Rev. J. H. McAdam.
On Sunday, July 21, the members of the Holy Rosary Church very becomingly observed the 21st anniversary of the ordination of their dearly beloved pastor, the Rev. J. H. McAdam.
Immediately after the celebration of last Mass, Mr. William Dillon on behalf of the congregation presented the Rev. Father with a solid silver, gold plated chalice, a masterpiece of the silversmith's art, as a slight token of the high esteem in which they held him as pastor and teacher. So completely overcame was the reverend gentleman at this kind manifestation of love and regard, that for the nonce he was wholly at a loss for suitable terms with which to express his gratitude. On regaining his composure, in a few well-timed words, he thanked the donors for their grand gift, and gave them to understand that he would never use the sacred vessel in the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice that he would not make a commemoration of them and that he never would be unmindful of them to his dying day.

The committee in charge of the presentation intended to have the chalice ready for the Fourth of July on which day, 1880, Father McAdam was raised to the sacred ministry by the late Rt. Rev. Tobias Mullen, at Erie, Pa.; but owing to their inability to obtain the article desired, they were obliged to postpone the ceremony to the anniversary of his advent here.
During the Rev. Father's three years pastorate here, he has labored so earnestly and zealously for the spiritual and temporal welfare of his flock, that he has had the consolation of seeing his charge prosper and flourish to such an extent that it is one of the largest in town.
By his uniform kindness and courtesy to all irrespective of class, creed or color, the Rev. Father has endeared himself to the community at large, and the writer feels safe in saying that it is their heartfelt wish that he may be spared to celebrate many delightful returns of the joyous occasion.
Johnsonburg, Pa., July 22, 1901.

Wire Window Screens Needed.
The guests of the Warner House were treated to a first class midwinter-midsummer melodrama on Saturday. The scene was laid in the spacious crimson and gold dining room, which, despite the glaring brightness of a July afternoon, was converted into a very successful imitation of a steam-heated winter evening by lighting the gas, after excluding every wandering breeze, and ray of sunshine. The furnace effect was so admirable that one man fainted while attempting to jerk open a window shutter. The maids retained sufficient presence of mind to telephone to the office that a daring instance of aggressiveness had been committed; and the Prince of the Register speedily rode to the rescue on his bike. Making a bee-line for the half enclosed shutter, he was on the point of closing it when a lady managed to gasp:
"Pray, do order in individual foot stoves."
Mr. Hurteau is a polite gentleman, really and truly a polite gentleman; and touched by the evident distress of the person making the plea, he retired without fully accomplishing his purpose.
At this moment the automobile of the leading actor was heard rumbling hastily through the corridors. Springing from his vehicle ere it had ceased to puff forth volumes of steam, he closed that refractory shutter with a cast iron air that left no doubt of his determination to conquer flies, even if the guests were killed in the attempt. And sighing for a "lodge in a garden of cucumbers," they accepted the inevitable.

A FLY WITNESS.
In feeble condition, Dr. Heilman informs the Press that H. R. Dodge, who several months ago was stricken with paralysis, is very poorly, at his home on Four Mile. The old veteran is a great sufferer.

THE FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

Elaborate Preparations are Perfected.

A LARGE TIME IS ANTICIPATED.
Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 14th, 15th and 16th will be a big three days sport in Emporium. For months the several committees have been laboring zealously to make the reception to the hundreds of visiting firemen up to the highest expectations, and an elaborate program has been perfected for the entertainment of the delegates, firemen and all who come to Emporium.
The first day's work will commence on Wednesday, at 2 p. m., when the delegates and members of the Association will convene at the Court House, elect officers and name place of meeting for 1902. An evening session of the Association will be held at same place at 8 p. m., to perfect the plans for the following two days sport, when the Association will adjourn to the opera house where a Banquet will be served the delegates, members of the Association and invited guests. The Banquet will be served by the Ladies Guild of Emmanuel Church and no doubt it will be an elaborate spread. On Thursday, at 1 p. m., the big parade will take place, composed of over one thousand firemen, exclusive of Emporium department. Union City, Warren, Kane, Ridgway, Bradford City Paid Department, Port Allegany, Coudersport, Renovo and other companies have responded to the call. The great Firemen's Ball will be held at the opera house this evening and it is expected to be largely attended.
On Friday, commencing at ten o'clock, the Prize Drills for cash prizes will take place. At two o'clock the hose, hub and hook and ladder races will take place, also for cash prizes.
Band stands will be erected and concert music will be rendered by Repaz and Emporium Bands. The Cunningham farm, west of Emporium has been secured for base ball games, the dates and time to be announced in the near future. This pleasant location will be entered from Riverside Park, over the bridge at foot of Broad street, thus obviating the crossing of the railroad bridge, which will be forbidden.
Hackett's Island, south of the grist mill, has been leased and a good racing track has been made, where all contests will take place.
The Press hopes to lay before the public a full program at an early date. All visitors who may come to Emporium can rest assured that they will be well cared for.

Handsome Walk.
John F. Parsons, Esq., is completing one of the handsomest stone walks, in front of his residence and store, ever laid in Emporium. It is of Ohio flag stone and should last a life time.

Emmanuel Church Notices.
The annual picnic of Emmanuel Sunday school will be held on Thursday, August 8th, in the grove on the lower side of the new road opposite the Pines.
Until Sept. 1st, there will be no sermon at the Sunday evening service.

