REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

- For President, WILLIAM MCINLEY, of Ohio. For Vice President, THEODORE ROOSEVELT, of New York.

EDITORIAL MENTION.

Ten cent cotton was touched under a Republican Administration that opened the mills.

A Republican surplus of $81,229,776 in time of war is better than a Democratic deficit of $146,702,915 in time of peace.

No. 2 spring wheat sold in Chicago at 88 cents last month, as against 61 1/2 cents in June, 1896.

Exports of provisions from American farms last year were worth $180,000,000, or $17,000,000 more than in 1896.

Eighty-one per cent. of the delegates to the Democratic convention recognized that 16 to 1 was no longer a live issue.

The New York World (Dem.) asks if we are to have a more distinctively American financial system, why not also an American yardstick, an American gallon, or an American pound weight?

It is generally conceded that no more formidable candidate could be encountered than Hon. J. C. Sibley, whose popularity with the people, regardless of party lines, has been increased by his splendid record in the last session of Congress.

The reasons for Mr. Sibley's retirement from the ranks of Democracy have been fully explained and it cannot be denied that he was actuated by the broadest patriotism and deepest sincerity.

EMERY'S BIG BARREL.

With the Contributions of His Friends He Will Have a Huge Fund.

In the Washington telegram in last Thursday's Pittsburg Commercial-Gazette, was the following, from a staff correspondent, Charles W. Metzger:

From political rumors which have been floating around the capital city, it can be safely predicted that Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, of the 27th Pennsylvania district, is to have the fight of his life this fall.

Lewis Emery, Jr., of Bradford, has a strong ambition to reach Congress, and his individual financial ability alone is many times greater than that of Sibley.

The friends of Mr. Sibley here state that he expressed the intention of not spending one dollar more than absolutely required for literature and speeches, and that success or failure of his canvass will in the main depend upon his efforts on the stump.

It is also stated by one of Mr. Sibley's close political friends now in Washington that Mr. Sibley is going to take the most effective and stringent measures to prevent the improper use of money.

A Grand Record.

To the notification committee President McKinley spoke with pardonable pride upon the achievements of the Republican party during the incumbency of the first office in the direction of the affairs of the nation.

A tariff which protects American labor and industry and provides ample revenues is written in public law. We've lower interest and higher wages; more money and fewer mortgages.

Our Able Congressman.

It is becoming more apparent every day to the voters of the Twenty-seventh Congressional district regardless of party affiliations, that in Hon. Joseph C. Sibley the district has a representative of unexcelled ability, fitness and force, and one who, by keeping his promise to the people has been forced to ally himself to the wise and patriotic administration of President McKinley.

POINTED COMMENT.

The same old candidate, the same old issue, the same old ending.

After the scenes at Kansas City, the less the Democrats say about bosses the better.

Now watch Croker act as the Li Hung Chang of Tammany and settle the Lee Trust troubles.

Oh no, the farmers are not on the fence this year. Not on your life. They are too busy working in the fields.

Hill ought to be obliged to Croker for martyring him. Otherwise his political resurrection might not have come about.

Grover must feel somewhat blue when he sees that 16 to 1 was inserted by the vote of Hawaii and remembers that he did his best to exclude those islands from the United States.

Col. Bryan, having insisted on putting the 16 to 1 plank in the platform, will let it stay there and decline to brandish it during the campaign.

The Democrats may try all they like to make so-called "imperialism" the paramount issue, but the country understands pretty well that silver will continue to be so until the Democracy recants its stand in regard to it.

It is officially stated that the British have lost 49,000 men in South Africa since the war began about eight months ago, and the Boers seem nearly as full of fight as ever.

Scarcely a month ago, the Democrats in Congress refused to permit the increase of army to a size proportionate to our importance in the world.

A representative Southerner, addressing the cotton spinners of the South, at their annual convention at Charlotte, N. C., lately, declared that for years preceding the Civil War the sentiment of subsidizing American shipping was a growing one in the South.

CURRENT NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

What the Editors of the Country are Saying About the Leading Topics of the Day.

G. O. P.—Guardian of prosperity.—Indianapolis Journal.

The fool talk about imperialism will end on November 6, 1900.—Clyde (Kan.) Herald.

Revenue in the Cuban treasury is piling up at the regular Republican rate.—Topeka (Kan.) Capital.

The old ratio of sixteen calamity howls to one calamity will be maintained during the campaign.—Cleveland Leader.

The New York Tribune touches the fatal defect in Bryan as a candidate when it says the American people do not trust him.—Boston Herald.

