The thirty-fifth annual Teachers Institute of Cameron county convened at the Court House, Emporium, Pa., at 1:30 p. m., Oct. 14, 1901.

Devotional exercises by Rev. O. S. Metzler.

Music, Institute.
"Primary Methods in Music" were ably discussed by Prof. O. H. Yetter. He said in part: "Teach pupils to begin with the first word." "Sing for pupils, not with them."

Dr. J. R. Flickinger presented the subject of Civil Government, and gave an interesting talk on citizenship in which he said: "Impress upon the boys and girls the principle of patriotism, and teach them to appreciate and uphold the liberty and rights that we enjoy to-day, which have only been secured by the struggles and bloodshed of our ancestors."

INTERMISSION.

Music, Institute.
Prof. Frank Green gave a pleasing address on "My Book and I." In order to prevent a child from reading bad literature, introduce good literature in its stead. Select few books and master them. Read a book that will emphasize the beauty and cheerfulness of the world."

Music, Institute.
TUESDAY, OCT. 15—9:00 A. M.
Devotion exercises, Prof. C. P. Bastian.

Music, Institute.
Instruction in music continued by Prof. O. H. Yetter. The development and change of the musical scale was thoroughly explained.

Civil Government continued by Dr. Flickinger. Local Government discussed. Its importance emphasized since it deals more closely with the average citizen than does the general government.

INTERMISSION.

Music, Institute.
"Grinding Principles in teaching Language" were discussed by Prof. Green in which he developed the following principles:

- 1.—Teach the child to love the English language.
  - 2.—Begin at the right place and develop in the right way.
  - 3.—Make the study of the language a science and an art.
  - 4.—Train to use the simplest language.
  - 5.—Lead to clear conception.
  - 6.—Do not waste time in quibbling.
- The Physical Child by Prof. East Barnes. By means of charts Prof. Barnes illustrated the physical development of the child showing that the tallest and heaviest child of a certain age has the best chance to get on in the world. It was also shown how we may give the child a better physical development.

TUESDAY, P. M. 1:30.

Music, Institute.
Civil Government continued by Dr. Flickinger with special stress upon the Local Government of Pennsylvania. Prof. Barnes followed with an interesting discussion on the growth of personality in which he showed that the twelfth year of the child's life is the most dangerous in all the development of personality and should be abridged by those in charge of our children.

Prof. Green continued the subject of literature with a talk on how to know an author. He said: We only need to know those things about an author that will better enable us to understand his productions.

WEDNESDAY, 9:00 A. M.

Devotional Exercises, Rev. Robertson. Prof. Yetter continued the subject of music by giving us the history of the same, the first evidences of which were about the Christian era.

The subject of Civil Government was continued by Dr. Flickinger in which, from personal experience he threw much light on the law-making department of our State.

Miss Laura Embree Woodward delighted her audience with a very interesting talk on "Some Rafter Tenants."

The work in Psychology continued by Dr. Barnes, subject "The Imagining Child."

WEDNESDAY, P. M.

Miss Woodward took her audience through "A Delightful Autumn Afternoon," pointing out many things of interest on the way.

In an able address to the Directors Dr. Flickinger said in part: No officer in the county has a higher duty than the school director. Education consists of the development of all of man's nature. The discretionary power of a director is almost unlimited. Lead your district for if we wait until public opinion pushes us forward we shall never make any progress. Do not make criticisms in presence of the school.

Vocal Solo, Miss Frank Huntley.

INTERMISSION.
The Child in Art. Prof. Barnes. The early drawings of the child were presented by means of charts. Everything we do has a crude beginning. Encourage the child.

Prof. Ira Smith entertained the audience with several readings and impersonations.

THURSDAY, 9:00 A. M.

Devotional Exercises, by Rev. Robertson.

Music, Institute.
Prof. Yetter continued his work in music by showing how to teach music in an ungraded school.

Miss Woodward continues her nature work with a day in the fields after butter flies.

INTERMISSION.

The Thinking Child by Prof. Barnes. All education has two sides the Positive and Negative. You must discourage the bad and encourage the good.

THURSDAY, P. M.

History of Music was continued by Prof. Yetter in which he began with the Harp and Flute, the earliest musical instruments and traced their development to the present.

Miss Woodward continued with a story of a Tree, beginning with the way different seeds are distributed and continued throughout its entire growth.