Automobile Tourists.
Two New Jersey gentlemen, Mr. Elwood C. Potter and a Mr. Frost, of Vineland, N. J., came to Emporium last Monday from Buffalo with an automobile. They remained here over night and then started east for home. Mr. A. Brady and Mr. J. L. Wheeler enjoyed a ride with them as far as Cameron.

Serious Freight Wreck.
About four o'clock last Tuesday morning a serious freight wreck occurred about two miles east of Sterling Run, wrecking about fifteen cars and delaying all trains until noon. No one injured. The Buffalo Flyer, due here at 4:20 a. m., was taken around via Du Bois and Ridgway, arriving here about 9 a. m., four hours late. The wreck was caused by the bursting of the air brake hose.

Ample Accommodations.
Visiting firemen and others who may visit Emporium during the Firemen's Convention will have no trouble to secure comfortable accommodations. The committees have been actively at work for months and nothing has been left undone to make all visitors comfortable. Emporium is noted for its hospitality and during the days of Firemen's week it will be no exception. Be sure and come to Emporium, Aug. 14th, 15th, and 16th.

Close Call.
Last Sunday morning, about one o'clock, while Martin Lyden, a woodsman, was walking down the P. & E. track he was struck by an approaching freight train, being thrown about forty feet. It is a miracle that the man was not ground to pieces. He was carried to the Commercial Hotel and Dr. A. W. Baker called, who found the man was injured internally, severely cut and bruised about the legs, but no bones broken. The injured man's brother, who resides at Austin, was telegraphed for and he arrived on Sunday night. The injured man was taken to Austin hospital on Monday.

A Presumptuous Assumption.
To the Editor Cameron County Press:
A few months ago there was an undignified controversy in the local papers between two correspondents who signed themselves "Taxpayer" and "Heavy Taxpayer," respectively. I know nothing of the identity of the correspondents, nor have I any recollection of the particular matter discussed; but I do wish to protest against an unwarranted assumption that lay back of some of their appeals, and evidently determined the choice of their pseudonyms. It is the assumption that one's right to be heard upon any subject relating to public policies and measures is in proportion to the amount of his tax bill. It is the assumption that the municipality is a sort of stock company, and, as in a stock company, the holders vote according to the number of their shares, so in the municipality the heavy taxpayer should be allowed a voice in proportion to the relative amount of his tax bill. It is easy to see whether this assumption leads both in logic and practice. The constitution gives to all, without regard to wealth, an equal right of suffrage, and its intent, therefore, is to shut out the stock company idea of voting from the political sphere. But the man of wealth, who from his experience in business, can scarcely think of any other than the stock company idea, is in danger of regarding himself as entirely justified if he circumvents the intent of the constitution and translates his wealth into terms of political influence through means of bribery or intimidation.
There is no doubt are poor men who are so lacking in true public spirit and view, so irresponsible in character or so actuated by the spirit of malice and envy, that they will vote in favor of a municipal burden simply because it will be a heavy one to some one else, and only a trifling one to themselves. But it is an unwarranted assumption to imply that responsibility is the peculiar attribute of money. There is only one kind of responsibility that has any substantial quality and that is the responsibility of character.
A man's right to be heard upon matters of public concern does not depend upon his wealth, but upon his character and intelligence; and his word should extend no farther than these and the merits of his views will reach.
J. M. ROBERTSON.
Emporium, Pa., July 24, 1901.

Literary Prize Contest.
Question No. 7 has received several correct answers. The responses in substance as follows:
Homer, the great epic poet of Greece His birthplace being unknown, various cities claimed the honor, and "Seven Grecian cities contended for a Homer dead, wherein the living Homer begged his bread."
Query No. 8.—"Who is the author of the quotation "Magnanimity in politics is not seldom the truest wisdom, and a great empire and little minds go ill together?"
Send in your answers to box 163, Emporium, Pa., and get the prize offered by the Emanuel Free Reading-room.

Registered Pharmacist.
At a recent meeting of the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board, held at Williamsport, July 16th, one of our popular and deserving young men, E. W. Yeagle, Ph. G. B. S., now employed in Hon. L. Taggart's drug store, was an applicant for a permanent certificate. We are informed that he passed a very creditable examination and will be granted a certificate of registration. Mr. Yeagle stood well in a class of two hundred.

On Deck Again.
The Sinnamahoning Liars' Club will be in working order again within a few days. The club sent Isaac Bowen up in a balloon last fourth to look up the boy that climbed the corn stalk in Kansas five weeks ago. Martin reported the boy found and he will be back within six weeks. FIVE.
Plenty of Snakes.
Andrew Vogt, while picking berries on Canoe Run, last Monday, ran into a den of monster rattle snakes. Andrew is usually death to the reptiles but after getting away with two five footers and four more showed fight he made for home. The woods are fairly alive with snakes and children and ladies should not be allowed to "berry" unless accompanied by men.
Burned to Death.
A five year old boy of Harrison Smokey, of Dents Run, was burned to death on Saturday afternoon. The boy had gone in the barn to light a fire cracker, and in the attempt to light the same the hay caught fire and in a few minutes the barn was a heap of ashes. The boy was seen by three or four harvest hands, to pick up a fire cracker and go into the barn, but no danger was apprehended in this, until a minute later, when the barn was a mass of flames and burned like so much powder. Interment was made in the Hicks Run cemetery on Sunday afternoon.
Don't forget the "Fair" on the 31st. Come and bring your friends.
