There will be departments of art, agriculture, house furnishings, &c., and a general display of interest to all. There will be music in attendance each evening and various novel features in the way of entertainment that can not fail to interest and please.

A fact which should be borne in mind by every Republican worthy of the name is that it is the earnest desire of President McKinley that Joseph C. Sibley should be returned to Congress from this district. Aside from the close personal friendship of the two men, the President has stated, upon more than one occasion, in the course of a personal conversation, that he regards Mr. Sibley as one of the potent figures now in Congress, for assisting in carrying out of the policy of the administration-"Prosperity at home and the honor of the flag abroad."-Franklin Press.

This district could not have a better representative in Congress than Mr. Sibley is proving himself to be. He represents the people, and the whole people will return him for a second term. [—Emery's Bradford Record]. This paragraph was published but a few months ago and we would like to know whether it was an honest expression of Mr. Emery's opinion, during a temporary fit of political sanity, or was it "printed for the money there was in it," as the Record assures us was the case with the articles in favor of Sibley in 1898. It is fair that the public should know when Mr. Emery's paper is working for the Democrats, when for the Republicans, if ever, and when "tor the money there is in it."

Died of Apoplexy.

On Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, this borough was thrown into a state of excitement when it was announced that W. D. Gallup, one of Smethport's most prominent citizens had dropped dead of apoplexy while playing a game of ten pins in the Smethport Athletic Club's alleys, on his 54th birthday.

rushed to summon medical aid and notify his relatives of his condition. Dr. Ostrander was first at his side and applied restoratives but he was past all aid and he only gasped once after he

Fred D. Gallup, son of the deceased was at the court house at the time and was summoned immediately. He went to his parents' home and notified his mother and sister and they hurried to the alley, but were too late to see their husband and father alive.

Those who were in the alley at the time say that Mr. Gallup came in a short time before the accident apparently in the best of health and spirits, and he always was an exceptionally healthy man, and commenced a game with Horace Redfield. The game was about half through. The deceased got up to roll a frame and was waiting for the pins to be put up, with the ball in his hand, when, without a word, he let the ball fall and sank to the floor and fering. The remains were removed to his late home on Green street shortly after his death.-Smethport Miner.

"What's the Time?"

"What's the Time?"

A booklet with this title, just published by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, should not only be in the hands of every traveler, but should have a place on the desk of every banker, merchant or other business men.

The four "Time Standards" which govern out entire time system and which are more or less familiar to most of the traveling public, but by many others little understood, are so fully explained and illustrated by a series of charts, diagrams and tables that any one who chooses can become conversant with the subject in question. There are also some twenty-four tables by which almost at a glance, the time at any place being given, the hour and day can be ascertained in all the principal cities of the world.
