The Scranton Republican

pointedly illustrates the difference between Republican and Democratic theories of government by showing that under the administration of President Cleveland the principal difficulty was in trying to get rid of a deficit, while under the last and present administrations the chief problem has been what to do with the surplus.

Not Wanted Now.

Those able politicians who are advocating an upheaval of the Tariff will not find public sentiment with them. The people don't want the Tariff question reopened. They don't want the schedules revised. They don't want the present status upset. Without regard to politics we believe the sentiment of the country is in favor of letting things alone at this time. The people are prosperous. Our trade at home and abroad was never better. Our markets were never so great, nor the promise of the future so flattering. Why then disturb the Tariff? Why reopen a business question at a dangerous time? Why run the risk of losing, even for a little while, the prosperity and confidence which now reigns all over the land? The Tariff tinkers are not wanted now. Let them come in when something breaks, when the machinery goes wrong.--Wheeling (W. Va.) News.

The Greatest Real Estate Deal.

The ratification of the proposed charter amendments at the election in St. Louis recently insured the success of the great Louisiana Purchase Exposition in 1903. This will fittingly celebrate the most tremendous real estate transaction in history.

Napoleon was a man of miraculous mental grasp, but it is doubtful whether even he realized all that the Louisiana purchase was to mean in the coming century. There was nothing in all the preceding annals of the world to gauge it by. With a single exception there has been nothing since.

A hundred years ago the huge territory, nearly a million square miles in extent, then called Louisiana, was practically an uninhabited wilderness. A little group of settlements about New Orleans, and a smaller one at St. Louis, represented all the foothold that civilization had within it. To-day it contains over fourteen million people, living in fourteen great States and territories.

With the single exception mentioned, there is nothing in all the history of colonization to compare with that record. The one parallel case is the growth of the States between the Alleghenies and the Mississippi.

It took the colonies over a hundred years to gain a million people.

Australia started substantially even with Louisiana a century ago; she has less than four million inhabitants to-day.

Canada was far ahead of Louisiana in 1803; she has little more than a third of the population of the Louisiana purchase now.

It took England nearly fifteen hundred years, from the landing of Hengist and Horsa to the year 1841, to make the progress that Louisiana has made in a single century.

Had the Louisiana purchase become an independent nation, it would have ranked to-day in all respects as a first-class power. Its population would have been less than that of the great powers of Europe, but its wealth, energy, enterprise, industry and intelligence would have placed it fully abreast of them. It would have been able to take care of itself in any company.

The Louisiana purchase has eight cities of over a hundred thousand people each, of which one has over half a million and another over a quarter of a million.

It contains the fifth State in the Union in population.

It has more miles of railroad than any country in the world outside of the United States.

It has the greatest extent of productive farm land in the world.

It has a greater system of navigable waterways than any other region of equal extent outside of Brazil.

It has some of the world's richest mines of gold, silver, copper, lead, iron and coal.

It is developing a mighty system of manufactures.

It has produced in places what some consider the finest school system in existence.

Europe has stood in arms for thirty years because France and Germany cannot agree about the ownership of Alsace and Lorraine. Money enough has been spent to plate the provinces with gold. The Louisiana purchase would make a hundred and seventy Alsace-Lorraines.

In the region that Jefferson bought for $15,000,000 three million people can find homes in comfort. At $10 an acre, its land would be worth six times our present national debt. The mere exposition with which one of its cities is to celebrate its purchase will cost more than we paid for the entire domain.

Our first attempt at expansion has been the most brilliantly successful in history. It is well that it should be fittingly celebrated, and with it the memory of the great men who brought it about, and who, by that act, secured to their country the place of the first power on earth. That the Louisiana purchase has transformed the United States from an Atlantic coast power into a continental power is the best monument of Thomas Jefferson.—Pittsburg Catholic.

An Evangelist's Story.

"I suffered for years with a bronchial or lung trouble and tried various remedies but did not obtain permanent relief until I commenced using One Minute Cough Cure," writes Rev. James Kirkman, evangelist of Belle River, Ill. "I have no hesitation in recommending it to all sufferers from maladies of this kind." One Minute Cough Cure affords immediate relief for coughs, colds and all kinds of throat and lung troubles. For croup it is unequalled. Absolutely safe. Very pleasant to take, never fails and is really a favorite with the children. They like it. R. C. Dodson.

