Ridgway, Pa.—"The large audience was entranced by the music which Mr. Farland produced from the Banjo."—Elk Democrat, March 17, 1896.
Harrisburg, Pa.—"The Farland concert was the richest musical treat ever tendered a Harrisburg audience"—Call, May 2, 1898.
Boston, Mass.—"There is no man in the world whose technique can be compared to Mr. Farland's. It was reserved for him to show us the truly marvelous in banjo playing."—Gatcombs Musical Gazette, March, 1898.

CARD TO THE PUBLIC:
It was my intention to have a Banjo Orchestra of six pieces take part in the Farland Concert, owing to a misunderstanding we separated. I will put on instead, Mr. James D. Hawley in personations. I wish to thank the young ladies who are helping me with this recital, especially those who have heard Farland and recommend him when inquiries are made.

H. C. Crawford, was transacting business in town yesterday.

Geo. A. Walker, Jr., and sister, Miss Grace, returned from Philadelphia on Tuesday.

Mrs. Ed. Morse is quite seriously ill, but is improving under Dr. A. W. Baker's treatment.

Joel Shives has returned home from Wilcox where he has been employed in a store for some time.

Miss Eva Leet has on exhibition at Bair's photo studio several specimens of her work in oil. The work is fine.

State Forestry Commissioner Hon. T. Rothrock, of West Chester, registered at Warner House last Thursday evening.

Henry Auchu and Joseph Lingle left last Sunday for Wisconsin to look at a valuable tract of timber. They expect to be home on Sunday.

Miss Helen Van Valkenburg, assistant principal of Emporium schools has returned from a delightful visit to Philadelphia friends.

Alfred Nelson one of our esteemed Swede citizens, is paying less attention to blooded poultry these days and all on the account of the arrival of a beautiful little girl at his home. Mother and child doing nicely.

Editor M. J. Colcord, of Potter Journal, was in Emporium last Friday and dropped in to see the PRESS. Like all Potter county chaps he had his eyes open for all good things and recognized his fate when he struck the gang.

United States Marshal Fred C. Leonard, of Harrisburg, and Hon. N. J. Peck, of Philadelphia, were guests at Warner House last Wednesday evening and met many of our citizens. Both are popular gentlemen and have hosts of friends in this county, who are always glad to meet them.

Mr. John Chapman, of Sterling Run, was in Emporium last Friday, guest of Almeron Chapman and family. Mr. Chapman, who for many years has been one of Lumber township's most estimable citizens, is sorely afflicted in the death of his wife Martha A., who departed this life Nov. 7th, in her 65th year. While making a friendly call on the editor the venerable gentleman desired the PRESS to extend his thanks to those kind and sympathetic neighbors who so thoughtfully and cheerfully aided him during his affliction.

The Cost of Painting.
The cost of putting it on is twice the cost of the paint. So, if Devoe lasts twice as long as another paint, it saves three times the cost of itself or the other.

A TOWER OF STRENGTH

More Republicans in Congress Than From All New England.

A SUPERB ORGANIZATION

Why the Keystone State Can Contribute So Largely to the Strength and Influence of the Republican Party in the Nation.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, Dec. 3.—With the reconvening of Congress, the influences of the Republican organization of Pennsylvania in the councils of the nation, and the direction of the affairs of the National Republican organization becomes once more conspicuous.

Pennsylvania is represented in the Fifty-seventh congress by 26 Republicans in the house, a delegation larger than that of any other state with one exception, and numerically stronger than the combined Republican delegations of all the New England states.

The Republicans in the house from Pennsylvania show a gain of six members over their representation in the last house, when the delegation stood 20 Republicans and 10 Democrats.

ORGANIZATION STOOD THE TEST.

The superb Republican organization of this state has just been put to a very severe test with dissensions brought about by the manipulations of a coterie of wealthy men who are ambitious to hold office, and to serve their personal ends and to advance their individual ambitions have made deals and combinations with Democratic politicians to the detriment of the Republican party and its candidates.

Happily the voters of the state refused to follow such leadership, and when the returns were received on election night it was found that after a bitterly-fought campaign the Republican candidates were triumphantly elected, and the nominees on the Republican state ticket were given majorities over all the rival candidates for the second time in five years.

After the last gubernatorial campaign, when it was found that Colonel Stone did not have a majority of all the votes cast, the insurgent Republicans and the Democrats declared that had they united upon one set of candidates they would have elected the governor and the entire fusion ticket.

