

Great Britain cannot complain of her success in getting into bondage.

Poor King Eddie! What a change it must be for him from the free and easy days when he was one of the boys.

It would be like the Ohio Democrats to run Tom Johnson for governor on a three-cent fare platform. Ohio Democrats are given to three cent issues.

Mr. Towne seems really heart broken over Aguinaldo's defection from the anti-Republican cause. It is pretty hard on Towne's business, after all.

Possibly Great Britain may find that South Africa is a sort of gold brick after all. Certainly, it can hardly be worth what it has already cost.

Mr. Ripley of Kentucky has been acquitted, the jury evidently being of the opinion that his was merely a plain case of too much gab.

A Methodist minister has protested against the admittance of ministers to sick rooms, saying that their solemn countenances usually cause relapses in the patients. Shouldn't wonder if this were so.

The British bonds sold readily at 97 1/2; at the same time, however, American bonds essentially similar were selling for 112, this difference measuring with sufficient accuracy the variation between the credit of the two countries.

The much talked-of commercial war of Europe against the United States is almost inevitable sooner or later if we go on invading their markets and taking away their trade. Self preservation will compel it. Starvation will compel it.

Philadelphia isn't so slow, after all. A physician there has sent in a bill of $190,000 for attending a millionaire in his last illness. We should like to know what he wouldn't have charged if he had saved him.

Republicans will do well to take to heart Representative Babcock's demand for the abolition of the tariff on goods that are made cheaper here than they can be abroad. This is likely to be an issue in the next Presidential election, and the Republicans want to be on the right side of it.

The financial center of the world is rapidly shifting from London to New York, just as the commercial supremacy of the world is shifting from Europe to America. It is a magnificent future that this country has before it in the century just beginning.

Filth, it has been proved, does not cause yellow fever directly. It does serve, however, to breed mosquitos which do propagate the disease. Therefore, the abolition of the filth goes a long way towards eradicating the evil. But destruction of mosquitos would go a good deal further.

British farmers are kicking because their government buys its horses in the United States instead of at home. The reason, however, is plain. British farms cannot begin to supply the demand without absolutely denuding the country. Our British cousins must get a move on in this as in other particulars.

Naturally, in adopting and defending principles at variance with those held by the bulk of his party, Senator McLaurin must have expected opposition. His opponents, however, do themselves no credit by making coarse personal attacks on him and letting his arguments pass unanswered. But perhaps that is the best they can do.

A certain old bachelor is not so slow as he might be. He took two of our young ladies to a party Friday night and because they would not go to supper with him, he made them walk home—about nine miles. Of course the road was good between Warner's and where they lived. Did you count the telegraph poles?

Miss Ethel Barr's school closed last Monday. Her work was very satisfactory to all, parents as well as pupils. She is an excellent young lady.

Wonder what all that loud talking in Williams' field, last Thursday night meant? Had it been earlier in the week might have thought it thunder.

If some of our people who pretend to be such good Christians would do more praying and less talking we would have less disturbance in our neighborhood.

[Yes, for goodness sake let up and give ye editor a rest. Huston Hill will soon take the premium from Moore Hill.—EDITOR.] W. L. C.

Where We Stand To-day.

Let us look back and consider what we would have been—what would have become of this country—if policies advocated by the Democratic party during the last thirty years had been adopted! The nation would have been dismembered. If that had been escaped, by wild and chimerical financial policies we would have been bankrupt.

Look back and see where the adoption of Democratic policy would have led us. Look where we stand to-day.—Albany Evening Journal.

The Harrisburg Telegraph quotes Gov. Stone as saying that he is anxious to wind up his term by harmonizing party differences and having the right kind of majority rule recognized. "If the people think," added the governor, "that by the appointment of Major A. M. Brown I have simply performed a factional deal, they will find themselves mightily mistaken in the man. There is a time for all things. The time for vicious fighting is rapidly passing, and sensible political harmony, so far as it is compatible with honest and economical government, is the proper remedy for the conditions in Pittsburg. That is what I want to see accomplished."

This signature is on every box of the genuine E. W. Grove's Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day.

The Republican Policy.

There is a difference between the two political parties. The Republicans do want to govern the markets of the world, and to reign over the distribution of the world's bread and meat, securing in this way work at home for every honest laborer, markets for the products of our farms, and becoming such a factor in the world that will compel peace and justice among the nations of the earth. It is the policy which will hasten that blessed time promised by the prophet of old when the sword shall be beaten into plowshares and the spear into pruning hooks. It is the Republican policy.—Freeport (Ill.) Journal.

Letter to J. H. Day, Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: You sell a good many things by the gallon. Being a decent man, you give full measure. You know what we mean; you know that short weight and short measure are common among—well, we hope there are no short measures and weights in your town.

There are, though. Ribbons and laces and trimmings, sold by the "dozen," measure nine or ten yards. There is no complaint, because "they all do it." You have the same plague in your goods—nearly everything canned or bottled, cheats in the quantity. Almost nobody gives full weight in a factory package!

We are one of the almost nobodies. We sell paint, by the gallon, to paint your house; and our gallon is just the same size as yours that you measure vinegar with—231 cubic inches. Good point too—Devoe lead and zinc—weighs twice as long as old-fashion painter's paint—lead and oil.

You own a house. That's why we are writing to you. Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co.

EXCURSION NOTICES.

Ready for Buffalo's Show.

It would hardly occur to a resident of this locality that the severity of the winter prohibits the work of the railroad section gang in a region so near as Western New York. But such is the fact. From Thanksgiving Day to April Fool's Day, or thereabouts, the pick and shovel of the section laborer is securely locked in the toolhouse, and the track repairer finds other work.

The snow and frost have yielded now to the gentle warmth of the sun, and the gang is out again preparing the roadbed for the great traffic of the Summer.

On the western end of the Pennsylvania Railroad's new route to Buffalo new and heavier rails are being laid, and additional ballast is being placed. The entire line is dotted with workmen substituting new cross-ties, placing the new rails and chinking in the ballast that makes the roadway solid.

The bridges are likewise receiving a share of attention, and the physical condition of the line is undergoing a general overhauling. The operating officials anticipate a heavy increase in traffic during the Pan-American Exposition, and they are placing the line in the best form to accommodate the heavier and multiplied number of fast trains.

At the Buffalo Terminal, Exchange Street, additional trackage has been laid and a number of repairs and improvements have been made for the better handling of the increased through and local traffic.

It is said that the trains specially destined to the exposition will be run through to the station on the exposition grounds and started from that point on the return trip; but even if this is not done, the trains of the Belt Line run at frequent intervals and connect the exposition grounds with every quarter of the city and the principal railroad station.

The Pennsylvania Railroad officials report already a gratifying increase in traffic since the inauguration of the new line between Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Buffalo.—Philadelphia Press, April 19, 1901.