Nothing so difficult but may be won by industry.

Saved His Life.

"I wish to say that I feel I owe my life to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure," writes H. C. Christenson, of Hayfield, Minn. "For three years I was troubled with dyspepsia so that I could hold nothing on my stomach. Many times I would be unable to retain a morsel of food. Finally I was confined to my bed. Doctors said I could not live. I read one of your advertisements on Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and thought it fit my case and commenced its use. I began to improve from the first bottle. Now I am cured and recommend it to all." Digests your food. Cures all stomach troubles. R. C. Dodson.

Of Benefit to You.

D. S. Mitchell, Falford, Md., "During a long illness I was troubled with bed sores, was advised to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve and did so with wonderful results. I was perfectly cured. It is the best salve on the market." Sure cure for piles, sores, burns. Beware of counterfeits. R. C. Dodson.

Industry need not wish.

Health and Beauty.

A poor complexion is usually the result of a torpid liver or irregular action of the bowels. Unless nature's retuse is carried off it will surely cause impure blood. Pimples, boils and other eruptions follow. This is nature's method of throwing off the poisons which the bowels failed to remove. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are world famous for remedying this condition. They stimulate the liver and promote regular and healthy action of the bowels but never cause griping, cramps or distress. Safe pills. R. C. Dodson.

COUGHS AND COLDS IN CHILDREN
Recommendations of a Well Known Chicago Physician.

I use and prescribe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for almost all obstinate, constricted coughs, with direct results. I prescribe it to children of all ages. Am glad to recommend it to all in need and seeking relief from colds and coughs and bronchial affections. It is non-narcotic and safe in the hands of the most unprofessional. A universal panacea for all mankind.—Mrs. Mary R. Melendy, M. D., Ph. D., Chicago, Ill. This remedy is for sale by L. Taggart.

With the help of an "if" you might put Paris in a bottle.

Information Wanted.

The manufacturers of Banner Salve having always believed that no doctor or medicine can cure in every case, but never having heard where Banner Salve failed to cure ulcers, sores, tetter, eczema, or piles, as a matter of curiosity would like to know if there are such cases. If so they will gladly refund the money. L. Taggart.

A man who gives his children habits of industry provides better than by giving fortunes.

Krause's Headache Capsules are unlike anything prepared in America. They were first prescribed by Dr. Krause, Germany's famous court physician, long before antipyrine was discovered, and are almost marvelous, so speedily do they cure the most distressing cases. Price 25c. Sold by L. Taggart.

Wishing, of all employments, is the worst.

The Best Cold Cure

is one you can take without interruption to business. One that does not affect the head or hearing like the continued use of quinine. One that cures speedily and leaves you feeling fresh and clear-headed. Such a one is Krause's Cold Cure. Price 20c. Sold by L. Taggart.

A Good Use For Old Graveyards.

There are now in London and its immediate neighborhood 360 public recreation grounds, varying in size from Epping forest, which, with Wanstead flats, is over 5,000 acres in extent, to little city gardens and playgrounds measuring an eighth or tenth of an acre. These include 100 plots of ground which have been used for interment, parish churchyards and other disused burial grounds, of which the largest is eleven acres and the smallest a few yards square.—Humanitarian.

The Advice Came Home to Roost.

The president of one of the prominent railway corporations in America was making a stirring address to an audience of young men and dwelt with particular emphasis on the necessity of making a good appearance.

"When you are looking for work," he said, "be careful that you are presentable. If you have only $24 in the world, spend $20 for a suit of clothes, $3.50 for a pair of shoes, 50 cents for a hair cut and shave. Then walk up to the job wherever it is and ask for it like a man."

This advice was greeted with great applause, and the railway president sat down amid a storm of cheers.

The very next morning a dapper looking young fellow walked into the outer office of the orator and, handing a note to the clerk, said, "Please give this to the president." The note read as follows:

"I have paid $20 for this suit of clothes, $3.50 for a pair of shoes and 50 cents for a hair cut and a shave. I have walked from Harlem, and I would like a job as conductor on your road." He got the job.
