WANTED.—A lady sewer wanted at Bedard's, the tailor.

Would Not Suffer so Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with a severe pain in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liveryman, Burgettstown, Washington county, Pa. This remedy is for sale by L. Taggart, Druggist, June.

A Transparent Trick.

The plan of the Democrats of the Twenty-seventh congressional district to place in nomination the name of Hon. Lewis Emery, Jr., in opposition to that of Hon. Joseph C. Sibley, the regular Republican nominee, is being widely discussed, and there is some speculation as to its wisdom. Mr. Emery being a Republican, the question naturally arises—if the Democrats want to elect a Republican why not vote for Mr. Sibley? Taking consideration the fact of the latter's long experience as a representative from his district in the congress of the United States, and his great influence and power with the administration, it is hard to conceive of a better man for the place. All these qualifications only make him better fitted to represent the district again. The attempt to bring out Mr. Emery is too transparent not to be seen through by the voters of the Twenty-seventh district. It is glaringly apparent that not ten per cent of those who signed the call for him would have done so were he not supposed to possess a barrel and would unhead it. It was not a question of finding someone who would more ably perform the duties of a congressman than would Mr. Sibley, or one who would have power to do the greatest good for the district; but they wanted someone with "the power of gold," and possessed of plenty of the "power." It would be hard to find another man possessing the influence, ability and power to do good for his district, for his state, or for the nation, equal to that of Hon. Joseph C. Sibley.—Titusville World.

TRIUMPH OF WOMAN'S DETERMINATION AND INGENUITY.—OLD AGE TO BE HOODWINKED BY THE SPINSTERS IN CONVENTION ASSEMBLED, IN CLARKE OPERA HOUSE, TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 12.—BE SURE TO ATTEND.

The Ladies of Emmanuel Church have tackled a Knotty Problem, but the spectators who will be so fortunate as to be present at the Spinners' Convention on Tuesday evening, June 12th, will see these ladies win out handsomely in their startling project. What Hawthorne's somber fancy dreamed of will be realized in merry earnest before the eyes of a surprised and delighted audience. Dr. Heidegger's experiment will pale before the unparalleled achievements of Professor Pinkerson's Electric Remodelscope. The Doctor's Water of Youth possessed merely a virtue more transient than wine; but Professor Pinkerson's apparatus is warranted to transform the victims of age and wrinkles into maidens whose blooming youth and beauty will be proof against all ordinary tests of time.

Of course all this is a plan of campaign against the uncaptured hosts of single men. As wise campaigners, these designing spinsters have prepared complete and authoritative lists of all eligible single men, old and young. We understand that these lists will be submitted in Convention. There will be many other amusing features.

Tickets 25 and 35 cents. Proceeds for benefit of Emmanuel Church. The ladies have decreed that there shall be a new church.

A Card of Thanks.
I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. Doty, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by L. Taggart, druggist, June

BEDARD, THE TAILOR.

Cut Prices on Job Printing.
We want to talk a little to our merchants and others who consume printing. We have a few plain facts we want to present to them.

It's not a case of "beef" or scold, but simply a comparison.

The cheap printing man has been in town in person and by sample.

His prices are low(?)

They are considerably lower than any of the local offices ask.

Can't we do it at the same price?

But that's another story, and will be considered again.

You know it's easy to say to the printer: "Oh you are too high; we can get this work for so and so."

Observe this now:

The furniture man in the city advertises goods away down, and we go to the local dealer, and ask him about it.

And he truly says: "Inferior article."

The city dentist says he will make teeth at half the price charged here.

The local dentist truly says: "Inferior work and material."

The city tailor says he will make a suit for a whole lot less than the local man.

The local tailor truly says: "Not well made."

The city druggist advertises medicines at cut rates.

The local druggist says: "Inferior and worthless drugs."

The city grocer, dry goods man, and others quote prices the local man don't touch, but the local truly remarks: "Not the same goods."

With a daily paper before us just now we see things advertised, so we know that printing is not the only commodity offered away down. Oh no, not by a good bit.

And now the moral:

No story is worth anything without a moral.

The moral is: "The local printer is not 'the only pebble on the beach,' who compete with the cut-throat fakir."

Mr. Business Man, you don't compete successfully either; why do you expect your neighbor in the printery to do so?

Try thinking about it.

Try thinking about the "cheap man" in your own line.

It's a double action story.—Latrobe Advertiser.
