A NATIONAL EVIL.

The Crime of Perjury Is Terribly

in Iowa Jurist Delivers a Sensation al Speech to Members of the State Bar Association — Justice Hides Her Face Because of Shame.

Council Bluffs, Ia., July 17 .- President J. J. McCarthy made startling statements regarding the prevalence statements regarding the prevalence of perjury in American courts of justice in his address to the Iowa State Bar association at its annual meeting in this city yesterday.

"Is it true," Mr. McCarthy asked, "that perjury is committed in judicial proceedings? I need take no time for discussion of this inquiry before a representative bar association. It will not do to credit all false statements to lack of memory. false statements to lack of memory, visionary exaggeration, inability to see and understand things correctly. lies, imaginary delusions and such like.

"Where is there a lawyer who has not seen the guilty criminal pass out of the court room acquitted and set free because of perjury? What one of us but what has seen the rights of persons and of property sacrificed and trampled under foot, presumably under due form of law, but really by the use of corrupt, false and some-times purchased testimony? "These are the things that beget distrust and disrespect for the courts and for verdicts, and for our boasted of the court room acquitted and set and for verdicts, and for our boasted forms of law. These are the things that produce anarchy, lynching and invite a just contempt as well as a lack of confidence in those tribunals called courts of justice.

"One judge of long experience upon the bench writes me that, in his opinion, about half of all the evidence reion, about hair of all the evidence re-ceived on behalf of the defense in criminal cases is false. Another judge of equally high repute writes that he believes 75 per cent. of the evidence offered in divorce cases ap-

"Another writes that perjury is committed in a majority of important lawsuits and that the crime is rapidly increasing.

"In short, with reference to the prevalence of perjury the time has come when, in the words of another, justice must wear a veil, not that she may be impartial, but that she may hide her face for shame.

"Some tell us that the crime is committed mostly in the police and pet thy courts, where as a rule the witnesses belong to the vicious classes. But the fact remains that it is committed in other courts and by men professing high station in society, church and state.

church and state.

"Who can blame a poor outcast of society for false swearing, when presumably reputable citizens do the same thing? Why do we expend time and money in prosecuting some poor tramp for stealing an overcoat to keep him from freezing, when the wrecker of a bank, the despoiler of a home, the taker of human life, or the embezzler of thousands goes unembezzler of thousands goes un-whipped of justice?

"Why should a nation or a state cry out against discriminations, trusts, combinations and 'watered' stocks, when the very crime that makes them possible is passed un-noticed? Why does the press of a country write volumes on the consti-tion following the flag, when the sanctity of an oath that gives both the flag and the constitution real significance is almost ignored."

The City Must Pay. Decatur, Ill., July 17 .-- The City of Decatur yesterday compromised $15,000 suit of Mrs. Anna Hatfield for $7,500, making about $14,000 that will be paid because a number of boys had a private telegraph line across a street. Mrs. Hatfield is maimed for life and James Lee was killed while playing in Lee's yard. A storm broke the wire and it fell, partly in the yard and partly on a trolley wire. The courts held that the city allowed the wire, a dangerous element, to remain in the street and was liable. The cases were without precedent.

CONDEMNS THE PLATFORM.

Hon. W. J. Bryan Comments on the Work of the Ohio Democratic Convention. Lincoln, Neb., July 16.—In extended comment on the platform adopted by the Ohio democratic convention, W. J. Bryan criticises the convention for its failure to reaffirm the Kansas City platform and for what he regards as the weakness of some of the planks it did adopt. Mr. Bryan insists that the convention made a mistake in making himself an issue and says:

making himself an issue, and says: "Mr. Bryan is not a candidate any office, and a mention of him might have been construed by some as an indorsement of him for office. The vote should have been upon the naked proposition to endorse the platform of last year, and then no one could have excused his abandonment of democratic principles by pleading his dislike for Mr. Bryan."

Referring to the platform he con-tinues: "The convention not only failed, but refused to endorse or reaffirm the Kansas City platform, and, from the manner in which the gold element has rejoiced over this feature of the convention, one would suppose that the main object of the convention was not to write a new platform, but to repudiate the one upon which last national campaign was "The gold papers assume that the convention refused to adopt the Kansas City platform because it contained a silver plank. If so, it would have been more courageous to have declared openly for the gold standard If the gold standard is good, it ought to have been endorsed—if bad, it ought to have been denounced. To ignore the subject entirely was inexcusable.

"The money question is not yet out of politics. Every session of congress will have to deal with it. Republicans declare that it is dead, but they keep working at it."

Mr. Bryan comments on parts of the platform, especially those refer-ring to state and municipal affairs. Referring to the senatorial fight and the reported candidacy of John R. McLean, he says:

"Did the leaders ignore the money question in order to please those who bolted. Or does Mr. McLean want to be left free to affiliate with the republicans on financial questions in case of his election?"

He concludes as follows: "If any of the Ohio democrats feel aggrieved because the reorganizing element of the party triumphed at the conven-tion let them not visit their disap-pointment on the state ticket, but rather see to the nominations of senators and representatives wno will select a trustworthy senator. Let them see to it also that the state platform is made at the primaries next time, rather than at the convention.

C. D. Graham Voyages Through the Whirlpool Rapids at Niagara Falls.

It is about five feet long, 19 inches in diameter at the foot and 26 inches at the head. With its 100 pounds of ballast it weighs 165 pounds. The start was made from Old Maid of the Mist Landing, below the falls. The barrel was caught in an eddy and aireled about a little above the centicircled about a little above the canti-lever bridge for a quarter of an hour, The stmonger current in the middle

The stronger current in the middle of the stream finally jerked it out of the eddy into the foaming waters of the rapids. Passing under the second bridge the barrel had a narrow escape from being dashed to pieces against the stone abutments of the bridge. The passage through the rapids was swift. It took the barrel five minutes to reach the eddy from the starting point and 20 minfrom the starting point and 20 min-utes to get out of it, but it took only 3½ minutes to pass through the rapids and the whirlpool, a distance of about a mile. At no time during the passage through the rapids was the barrel lost sight of. It was taken from the water after it had circled about in the whirlpool for a few min utes.

NEW FASTION IN DUELS.

t Paris Ladies are Among the Spectators and Police are Present to Preserve Order. A new departure in French duels has been taken. In the famous fight between an Italian maitre d'armes, Signor Pini, and M. Thomegeux, a well-known Paris amateur, they first set the fashion of a duel with a gal-lery. In the duel between Prince de Sagan and Abbe Hermant the photographer first came on the scene.

But it was reserved for the seensa-tional duel between M. Max Regis and M. Labardesque to bring half a dozen dadies on the seene, and to have a score of police keeping order outside the cycle track, where the duel was fought, and many inside inspecting the cards of the privileged spectators.

The duel, however, was not "pour rire." Of the half dozen encounters recently seen it was the one in which the two men meant business, and it was with a sigh of relief that the was with a sign of rener that the spectators saw the slight wound, in-inflicted by pure accident which put an end to the encounter.
