sterling Run—Joseph Kissel, John Pepper.
- Cameron—Matthew Phoenix, Albert Lord.

All old soldiers are welcome, whether members of the G. A. R. or not. ALMERON CHAPMAN, Commander.

The Philadelphia Press, in referring to the sale of the Blossburg Oil Co.'s holdings in the Gaines field, says: "Sixteen citizens of Blossburg did well in oil. They invested $500 each in the company that recently struck a gusher in the Gaines field, and for the past few weeks the production has been netting the respective stockholders $195 per day. The sale of the property to the Standard Oil Company for $500,000 gives each of the sixteen $31,250, in addition to what they already realized. Such luck would put an ordinary man in good humor." State Senator, Hon. Walter T. Merrick, is one of the sixteen.

We call attention to the new "ad" in this issue of that popular store near the P. & E. depot, so successfully conducted by that bright and energetic little gentleman, Jos. Kinzler. He is always up-to-date and cheerfully attends to all orders. He is O. K. and keeps a fine line of goods.

Dr. F. C. Rieck has purchased the W. C. Clarke residence from Mr. E. G. Coleman and has contracted to move the same to his Fifth street lot, next to J. R. Hamilton.

Two Representative Citizens.

The Elmira Gazette recently published an edition in which the representative, professional and business men of Northern Pennsylvania were favorably mentioned. The following refers to two of Cameron county's citizens:

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, T. B. LLOYD, CASHIER.

This institution was established in 1884 as a national bank. The present officers are: George A. Walker, president; William Howard, of Williamsport, vice-president; T. B. Lloyd, cashier; W. S. Walker, assistant cashier. The directors are: B. W. Green, J. P. Felt, Josiah Howard, N. Seger, W. S. Walker, George A. Walker, J. E. Smith, W. L. Sykes and William Howard. The institution has a capital of $50,000, the surplus is $35,000 and the deposits run up to $175,000. Mr. T. B. Lloyd, the new cashier, was born in Columbia, Lancaster county, Pa., in 1858, and is a son of W. F. Lloyd, now a well known business man of Emporium. After receiving his education in the public schools of Emporium, Mr. Lloyd learned the jewelry business in that place, being engaged in it from 1875 to 1877. In 1878 he met with a serious accident which somewhat changed his business plans. In 1879 he was made deputy prothonotary, register and recorder of Cameron county and served four years under J. W. Frank, the prothonotary. In January, 1883, he was elected to the office of prothonotary, register and recorder. He was re-elected four times, serving in all sixteen years. His fitness for the office and faithful discharge of duty was so appreciated that he was elected continuously without any opposition, a remarkable fact in political annals. He then became teller in the First National Bank of Emporium and filled that position for five years. On the 9th day of January, 1900, he was elected cashier of the bank.

The directors of the bank contemplate in the near future to construct an addition to the rear of the bank, giving more ample facilities. Mr. Lloyd is superintendent of the M. E. Sunday school, having filled that office for eight years. He has one of the most successful Sunday schools in western Pennsylvania. For ten years past Mr. Lloyd has been secretary of the Emporium Board of Trade, and since 1888 has been voluntary observer for the Pennsylvania state weather bureau. In 1882 he married Miss Mary Budding; he has five children. Mr. Lloyd is a gentleman of high reputation as a citizen and business man, and as cashier of the First National Bank will find in the future a still wider scope for his business ability.

C. M. THOMAS, ESQ., COUNTY TREASURER.

In the grand old state of Maine the subject of this reference was born at Presque Isle in 1851. His ancestors were partly of Scotch and partly of Welsh extraction. His father was L. J. Thomas, a farmer by occupation. After receiving an academic education in his native town, Mr. Thomas engaged in lumber operations, which has since been the business of his life. He came into Pennsylvania in 1872 and worked by the month in the woods for about a year; going to North Bend he was employed by a lumber firm for two years. He then went to Driftwood, where he spent five years, being part of the time a member of the firm of Longley & Thomas; then for sixteen years he was identified with the lumber operations of P. H. and C. W. Goodyear in Potter county. Just now he is engaged in lumber operations at Ligonier, Westmoreland county. Mr. Thomas is a gentleman thoroughly posted in lumber operations and is a man of high standing in business. In politics he is a Republican and has served as a member of the Emporium council. Two years ago he was elected treasurer of Cameron county and has since so served, discharging the duties of the office in his usual business-like manner. Mr. Thomas makes a capable public officer. He is assisted by Mr. F. S. Coppersmith, his deputy, also an excellent business man. Mr. Thomas is married and has four children.

It is True.

An exchange hits the nail squarely on the head in the following: It's mighty queer how people will rear up on their hind feet and paw the air when some item of news happens to be a little off in facts, yet these same people would not tell you the item if asked for it before the paper was printed. There are some people from whom you could not draw a local with a corkscrew—they absolutely don't know any news. But after the paper comes out, they will say you were misinformed about some local happening and wonder why you can't get things straight.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with flux and procured a bottle of this remedy. A few doses of it effected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease.—J. W. LYNCH, Dorr, W. Va. This remedy is sold by L. Taggart.

According to the plans and expectations of the Republican managers, congress is to adjourn on Monday, June 11, eight days before the Philadelphia convention.
