LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Contributions invited. That which you would like to see in this department, let us know by post-card, or letter, personally.

Mrs. H. T. Taggart is visiting friends at Jersey Shore.

Geo. Reick is visiting his brother, F. C. this week.

C. W. Barr, of Gibson, was a PRESS visitor on Tuesday.

John E. Smith, of Sterling Run, attended bank meeting yesterday.

E. H. Lininger, of Cameron, was taking in the sights in town yesterday.

Mrs. D. B. Peterson, of Cameron, visited Emporium friends yesterday.

Miss Agnes Wade, of Sterling Run, circulated among Emporium friends on Monday.

Henry Plubell, of North East, Pa., spent several days in Emporium, this week, visiting friends.

S. S. Miller came up to attend the Emery meeting, but failed to bring along those rambo apples.

Ward Metzger, who has been in Alaska two or more years, returned to Emporium last Wednesday to visit with his family during the winter.

Mrs. J. H. Cole and daughters, Misses Ora and Eva, of Keokuk, Iowa, arrived last Saturday, to visit R. Warner and family. They will remain for the golden wedding.

Mrs. J. F. Parsons accompanied Senator Quay and party to the county line, last Friday, and there met Senator Emery and party and escorted them to Emporium.

H. S. Lloyd is now making his annual visit to Philadelphia and New York purchasing his Christmas stock. He says he is going to have a larger and better display than ever before.

W. W. Webb, of Rochester, N. Y., vice president of Sinnamahoning Iron Company, visited in Emporium Monday and Tuesday. He predicts a sweeping Republican victory in New York.

Mrs. W. E. Jackson and children, who have been spending several months in Emporium with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Olmsted, have returned to Wilmington, N. C.

Mrs. Chas. Seger entertained a number of her lady friends last Tuesday afternoon. What was the principal amusement until dinner hour arrived when an elegant repast was served.

Chas. L. Butler was the recipient of sad news yesterday, by wire, from his old home in Canada, informing him that his father was very poorly and to come at once. Mr. Butler left last night, expecting to reach his home on Saturday. Jos. Butler, of Olean, another son, also took first train upon receipt of news.

Miss Conrad, of Erie, is guest of Miss Mame Logan.

J. M. Davison is spending a few days in Emporium, taking a rest.

H. H. Moat, of Gibson, was transacting business in town yesterday.

Mr. Dickey, of Johnsonburg, is now employed in Ed. Blinzler's barbershop.

Miss Grace Bardwell, of Bevere, Kan., arrived in Emporium last Saturday, to visit Doctor and Mrs. Bardwell for some time.

Miss Mame Logan gave a tea yesterday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Conrad, of Erie, and the Misses Cole, of Keokuk, Iowa.

Geo. Palmer, who is now employed in Howard & Company's mill yard, at this place, fell from a board pile yesterday, injuring one of his feet.

Jos. Swallow and wife, of Elbon, Pa., were visiting their daughter, Mrs. John Clark in Emporium yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Swallow formerly resided in this county, at Cameron, but have for several years been located at Elbon, where Mr. Swallow is employed at the mines. We were pleased to meet them for it reminded us of the days when Cameron, now almost deserted, was the busiest town in the county.

Industry and Integrity.

There is but one way to attain true success in life, and that is by the most arduous and incessant industry, coupled with integrity.

Originally boys are a good deal alike in point of intelligence, and it is by no means likely to become the most useful and distinguished citizen. It is just as likely to be the booby. It all depends upon labor. If the bright boy forms dissolute habits and is afraid of hard work his doom is sealed. He is destined for the ranks of the mediocre.

If the booby, who was the butt of his schoolmates, and the aggravation of his teachers, forms habits of industry and develops an enormous capacity for hard work, he is already on the road to greatness. He works while others sleep. He reads and studies and thinks while others amuse themselves in a thousand frivolous ways. He enriches his mind with the thoughts of the world's best thinkers, and the accumulated wisdom of the ages finally becomes his own. He strengthens and polishes every fibre of his intellect, his dull brain becomes brilliant with thought and he stands forth transformed.

The opportunity comes and he is equal to it. He bursts forth like a meteor, and his old associates are dazed. Some say it was a miracle, while others maintain that they always knew he was a genius—that behind the dull exterior they could detect the glow of intrinsic merit. He was a queer, quiet sort of boy, they say, but he had a superior intellect.