Childrens Lies; Prof. Barnes showed that from the earliest history of the world a skillful liar has been much respected but says that we are gradually reverting from this idea and are having more regard for the truth.

FRIDAY A. M.

Devotional exercises, Rev. Pugsley.

Music, Institute.
Prof. Yetter closed his remarks on the subject of Music, and was followed by Prof. Bastian who gave an interesting address on "The Successful Teacher." He said in part:

1.—The result is the whole object in all kinds of work.

2.—The measure of the result gotten should be the test of a teacher's success.

The successful teacher is one that does not work merely for the compensation he derives but also for the good he can do the boys and girls.

In finding a birds nest Miss Woodward gave us many good points some of which are as follows: You should dress as nearly like the surroundings as possible. Go very quietly through the woods so that the birds may not hear you. Try to gain the confidence of the mother bird. Do not take the nest until the birds have left it. Never touch the eggs nor blow your breath on them, since in many cases the mother bird will abandon the nest, and with the report of committees closed a most successful Institute.

B. G. WOODWARD, Sec'y.

RESOLUTIONS.
Be it resolved, by the teachers of Cameron county in the thirty-fifth annual institute assembled:

First.—That we are grateful to Supt. Miss Collins for the very able corps of instructors procured for the day sessions and the most carefully selected entertainments for the evenings.

Second.—That we as teachers, acknowledge the hearty cooperation of the people of Emporium as shown by their generous hospitality and patronage of the evening entertainments which make it possible to conduct an institute of such high character.

Third.—That we owe a debt of gratitude to the instructors for their very able and helpful talks and suggestions.

Fourth.—That it is the sense of this institute that educational meetings, which are so helpful to the teachers, should be held more frequently, and that all teachers make a special effort to attend every meeting.

Fifth.—That in view of the great importance of the work of the teacher, it is due the child that a most thorough preparation should be made on the part of every teacher.

Sixth.—That we recognize in Miss Mattie Collins a very able and efficient Superintendent and most heartily recommend her to the next triennial convention of county directors for re-election.

C. P. BASTIAN,
J. R. FICKINGER,
MARY HALL,
Committee.

The Star Course.

HOLDERS OF Course Tickets can reserve seats Friday, Nov. 1st, at 4 o'clock p. m., at Lloyd's book store. Seats will be assigned in the order applied for and no one person will be allowed to reserve more than six at a time. It will be the aim of the committee to meet the wishes of all patrons and it is hoped patience and consideration will prevail.

The Patricolo Grand Concert Company the opening number ranks deservedly high and a rich musical treat is promised.—The following is from the Montreal (Que.) Gazette.—Signor Patricolo's playing runs toward execution, as may be noted with two numbers from Gottschalk, and he demonstrated fully that he is master of that art. The Tremolo was rendered in particularly effective style; bringing down a ringing encore.

Zinc and Grinding Make
Devote Lead and Zinc Paint wear twice as long as lead and oil mixed by hand.

Institute Notes.

The Institute.—The Institute was an unqualified success in the work done and in the results attained. The writer has attended similar gatherings in the largest counties in the state and in his opinion little Cameron suffers nothing in comparison with them.

The Superintendent.—In Miss Mattie M. Collins, Cameron county has an educational leader who is unexcelled. Abreast of the most advanced ideas and progressive methods in the cause of popular education she is laboring to bring our public schools to the highest possible standard of efficiency. In pursuance of these ends and at no slight expense the most eminent educators are secured as Institute Instructors and every possible advantage is afforded the teacher for intellectual stimulus and professional advancement.

The Instructors.—The Instructors were all men and women of wide experience and ripe scholarship, in fact specialists in their several departments of learning and the opportunity of hearing them was indeed exceptional.

The Music.—The music was a delightful feature. The fitness of Prof. Yetter to lead and instruct was apparent to all. A superb voice, pleasing personality combined with a thorough knowledge of the subject gave him a ground of vantage and the Institute promptly responded to his touch.

Maro.—The largest audience of the week, witnessed the Maro performance and was mystified with his marvelous feats of magic and charmed with the witchery and thrill of his wonderful music.

Director Day.—The attendance Directors Day was not as large as the occasion deserved and the instructions given merited. Those present evinced a sympathetic interest in the proceedings and doubtless profited by what they heard.

In general, the instructors from abroad were very favorably impressed with Emporium and its people, frequently expressing themselves to this effect.

