To Clean and Polish a Piano.

In cleaning and polishing a piano go over the woodwork with a cloth wet with paraffine oil, being generous with the oil where the woodwork is very much soiled. Let this remain two or three hours; this is to soften the dirt. Then wash with soap and water and a soft cloth, being careful not to let any water to touch the works inside the piano. Use a good white or a white Castile soap. Wipe dry with a soft cloth and polish with a soft old linen or chamamois leather.—September Ladies' Home Journal.

Will Enforce the Game Laws.

Editor Press:—Fearing that parties may be misled by errors published in regard to the dates allowing the shooting of grouse, or pheasant, or squirrels, I wish to quote the law as given in "Small's Legislative Hand Book" for 1900, as follows:

"No person shall kill or have in possession after being killed any gray, black or fox squirrel, between December 15th and October 15th, penalty $10.00 for each squirrel; hare or rabbit, between December 15th and November 1st, penalty $10.00 for each rabbit; quail or partridge, between December 15th and October 15th, penalty $25.00 for each quail; ruffed grouse or pheasant, between December 15th and October 15th, penalty $25.00 for each pheasant."

The season is open from September 1st, to December 1st, for reed birds.

There are some other penalties, one or two of which I will quote:

"No person shall, at any time, kill or take any wild turkey, grouse or pheasant, quail or partridge, or woodcock, by means of blind, torchlight, trap, snare, net or device whatever, under penalty of 50.00 for each offense."

"No person shall hunt or permit the hunting of hares or rabbits with ferrets, under penalty of $25.00 for each rabbit caught or killed by such means.

"For the purpose of selling the same, it is unlawful to pursue with intent to kill or entrap, any elk, deer, fawn, wild turkey, pheasant, grouse, or quail, partridge or woodcock in any part of this Commonwealth, and it is also unlawful to buy or re-sell any of the aforesaid game, under a penalty of $100.00 for every elk, deer, or fawn so taken, purchased or sold, and $25.00 for every wild turkey, pheasant, grouse, quail, partridge or woodcock so taken, purchased or sold, or by imprisonment in the county jail for the period of one day for each dollar of penalty imposed.

"It is not lawful to ship out of the State any game killed within its boundaries, under a penalty of not less than $50.00 nor more than $100.00 for each and every offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of one day for each dollar of penalty imposed."

This is I believe and informed is the present law.

There were several cases that came to the writer's notice last year of parties killing birds out of season and trapping birds in and out of season and selling them, even sending them out of the State. Should any violation of the law again come under the eye of the writer, he will prosecute the offense to the extent of the law.

Yours respectfully,
FRED JULIAN.

Mr. Emery's Attitude.

The attitude of Mr. Emery in regard to the invitation extended to him by Hon. J. C. Sibley, for a series of joint debates for the purpose of presenting the voters of the Twenty-seventh district the respective claims of the rival candidates and affording an opportunity for them to judge which better interprets and which offers to the public the more approved method of solving the public issues, will, in a large measure, determine the eligibility of the Bradford candidate to the office to which he aspires. The evasive and non-committal methods of Mr. Emery in regard to the most salient questions of the present campaign will not longer be countenanced by the great majority of voters, who demand that he shall come out candidly and declare himself and defend his position as befits a candidate who asks for the consideration of the people.

The proposal of Mr. Sibley is inspired by sincere motives and is the fairest manner in which the divergent views of the opposing candidates can be laid before the people. If Mr. Emery does not accept it must necessarily be determined that he has not the courage of his convictions, and he will have no equitable right to the support of the voters of any party. If, on the other hand, he agrees to express his political views in the manner suggested, even though he fail in convincing the majority of voters that he is possessed of a broader intellect or is capable of better subserving their interests than his distinguished contemporary, he would at least command the respect, if not the support, of all classes. It is imperative that the people know whether Mr. Emery has a well defined policy, and if so, what that policy is. His decision in the matter now pending is awaited with interest.—Warren Mirror.

A Democratic View.

