Mr. J. S. Douglas, of Olean, was visiting old friends in town yesterday and to-day. Mr. Douglas, accompanied by his wife and daughter, leave next Monday for Los Angeles, Cal., to spend the winter.

Edward Stewart, one of Lumber township's best Supervisors in years, was attending to business in town on Monday. While here he called at the Press office and renewed his subscription for another year.

Daniel W. Webster, of East Emporium, was a social visitor at Press office on Monday. Mr. Webster has during the past twenty-four years been one of the most faithful engineers on Buffalo division of P. R. R.

John Anderson, wife and son, drove over from Austin, yesterday and spent the day with Emporium friends. Mr. Anderson made the Press sanctum a very welcome call. We are sorry we were not at home, John.

Mrs. Ida M. Holcomb and daughter Ettalean of Geneva, Indiana, is visiting relatives and friends in this place. Mrs. Holcomb lived in the vicinity of Emporium about thirteen years ago and says the hills are still just as high and valleys just as narrow as they were then, but look better to her than when she lived here.

We are sorry to learn of the serious illness of the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Slucom, on West Allegany avenue.

The Surprise Party at Chas. Weller's last Friday evening was largely attended. Of course the boys (?) did not do a thing but enjoy themselves.

We regret to learn of the serious illness of Mr. Fred F. Brown for many years connected with the Eldred Eagle. Mr. Brown is afflicted with hemorrhage of the lungs, and is in a very precarious condition.

Joseph M. Butler and wife, of Connelly House, Port Allegany, and E. H. Butler, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Miss Farrell, of Port Allegany, drove over to Emporium last Sunday and visited C. L. Butler and family.

Mr. F. L. Miller, of Sinnamahoning, accompanied by his father were Emporium visitors on Wednesday. While in town F. L. found time to visit the Press sanctum, and made the printer happy by advancing the date on his paper another year.

Sinnamahoning Liars' Club.

The Liars Club held a very interesting session recently which lasted four days without intermission. DeShetler and Hanscom received some pointers while at Emporium and held the members down for forty-eight hours without a break. Pap Blodget had his jug filled with the real stuff at O. L. Bailey's to hold against all comers until fairly beaten by any member of the organization. After holding it for four days, J. H. Haynes of Arkhill, appeared and captured the prize. Pap was fined the usual amount and must stand suspended until same is paid. He lays his defeat to Hanscom and DeShetler.

Some of the members raised objections to the whoppers told by George Gore and Jordan. When Jack Mead arrived and told of the big bear he killed, which traveled 118 miles after being wounded. The hide bore the marks of 32 bullet holes. Haynes would never have gotten the jug if he had remained until the close of the meeting.

J. H. Haynes reports that he hauled a log for fire wood which was hard to split, so he hitched his team to his wagon and drove to Barclay's store, where he purchased a stick of dynamite. Being afraid of the stuff, on his arrival home laid it on the ground outside the barn. One of Haynes' porkers came along and swallowed the dynamite and strolled into the barn, where it was kicked by a horse, causing the dynamite to explode, killing one horse, tearing the harness off of another and blowing the end out of the barn and lastly nearly killed the pig. Jim was excused from further attendance for thirty days. Dalrymple or Hill can't beat this one. Hanscom and DeShetler excepted.

FIDE.

Glasses and lasses are brittle wares.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Bedford St. M. E. Church, Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me great pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it and know others who have never known it to fail." For sale by L. Taggart.

First Fork.

Guess the bears must have "holed up," as we have not heard of any being killed in the last two or three days.

Benj. Swank was hurt a few days ago, by a trailing hook flying loose and striking him on the side, which knocked him down.

The "old fashioned winter" still holds out faithful, and parties who have logs to sled or slide are making the best use of it possible.

While Jesse Logue was sliding down the trail on a slab, on his way home from work, a sharp stick struck him, inflicting quite a serious wound.

A young man by the name of Shepherd working on Bert Walker's job was struck by a skid and quite seriously hurt one day last week.

Barclay Bro's. are running their log train now by here hauling logs down from Logue Bro's. to their basin at Sinnamahoning. Jas. Doyle, of Austin, is doing the conductor act on it.

The small-pox scare has subsided here as well as in other places where it has been reported plenty, and as no new cases have shown up yet, our schools which have been closed for a couple of weeks will resume operations on Monday.

Mr. Martindale has his hotel open for business, but has had no grand opening ball yet, as the carpenters, painters and paper hangers are not entirely through.

The Country Paper.

Much has been said of the country paper until many people believe it is a struggling institution fit for a joke rather than to be taken seriously. Perhaps that may have been the case at one time, but the thrifty exchange list of The Times is evidence that it is not so now. Never in the history of the newspaper world have the country newspaper shown such certain signs of prosperity. Papers from little towns of anywhere from 1,000 to a dozen times that many inhabitants are coming in with their regular advertising columns crowded and additional pages provided for the accommodation of the merchant who wants to talk to his holiday patrons. The country editor is keeping in strict touch with modern ideas. He has recourse to new type, artistic effects in printing, and he is making his advertising just as terse and convincing as the editor in the city is.

If when the new year comes and the profits of the 12 months are counted the country publisher does not have a surplus in the strong box it will be no fault of his exertions nor of his patronage during the holiday season. Nor will the effect stop there. No step forward is ever wholly lost. New possibilities have been made apparent to the village paper, and the highest ideal established will continue to be the ambition. It is only the men at the exchange table who can realize the influence possessed by the country editor and the excellent use he is making of it.—Pittsburg Times.

Children Especially Liable.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often results in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draws out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cure for piles. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Mock, N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day." R. C. Rodson.

Maid want nothing but husbands, and when they have them, they want everything.

The prevention of consumption is entirely a question of commencing the proper treatment in time. Nothing is so well adapted to ward off fatal lung troubles as Foley's Honey and Tar. Taggart.

Children Poisoned.

Many children are poisoned and made nervous and weak, if not killed outright, by mothers giving them cough syrups containing opiates. Foley's Honey and Tar is a safe and certain remedy for coughs, croup and lung troubles, and is the only prominent cough medicine that contains no opiates or other poisons. L. Taggart.
