EDITORIAL OPINION.

Emperor William's effort to keep the newspapers from printing his remarks shows that he is not entirely lost to all sense of the ridiculous.

Tammany is said to be very angry over Josiah Flynt's revelations in regard to the dishonesty of its New York government. Yet there's nothing new about this.

Before very long, New York expects to do away with the horse cars in her streets, thus following the example of every ten-cent town in the country.

A Missouri man owns a rope with which nine negroes have been lynched. Presumably, it might be well if a jury would get him on his own string.

It's hard to cipher out the rights and wrongs as between valet Jones and lawyer Patrick, but the jury is likely to make little mistake in holding a double necktie party.

The circulation of the Commoner in the east has fallen to nothing. Every bookstore has piles of unsold copies; but few take the trouble to order new ones. So with all freak publications.

While Mr. Johnson is waiting for other cities to adopt three cent street car fares, he might begin by giving them to Johnstown, Pa., where he owns the entire street car system.

Now Indianapolis is having bad boys whipped instead of fining their parents. It is to be hoped this example will be followed, no matter what weak-kneed sentimentality may say in opposition.

Southern Democrats declare that the next nomination must come east though they are willing to take a middle west man in the second place. Still, when the candidate, whoever he may be, will be soon done for, it seems a question what he is to be begun for.

This trust question will solve itself sooner or later. When the present consolidation mania has gone so far as to organize the universal trust—and few can doubt that it will go that far in time—who questions that the people will simply confiscate the whole thing and run it as a co-operative company?

It is difficult to see what the Boer leaders hope to gain in their suit in New Orleans to prevent the dispatch of mules thence to South Africa. It has long been an axiom that no neutral trade that is allowable in peace is prohibited in war, although it may be subject to confiscation by a belligerent.

Oom Paul says that the British have exaggerated the number of the Boers, in order to save themselves from the humiliation of admitting how small a number has been holding them at bay. However, it is more reasonable to account for it by the universal tendency to exaggerate the number of one's opponents.

ALL AROUND THE COUNTY.

Beechwood.
Editor Press:—
E. Bush is working at St. Marys. George Geswender is visiting relatives here.
Wonder what has become of Andy's ghost?

Miss Gregory of Emporium and Mrs. Fischer of Howard attended church here Sunday evening.

Since so many of our young people have married of late, people are beginning to inquire: Who next?
Mrs. Charles McLaughlin is seriously ill at this writing. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

Lenton season being over our society people are making up for lost time, judging from the number of dances.
Quite a number of our young men attended the "hop" at Rathbun, Saturday night and returned home loaded with "pleasure."

Messrs. Winfield Andrews and George Curtis came up and took in the dance Saturday night. They report having a good time.
The Rev. Ployer, of the M. E. Church preached his first sermon here Sunday evening. He is a gentleman of pleasing address and it is hoped that his efforts will be appreciated and rewarded by the upbuilding of the church and much good being done.

CRITIC

Cameron.

Elmer McManus, an employee of Frank Lockwood, was seriously injured last week. He was assisting two other men to roll a log, when the log took a sudden start and caught McManus, breaking his leg in two places. Hopes are entertained for his recovery. Much credit is due Messrs. W. W. and Sam Lewis and Frank Lockwood for their kind assistance.

MAGGIE.

Wyside.
Editor Press:—
Pap Blodgett says he has full faith in the ground hog.

It is too bad Cash, but she may come back some day.
The big mill made a big cut of lumber last Saturday.

Barclay Bro's have their drive in—came on Saturday.
The Sunday fishermen did not report their catch of trout.

Your choice of fresh fish here Friday—shad and suckers.
A slide on the railroad caused the log train to lay out one night last week.

John Lightner is erecting a dwelling house for D. McCall at Enterprise.
Wm. Lytle took a bath in the log pond last week. He says the water is a little cool.

The Sinnamahoning band was out a few nights ago and rendered some fine music.
The Sinnamahoning band is getting along fine under the instructions of Prof. Fulton.

H. L. Drum is building a large dwelling house for Haynes Bro's at Arksill, First Fork.
The few warm days last week thawed out our farmers and now they are plowing their oat fields.

J. V. Strayer and the Logue Bro's made a big catch of suckers at the dam one night last week.
The S. L. C. are waiting for the weather to warm up a little and when it does, look out for some big ones.

A base ball club is being talked of now and we may expect to have an aggregation of that nature in the near future.
H. B. Lightner has purchased the stock from J. V. Strayer and rented the P. O. S. of A. building and is running a first-class grocery.

The poison fiend is getting in his work in this end of the county. Several dogs and cats have been poisoned and a valuable cow belonging to Coleman Johnson.
Several parties were out fishing for trout last week but the water was too high for good fishing. Now that the 15th has arrived law abiding citizens can also try their luck.

Trains commenced running on the Northern Susquehanna last Monday, to connect with morning trains east and west and afternoon train east, one the P. & E. R. R.

J. V. Hanscomb and Alex. DeShetler had a bad scare a few nights ago. Alex. said it was a cow in distress but on investigation it proved to be the "sweet" notes of the bass horn.

The mill made lumber out of 105 logs between five and six o'clock Saturday afternoon. The boom broke, which was the cause of the extra hour. John Logue got scared for fear the whistlerope had broken and he would have to stay all night.

MASON HILL.

Editor Press:—
Mr. Drains Ives was seen on our street Sunday.

Mrs. Chas Williams is on the sick list this week.

Our neighbors have been troubled already with forest fires burning their fences and destroying their lumber.

Mr. Walter Barr and sister Ethel and Miss Madge Miller took in the lecture at Driftwood last Saturday night, reporting a good time.

AMERICAN GIRL.

(From another Correspondent)
The many news items from correspondents appearing in the Press from week to week shows in what high esteem it is held.
The anglers are after the speckled beauties. Charlie Barr and Leslie English were out on Monday and made a nice catch.

Elder Ebersole preached for us last Sunday, using for his subject "The Resurrection," which he presented to the satisfaction of all present.
Dr. William Jordan Hicks of Huntley is visiting on the Hill, this week, and spinning some of his many big yarns. He is a captain.

L. B. Russell, last Saturday, had the misfortune to cut his great toe nearly off, the bone being severed. C. M. Bailey took him to Driftwood where Dr. Dailey dressed the wound.

And withall they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also, and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. Young man take warning. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Huston Hill.
Editor Cameron County Press:—
F. C. Williams is visiting friends at Medix Run this week.

What was that young lady shaking her fist about, last Saturday?
Send me the name of that man who wants to bet one dollar that Hicks won't move.

Miss Ethel Barr, the Huston Hill school teacher, visited her mother over Sunday.
Miss Lulu Williams left last Saturday for DuBois, where she expects to spend the summer.

Not much news this week, as Huston Hill is neutral, awaiting until we get our spring work done. Then look out.

We guess that man did not have them as fast as he thought he did when he said "we have them now." How easy they slipped away.

GUESS.