Level headed Democrats who take a common sense, practical view of the political situation, have not lost their confidence in Mr. Sibley, nor do they see anything to enthuse over the candidacy of Mr. Emery as the regularly accredited nominee of their party. Many of them will support Mr. Sibley, in spite of the hue and cry, raised by their party over his alleged treachery to the party. One of this class who has no objections to having his name published, has written a strong letter to the Citizen Press, to which he plainly states his own position and that of hundreds of other Democrats throughout this district.

He states that the Democrats of Pennsylvania, for the past sixty years have stood for a protective tariff, and that Mr. Sibley's course in Congress when he voted against the Wilson tariff act, was but following the footsteps of his illustrious predecessor, Samuel J. Randall. He says that in the last Congressional campaign Mr. Sibley declared repeatedly, that if the Democrats expected him to support a measure, simply because it was favored by their party, irrespective of his honest and intelligent opinion of it, they should refrain from voting for him. Mr. Sibley's course in the present Congress has been in perfect consistency and accord with his statements and promises to the voters of this district. The Democratic party took him at his word and trusted him. He has not betrayed that trust. This Democrat concludes his letter with the following words:

Will some one who pretends to think that Mr. Sibley has betrayed somebody or something, tell the people of this district what vote cast by Mr. Sibley is different from what would have been cast by a majority of them, if every voter in the district had personally voted on the question? Mr. Sibley is a protectionist. So are the majority of the Democrats of this State. He is in favor of holding our purchased possessions in the Philippines, and so is Bryan and so is McKinley. There is nothing to prevent a conscientious Democrat from voting for Sibley, but many things in the present make-up of the opposition to induce him to do so. Mr. Sibley is well known for his ability, his eminent fitness for the place, his experience, his acquaintance, his well grounded influence with leading men, his personal integrity, his liberality, his enterprise and a courage which fears nothing in the line of duty. This is his fifth campaign and there has yet to appear in public print or from the stump one accusation impugning the honor of the man.

If the Democrats of the district had a candidate of their own party, they ought to support him, and not one of them, would be expected to vote for the Republican nominee unless friendship outweighed party fealty; but when they have no candidate of their own, it is not without reason that they are considered free to cast their votes for Mr. Sibley, rather than for a political nondescript who with a motley assortment of principles, but professedly a Republican, asks the party to accept him as a handy substitute—a "whip to lash Sibley," as he himself puts it. We have no Democratic candidate, and I will vote for Mr. Sibley as the candidate worthy of my support.

Here is a simple straightforward epitome of the entire political situation. There is no Democratic candidate in this district. And old-time Democrats will support Mr. Sibley rather than an nondescript candidate whose political principles are founded upon supreme selfishness alone and who fears to submit his opinions on public matters to the search-light of public scrutiny in a joint debate.

Letter to Frank Pearsall,
Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: As a painter you probably use lead and oil, and would naturally object to Devoe lead and zinc. Let us have a few words on the subject.

Painters say a good lead and oil job will last three years, and they say a house ought to be painted once in three years.

We take them to mean that their work is good for three years, no more and not less, or not much more and not much less.

Do you want your work to last longer? What do you say to six years. You'd have to have twice as much work, you know, or you'd be losing money.

Consider the case of your doctor. You call him in. Is it better for him to get your child out of bed to-morrow, or keep him sick for a month?

You prefer a quick doctor. So does everyone else in your town, and county, and state. We are all alike; we all want your doctors quick. A doctor that gets his patients up quick is the doctor that gets the patients—gets rich too, if he isn't run to death.

It's about the same with a painter isn't it? Suppose you paint Devoe, and your competitor objects to Devoe; your work lasts six years and his work three. You cost your customer half; he costs double. Who'll get the business; and who'll go to Texas?

Devoe lasts six years—not exactly—we know of its lasting seventeen—and it never wears out in less than three, so far as we know. On a windy sandy seaside house, it lasts three years. Lead and oil lasts one year there.

Devoe lasts two or three times as long as lead and oil; and it's going to paint your town. Do you want to be in it?

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.