The people of this country are not tired of prosperity or of the principles and policies which brought it about.—Zanesville (O.) Times-Recorder.

Uncle Sam's cash balance of $300,000,000 is different from the time Cleveland & Co.'s financial agents were skimming around to find bond purchasers.

"Gold, Ginger and Grit" is suggested by the Boston Herald as a war cry. For the other side, how would "Silver, Shortage and Soup" do?—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Undoubtedly Providence had a hand in producing the country's prosperity. Providence and the Republican party can do some mighty fine team work.—Kansas City (Mo.) Journal.

The few Democrats who believe that Bryan will be elected also predict an industrial disaster and say it will be unfortunate for the Democratic party.—Zanesville (O.) Times-Recorder.

Republican platform-makers do well to keep Protection to the front. It is now, as in 1894, 1895 and 1896, a great, strong, winning issue among the plain people of the nation.—Boston Journal.

John R. McLean has sent his check to W. J. Bryan for $25,000. Who says the Gas trust isn't willing to "chip in" for Democracy? Ice trust next! Then Sugar trust! Keep coming.—Lawrenceville (Ill.) Republican.

The Democratic Montgomery Advertiser is unkind to its leader, for it says: "Mr. Bryan, it is understood, will have a walkover—until after the Kansas City convention. Then he may be walked over."—Springfield (Mass.) Union.

A Kansas soldier boy in Luzon writes that he has named his little dog after Bryan. "When I first found the dog," says he, "he was barking like a—, and had chased sixteen monkeys up one tree."—Kansas City (Mo.) Journal.

One of the satisfactory features of the prevailing prosperity is that it is so widespread and so general that the calamity howler can't find a congenial community in which to pitch his tent and hold forth to a sympathetic crowd.—San Francisco Call.

Missouri wants President McKinley re-elected. Frank B. Moore, editor of the Daily Herald of St. Joseph, says: "Democracy has nothing to offer to the public," but he predicts that the dinner pail brigade will turn out solid for McKinley in November.—Western (Neb.) Wave.

Grover Cleveland thinks we should get out of the baby empire business. He is entitled to his opinion, but the majority of the American people still maintain that they prefer the alleged Republican imperialism to the soup houses so numerous during Cleveland's last efforts as the head of a Democratic government.—Troy Record.

In 1896 there were more than a million idle men in this country, earning nothing, who are now employed at good wages. This extra $2,000,000 a day earned by American workmen is a large factor in the present prosperity, and the people may thank the Republican Protective tariff and honest money for the improvement.—Tacoma (Wash.) Ledger.

Calamity waiting will have little effect this year, when every man who wants work can find employment at good wages. When the pockets and stomachs of the people are empty, as they were during the greater part of the disastrous Democratic panic, it is easy to make them swallow any economic remedy that is prescribed for their ills.—Cleveland Leader.

When W. J. Bryan talks of temporary prosperity under Republicanism, he only reminds the people that permanent adversity is the rule when Democrats are in power and they have had all they want of that. Even temporary prosperity is far more to be preferred than permanent adversity. It is a wise man who knows what to say and what not to say, but that man is not W. J. Bryan.—Bedford (Pa.) Inquirer.

Having criticized Mr. McKinley yesterday for sending troops to China, a certain Bryan organ says to-day he would better hurry up and save American lives. This is the real anti-expansion idea. Uphold American honor but maintain no army; don't send soldiers to China, but if Americans perish because no soldiers are sent, denounce the Government.—Kansas City (Mo.) Star.

A South Dakota editor has discovered that the Philadelphia convention was a "frost." This will be news to those who read the account of the demonstrations which were aroused by the nomination of McKinley and the nomination of the Rough Rider. But perhaps what was meant was to express the conviction that it was a "frost" to Bryanism, which is no doubt true.—Sioux Falls (S. D.) Argus-Leader.

The poorhouses are doing a slim business under McKinley. The thriving State of Kansas has only one pauper at the State poor farm. It was not that way, however, under Cleveland—the poorhouses, as well as the soup houses, flourished under the Wilson bill. They are two of the principal institutions outside of sheriffs that prospered under the Democratic Free-Trade and free silver rulers.—Bedford (Pa.) Inquirer.

"It is a good time," said a prominent farmer yesterday, "for farmers who have anything to sell. There has never been a time in my experience," he went on, "when everything which the farmer raises has brought so good prices. Wheat, corn, hogs, cattle, horses, sheep, everything is bringing good prices." It was not so four years ago, when no farm product brought a really good price. And yet there are those who are saying that farmers will not vote for the Republican candidate for President as freely as they did in 1896.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child.
