EDITORIAL MENTION.
Has the author of "How to write a Novel" ever succeeded in getting one of his effusions accepted?

What's the use of catching Pat Crowe? The jury can be depended upon to stand in with him and let him go free.

London is to have an automobile fire engine. Of course, it is of a type invented and manufactured in the United States.

What may be called the correspondence stage of the Philippine rebellion has begun. Aguineldo is learning to use the typewriter.

Of course, the government is crumbling. It may even be asserted that the present administration will not last longer than March 4, 1905.

An Englishman who went to a minstrel show in New York, recently had to be carried home in a fit. The minstrel jokes were too much for him.

Webster Davis has purchased a Missouri mule farm. We sincerely hope that he will not sell his mules to the British for export to South Africa.

The Japanese in Hawaii are likely to become a serious menace to the well-being of those islands. In four years, they have increased from one-fifth to two-fifths of the whole and the end is not yet.

Whatever fool mistakes Tesla may have made, the fact remains that to him is due the success of electrical transmission—at Buffalo from Niagara, and now for 140 miles in California from the Yuba river to Oakland.

The first oil well struck in Texas sent a spout 200 feet into the air and wasted several hundred thousand barrels of oil before it could be plugged. No wonder the people there are excited over the find.

Prof. Langley, of the Smithsonian, has discovered why it gets hot and cold. Now it ought to be a comparatively simple matter to learn how to change the temperature at will.

There are said to be 23 states that will resist the annexation of Cuba for personal reasons arising out of the competition of Cuban products with home products. This objection, however, might have been urged against any and all parts of the present union.

The next Congress should take immediate action on the reciprocity treaties, refusing to be longer bound by the selfish wishes of a few one-horse states, entrenched with equal powers in the Senate. The Republican party favors reciprocity and is pledged to it, and it must keep its pledge—for self interest, if for no other reason.

Since the mosquito theory of malaria was generally accepted, large areas in Italy, which have been absolutely uninhabitable in summer, have been made healthful by the universal adoption of screens, net covered porches, etc., and the mortality in them has been reduced to less than one-fourth to what it was.

In his tour, President McKinley has taken occasion to warn the people that they should prepare for the hard times that are certain to come sooner or later. For instance, if the west is drained of money to speculate in New York, what will happen when the crops must be moved if the money that should do it is engrossed in sustaining a falling market in Wall street.

For Female Complaints and diseases arising from an impure state of the blood Lichty's Celery Nerve Compound is an invaluable specific. Sold by L. Taggart.

QUAY RECEPTION WILL BE GREAT.

Widespread Interest Manifested in the Coming Demonstration.

PHILADELPHIANS ARE LIBERAL.

A Disposition to Yield to the Sentiment in the Country For a Continuance of the State Capital at Harrisburg.

(Special Correspondence.) Philadelphia, May 7.—From the number of inquiries being received by the officers of the State League of Republican Clubs there is going to be a great gathering in this city on the occasion of the reception and dinner to United States Senator Matthew Stanley Quay on the 14th inst. The chances are that they will have to stop receiving subscriptions to the dinner earlier than was anticipated, as the capacity of Horticultural Hall will be too small to accommodate all those who wish to attend.

The reception, which will be given on the same evening in the Academy of Music, will be one of the most brilliant and interesting functions ever held in this state. Arrangements have been made for the distribution of the private boxes, so that the wives and other female relatives and friends of the party leaders can have a chance to witness the spectacle and listen to the eloquence of those who have been invited to address the immense throng which is sure to be there.

Besides Senators Quay and Penrose, among those who will make addresses are Governor Stone, President Moore, of the State League of Republican Clubs, and other well known Republicans. These speeches will be made in the Academy of Music. While the dinner is being served in the adjoining hall there will be a musical entertainment given in the Academy, for which a very attractive program has been arranged. Information regarding cards of admission to the reception can be had by addressing J. Hampton Moore, care of City Hall, Philadelphia, and about subscriptions to the dinner from J. Martin Rommel, Betz Building, Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA NOT ENVIOUS. It is becoming evident that upon sober second thought many Philadelphians believe a mistake would be made if the bill were passed for the removal of the state capital from Harrisburg to Philadelphia.

"There is no particular reason why there should be a change from Harrisburg to Philadelphia," says the Philadelphia Inquirer. "In these days of rapid railroad trains Philadelphia is as easily reached from all parts of the state as is Harrisburg, and this city would welcome the legislature, should it come here and erect a fine building. But Harrisburg has been the capital for many years, the interest of its citizens are largely involved in that fact, and to change the site would be a great hardship resulting in considerable pecuniary losses to them. It is much better to let the capital remain where it is."

"But one thing is certain. Pennsylvanians do not care to put up with a barn for a capitol building. They have got pride enough to demand that their state shall hold up its head with the best of them. A start has been made upon the new building. It is true that it is as yet a mere shell, but this shell is composed of iron and fire brick, and is indestructible. What is needed is to give the rough brick exterior a face of granite or of marble, to add on wings, clear out all the temporary stairways and flimsy committee room furnishings, and to turn out a completed fire proof structure.

"The plans for the building are known to all those who have taken the trouble to look into Small's Handbook. The picture of the building as it will look when completed is familiar, and there has been no attempt that has amounted to anything to call the architectural plans into question. For $5,000,000 a noble structure of which the entire state can be proud can be provided, and this sum the senate has agreed to.

"As a matter of fact, there is no particular opposition to the expenditure of this amount, but a lot of insurgents who feel that it is incumbent upon them to raise a racket about everything oppose the bill because under it the governor is to name the commissioners who are to superintend the building operations. THE STATE MISREPRESENTED. Every patriotic Pennsylvanian must deplore the latest contemptible tactics of the insurgent newspapers in seeking to create the impression that the interests of Pennsylvania are being neglected at the Buffalo exposition. The facts are that a commission of some of the most representative men of the state has been appointed, an appropriation of $35,000 has been made and there is already under way and nearing completion a magnificent state building located in one of the most attractive sections of the exposition grounds. The building will be the headquarters of Pennsylvanians who visit the exposition, and they will have every reason to be proud of their state in the character of the building, its appointments and the general display that will be made.

Letter to Thos. Gallagher. Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: Paint is one of the things that Railroad Companies know all about. Do you know what "all about" means? It means, in paint, where to get it.

We sell the paint for two-thirds of the cars and stations and bridges and everything else, that railroad men want to keep good-looking and sound, all over the country.

A man who wants a gallon or two of paint knows nothing about it; buys whatever is handy, or gets some painter to "make" it.

A Railroad Company asks its chemist: "which is the best?"

The cheapest thing, to preserve or beautify anything with, is paint. So the whole world is painted; except, of course, the part of it owned by poor slow folks.

And the paint they use is people's intelligence-meter; or ignorance-meter; tells how much or how little they know. Lead and zinc is the paint, because it wears twice as long.

Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co.