The result of the recent election, where the insurgents, or Union party men, and the Democrats had the same candidates, showed that when the loyal Republicans of Pennsylvania become aroused they can defeat any combination of insurgents and Democrats by large majorities.

NEXT CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN
With this fact in mind, the Republican leaders look with confidence to the coming congressional campaign in Pennsylvania.

They recognize the determination of the Democrats in Washington to ignore the free silver and other Bryanite doctrines, and to return again to their agitation for a reduction of the tariff.

This policy was made manifest at the caucus of the Democratic members of the house last week. Congressman J. K. P. Hall, the Democratic millionaire of Elk county, who is believed to aspire for the Democratic nomination for governor of Pennsylvania, succeeded in restraining the silverites of the west and south and having them agree to a postponement of the consideration of the Bryanite theories and doctrines and to confine their policy, for the present, at least, to a "raid on the tariff." The protective policy of the present leadership of the national Republican organization, which the industries of Pennsylvania demand shall not be deviated from, is imperiled by the talk of reciprocity, which to some means nothing more than a reduction of the tariff and the accomplishment of what the Democrats would strive to bring about through their agitation for tariff reform.

MANUFACTURERS ARE ALARMED.

The recent convention of manufacturers held at Washington to discuss the important issue of reciprocity developed the fact that there are few of those identified with the manufacturing industries of this country who are not fearful that the talk of reciprocity may lead to a serious disturbance of business conditions, quite as serious as would the re-opening of the whole issue of revision of the tariff.

Pennsylvania Republican congressmen will be on guard during the present session of congress to block any Democratic schemes which might affect the manufacturing interests of the Keystone state.

While with the large Republican majority in the present congress the danger from this source is not as great as it may be in the next congress, the party leaders propose to be on the alert.

In order that Pennsylvania shall continue to wield a potential influence at Washington it behooves every party man to do everything in his power to strengthen the Republican organization throughout Pennsylvania, to discourage the malcontents who have selfish interests to serve and to bury factional differences for the general welfare.

Sizerville.
Thanksgiving being past, the turkeys breathe easy once more.

Miss Cecil Clark, of Emporium, visited friends here last Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Morton returned recently from an extended visit at Buffalo and other northern points.

Mr. Orren Freeman, one of our most progressive farmers, made his weekly trip to Emporium, Saturday.

Mrs. Humphrey Smith and daughter, Miss Hettie, went to Emporium Friday to do some holiday shopping.

Mr. Ira Ayres and Prof. W. J. Leavitt spent Sunday at Gardeau, the principal of schools at that place.

Rev. Oylor, of Keating Summit, preached an eloquent sermon in the Methodist church here Sunday.

Mr. Henry Unverdorben, section foreman on the W. N. Y. and P. R. R. made a business trip to Liberty last Wednesday.

Mr. J. H. Holburn's parents came over from Coudersport and spent Thursday and Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Holburn at this place.

We noticed Dr. Melvin Hamilton, of Emporium, among the visitors to the mineral springs last Sunday. The springs are still very popular and are visited by many travelers.

Thanksgiving day passed very quietly, the majority of our people remained at home to eat turkey, though of course a few of the younger class strayed away in search of more alluring inducements.

A number of Emporium gentlemen, among whom we noticed Messrs. E. C. Davison, J. D. Logan, U. A. Palmer, and J. C. Johnson, passed through here Thursday enroute for Mr. Charles Weller's delightful country home, where they spent the day in merry-making. Mr. Weller is a most delightful host and of course those fortunate enough to be present enjoyed themselves immensely.

One of the most delightful social events of the season was the supper and entertainment given by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Martindale, at the Sizer Springs Hotel last Saturday night. The spacious rooms were filled with throngs of light hearted young people. The merry revelry lasted until between ten and eleven o'clock, after which supper was served to all. To say that those present enjoyed the occasion would be to express the statement mildly.

Owing to the uncommonly large number of students in attendance at the Sizerville school, the Portage Directors in their good judgment considered it necessary to grade the school. At their meeting Monday night they appointed Prof. William J. Leavitt to be supervising principal and Mr. Ezra Smith as assistant. The "Board" is to be complimented on the wisdom of the course it has taken.

Ignorance thinks the rest of the world blind.