They are all wrong. Originally he was just what they considered him—a booby. He felt humiliated because of his dullness, and resolved to pay the price of intellectual superiority—hard work. He dedicated himself to his task and looked neither to the right nor to the left. He made everything subordinate to the one purpose of attaining knowledge, and he emerged from his obscurity with his brain burnished by the lustre of his labor. That is the whole story.

But all this is of no use to him unless he has imbibed the principles of honesty, and has formed lofty ideals of justice and fair play. No man can be called a success, no matter how remarkable his talents, or how much wealth he may accumulate, who is not also rich in integrity. To be a smooth rascal is just as bad as to be a low blackguard. No man can be successful in the true sense unless he succeeds in keeping his integrity.

For public men there is only one criterion of conduct—do what you believe to be right in the face of every temptation, and if power and place comes to you let it come as an expression of public confidence.

In business it is the same. Reliability—no misrepresentation—no trickery—are the principles that win. A false balance robs itself. Evil acts brings retribution as certainly as night follows day. And so it is that even industry is of no avail unless it is accompanied by the virtue of honesty. Get these and you have all.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

N. Seger is prepared to meet the wants of the people, and not only the wants but needs, and when our prices are in easy reach of anyone it is consistent that you give us your trade.

Letter to Geo. A. Walker.
Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: I am late president of the Croton River Bank, at Brewster, N. Y., built the finest house in all that region in 1884, and painted it with lead and oil at a cost of $400—the house cost $31,000.

In 1887—three years—he repainted it with Devoo at a cost of $350. In 1897 this paint was in good condition.

Lead and oil, $400, three years. Devoo $350, ten years.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOO & Co.
Mason Hill.

Prosperity.
Honest Joe.
And thus the vote will go.

Miss Lizzie Jordan has gone to St. Mary's.
Dr. Corbett visited his parents here Sunday.

Mrs. O. B. Tanner and youngest child are on the sick list.
Mrs. Russell, who has been sick for a long time, was rather worse last week.

Miss Ethel Barr will not resume her school on Mason Hill until after the Institute.

Elder W. Ingersoll, of your city, will preach for us this (Thursday) evening at the schoolhouse. Come everybody.

The reading of one of our items last week left the impression that diphtheria was prevailing on Mason Hill. In the case of Mrs. A. H. Barr it should have read Huston Hill, not Mason Hill. We are, as yet, free from the dreaded disease.

Mr. Delbert Marsh has passed through a very severe case of quinsy. His life was at one time despaired of; but, at this writing, is out of danger. During the attack Mr. Marsh was unable to talk for a whole week, and during that time took no nourishment whatever.

In the last issue of the Gazette there appeared a letter purporting to come from a Republican of this place. We can assure the readers of the Press that no Republican ever wrote such silly stuff. The trend of the letter is that Mr. Sibley is buying his way to Congress. The shallow-brained writer of that letter signs himself "Regular." He should have written it "Regular Democrat," and he would have had it just right. Just a word in regard to the sentence where he says "I am afraid Mr. Sibley will lose the soldiers' vote," etc. There is not the least danger of such an event. Out of five soldiers on Mason Hill, Sibley will get the votes of four; the fifth will vote for Emery, and his ignorance accounts for his doing so—he can neither read nor write. Why should a soldier vote against his own interests? Everything on the statute books favorable to the soldier is of Republican origin, signed by Republican Presidents. On the contrary, the Democrats have been the relentless enemy of everything looking to the welfare of the aged or infirm veterans of the late war. Therefore, I say vote for the party that is a true friend of the soldier, and not for a party that would take away every pension if it were possible. **

AND YOU ARE BOUND TO REAP GOOD RESULTS, LOOK OUT FOR
"JUST AS GOOD FOODS"
and imitations of Pratt's.

Get the Genuine. We are legitimate agents. Did you ever know an imitation to be as good as the article it imitates?

HERE ARE A FEW REASONS why you ought to feed Pratt's Food.

It makes hens lay early and continue laying regularly throughout the cold winter months; it fattens quickly the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's turkeys; it makes them grow larger and they are better eating.

It makes hog-killing time profitable, because the pigs fatten faster and are much larger than ordinary fed hogs, and as they are kept free from disease their meat in consequence is far more juicy and tender.

It helps cows during changeable weather from summer to fall. It increases the milk during the cold weather; it produces more butter and fattens cattle for killing, rapidly.

It helps horses during the fall and winter weather; it cures and prevents coughs, colds, pneumonia, &c., &c.

Sheep are better able to stand the test of fall and winter, they grow larger and their meat has a better flavor. A sheep in good condition always produces more and better wool.