The teachers were a well dressed and well behaved class, a credit to themselves, their friends and their profession.

The absence of more than one hundred town residents at the Pan-American militated against the evening attendance, nevertheless the audiences were of good size and were representative in character.

The vocal solos of Miss Frank Huntley were received with every manifestation of pleasure. Miss Wyckoff accompanist was very acceptable in her difficult role.

Continues to Enlarge.
W. D. Johnson, the lumberman, who conducts extensive saw and shingle mills in this county and Elk, continues to increase his work in this county.

In order to facilitate his business at this place, he has erected three store rooms in Parsons' block and fitted the same for offices. The force of clerks have been moved from his store to the new offices, where the Press scribe found all hands busy under the direction of H. H. Cloyes, general manager. Three book-keepers are now employed, viz: Miss May McMahan, of Olean, Miss Marie Nangle and Philip Schweikart of Emporium. Mr. Frank Johnson of Grontonia is clerk at the store.

Quite a Delegation.

Last Saturday was a great day for Emporiumites at Buffalo and a large number of our people attended the Pan-American Exposition. Among the many visitors we noticed the following from this place: Hon. and Mrs. I. K. Hockley, Miss Deborah McCloskey Miss Rose Bair, Miss Julia Bair, Miss Mame Cleary, Misses Belle and Jennie Cleary, Dr. A. W. Baker, H. S. Lloyd, Geo. Narby, Wm. Gross, A. F. Neison and father, Witalis Swanson, M. B. Judd, Geo. H. Crawford and many others whose names we did not learn.

People's Course, Nov. 4th.
St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch.—Mr. Butler, the violinist, was not a disappointment, and his numbers were greeted with the enthusiasm they deserved. Mr. Butler proved that he could make his instrument speak in sweet and tender accents as well as strong, and in the Laub-Wilhelm polonaise his distinguishing facility of execution shone pre-eminent.

Gas on First Fork.

It is reported that the well being drilled on the Logue farm, First Fork, has struck a good flow of gas. Hope it may be a gusher.

Educational Reunions.

Local institutes will be held at the following places, on the following dates: Sinnamahoning, first Saturday, Dec. 1901; Driftwood, third Saturday, Jan. 1902; Sterling Run, second Saturday, Feb. 1902; Emporium, second Saturday, March, 1902.

Prof. W. H. Budine, the well known Eye Specialist, will be at R. H. Hirsch's jewelry store, Emporium, Pa., Nov. 8th and 9th, where he will test and examine the eyes free. All work guaranteed. Remember Prof. Budine guarantees to cure all cases of headache caused by weak eyes or astigmatism. New lenses ground to fit old frames.

Quitting Party.

Saturday, Oct. 19, Mrs. W. E. Devling of Sterling Run, gave a quilting to a number of her friends. The ladies gathered at her home and finished two quilts, and all had a jolly good time. Quiltings seem to be just the thing at present, as several more are proposed for the near future.

Change in Church Hours.

There has been changes made in the time of regular services at the church in Rich Valley. Beginning Sunday, October 20th, preaching will be at 4 p. m., instead of 7 p. m., and will immediately follow the session of Sabbath school, which is held at 3 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited to these services.
W. READETT, Pastor.

The Last Log Drive.

Lumbermen are of the opinion that log drives in the West Branch valley will end with the one next spring. There will be but little timber and few logs to be taken to the markets from the regions drained by the West Branch and what there may be will likely be transported by rail.

For next spring's drive there is only about 20,000,000 feet from West Keating and the entire drive will not have more than 40,000,000 feet.—Renovo News.

Society Notes.

Miss Mame Logan entertained a party of lady and gentlemen friends last Friday evening, in honor of her cousin, Mr. Logan McCloskey, of Wilkensburg, Pa.

Last Thursday afternoon Miss Mame Logan pleasantly entertained a number of lady friends in honor of her cousin, Miss Deborah McCloskey, of Wilkensburg, Pa., and Miss Laura A. Watters, of St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Charlotte C. Hill entertained yesterday afternoon from four until seven, about thirty of her little lady and gentlemen friends, in honor of her seventh anniversary. The afternoon was a happy and pleasant one for the little folks. Miss Charlotte was the recipient of many beautiful presents from her friends, and was as happy as the happiest.

Under Masonic Rites.

