Wine Making in Portugal.

In great emergency when all the men are demanded in the vineyards, women are called to assist in wine treading. Our correspondent saw young women wear-ing their own garments which they skilfully gather up around them until they assume the biggest and most abbreviated of Dutchman's "britchen" costumes, while in the

The Port Wine from Speer's Vineyards beats the world for its valuable medicinal qualities. None put on the market now, until nine years old. # A scientific man in Rome has just been conducting a very practical ex-periment. All this time, since the long skirt came into fashion, doctors have been talking microbes, and warning women of their evil ways. But has any one thought to put a gown under a microscope and give visible proof of the truth of what he has been saying ? Not a soul except this learned scientist in Rome. He employed three young women to take their long skirts out on a microbe-collecting expedition. When they returned, after doing their duty thoroughly and well, he took the three garments to his laboratory and gave them a searching investigation. He found all the microbes of those three skirts were found to be sufficient to contaminate the whole population of China, and it is more than 450,000,000. Yet the number of these microbes were no greater than each of us bring into the house every time we go out in that article of attire with death in its train. The wonder is that we manage to live at all.—Philadelphia Press. The Census of 1900.