Promptly at 2 p. m., on Sunday, St. John's Commandery of Olean, headed by the Select Knights Band and escorted by Potter Commandery of Coudersport and the Blue Lodge of this borough, repaired to the late home of Edwin P. Dalrymple and from there to the Cemetery, where Eminent Commander Barly and Prelate Dr. Eddy of Olean pronounced the impressive rites of the order as the body of their dead brother and companion was laid at rest.

The members of the Masonic order followed by the mourners and friends then retired to the Presbyterian church where Rev. Arney preached a short but impressive sermon.

The floral offerings were many and very beautiful. From the Blue lodge a square and compass of roses and carnations; a beautiful crescent and pillow from his employees, and several handsome tributes from members of the family and near friends.

Edwin P. Dalrymple is gone; as the cold earth shuts from our sight all that is mortal, let us remember his kind and generous acts, of which there were many.—Port Allegany Argus.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

WADDINGTON.

Wednesday morning, Oct. 23, 1901, Mrs. HARRIETT WADDINGTON, aged 43 years, wife of Thomas Waddington, died at the family residence on East Allegheny Avenue Extension, after an illness of several weeks. Hopes had been entertained for several days for her recovery and her death is a sad blow to her husband and large family of children. Deceased came to Emporium seventeen years ago, with her family, from England, and has been a faithful wife. Her death is indeed a terrible affliction to the husband and seven children—one a babe of only a few weeks. The funeral will be held from M. E. church to-morrow (Friday) at 2:00 p. m. Interment in Newton Cemetery.

MORRISEY.

JAMES MORRISEY, aged 75 years died at the family residence on West Fifth street this (Thursday) morning, of pneumonia. Deceased, who has always been in robust health and never sick a day in his life, was taken down about one week ago and his advanced age being against him his death resulted. Mr. Morrissey came to Emporium in 1864 and remained in the employ of the P. & E. R. R. as section foreman up to within a year ago, when he was placed on the retired list. He was a quiet, good citizen and universally respected by our people, young and old. By industry and good management he accumulated considerable property, in addition to raising a large family of ten children, to comfort the aged widow in her affliction.

The funeral will take place from St. Mark's church, Saturday at 9:30 a. m. We have been intimately acquainted with the deceased since our boyhood and always respected him for his many excellent traits of character. Honesty was his guiding star and no man ever knew or heard of one mean or little transaction emanating from him. We firmly believed in his unswerving character and his upright, Christian life, more valued than gold, is left as a living example for those behind.

The funeral will take place from St. Mark's church, Saturday at 9:30 a. m.

People's Course, Nov. 4th.
Chicago Abendpost (translation)—Miss Rapp scored another victory at the Schiller Club before an audience of highly cultivated as well as talented musicians. Miss Rapp's pure soprano voice, so well trained, was greatly enjoyed. Two songs by Meyer Helmaund and "The Last Rose of Summer" met with tremendous success, and the enthusiastic applause may well foretell that some day we shall hear again and again of this young lady whose talent and voice are well known throughout the city and praised by all.

Barn and Stock Burned.

About mid-night last night (Wednesday) Hon. G. W. Warner's barn at his North Creek farm was discovered to be on fire and had gained such a headway that little or none of the stock could be rescued from the flames. The barn which was one of the largest and best built in the county was filled with the season's crop, implements, etc. In addition to the loss of the crop, three valuable horses perished, his $500 grey team being lost. Loss $5,000; insurance on barn $1200. Mr. Warner fully believes the fire to be the work of an incendiary.

Water Suit Settled.

For several months past litigation has been pending between the citizens of Port Allegany and the Water Company, before the Attorney General, and the courts of Dauphin county, an effort being made to have the charter revoked. On Tuesday, at Harrisburg, the case was settled, Judge Morrison being agreed upon as Arbitrator to adjust the differences. B. W. Green, of this place, was prominently connected with the case as counsel for Water Company.

Yonker-Ebert.

The wedding of Miss Emma H. Yonker to Mr. Geo. W. Ebert, of Pittsburg, at the residence of the bride's parents last evening, was a very pleasant affair. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock, Rev. Robt. McCaslin, of Presbyterian church, officiating. After the ceremony and hearty congratulations an elegant repast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Ebert took Erie mail for Pittsburg their future home.

No Mud-Slinging.

It must be gratifying and pleasing to the several candidates to know that the campaign has been, thus far, free from mud-slinging. We hope it may close thus and the victors and defeated may be friends.
