John P. Elkin for Governor.

Philadelphia Inquirer.
The Republican Committee of Indiana county has formally presented Attorney General John P. Elkin as a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. This county is the home of the distinguished candidate. Those persons who know him best—the men among whom he has worked his way to prominence—place him before the voters of the State. What they say of him comes from the heart.

The Inquirer has been awaiting some such opportunity as this before declaring itself. Mr. Elkin has never made his ambitions known to the public. But it may be taken for granted that the Indiana County Committee has his consent to present his name, and the Inquirer joins with that committee this morning in the hope that John P. Elkin may be the Republican candidate.

It even goes further than that. IT MAKES MR. ELKIN ITS OWN CANDIDATE, for the simple reason that it believes that there is no man better fitted to conduct the important affairs of the State than the present Attorney General.

Mr. Elkin is essentially a man of the people.

His career is one that the young men of Pennsylvania might study with profit to themselves.

He is self-made in every sense of the word.

He was born in a log house in Indiana county. As a child he battled his way through the snows and across the fields for a mile and a half—a three mile trip each winter's day to and from the primary school. He worked on the farm. Later he helped his father in a country store, meanwhile pursuing his studies. When the family removed to Wellsville, Ohio, where a company for the manufacture of tin plate had been organized, he was obliged to work in the mills at day labor, because the capital which his father had invested had been exhausted. At fourteen he gained admittance to the high school, and left it at the head of his class. He returned to his old home in Indiana county, taught school and fought his way through the Indiana Normal School. From there he went to the University of Michigan, paying his way by his own hard work, and when he was graduated from the law school he was selected as the orator of his class.

That is the manner in which John P. Elkin has made his way through life until he has reached the responsible position of Attorney General of Pennsylvania.

It is a story which, when told in detail, must appeal to every person who loves to see a man forge his way through the world unaided and alone.

Indiana county prides itself upon the fact that it has never lost a fight to the Democrats. This is a splendid record undoubtedly. But Indiana county must have something more than party fealty at its back when it presents a candidate for Governor. Fortunately it has that something. It has a man, a son of the soil, of the country store, of the tin mills, who is without blemish, WHO CAN FACE HIS POLITICAL FOES WITH CLEAN HANDS, who can defy them all, who is not called upon to offer one word of excuse for any act of his own.

SUCH A CANDIDATE IS MATCHLESS.

And because John P. Elkin is a matchless candidate The Inquirer supports him.

His enemies say that legislative districts will be lost. That is nonsense. They would say the same thing no matter whose shoulders the mantle of nomination might fall.

They say that Congressional districts will be sacrificed. That is childish. If a man of the people cannot be elected Governor and command respect then no Republican can be chosen.

The interest of the Inquirer has always been that of the Republican party. It believes in Republican principles. The Republican party has made the United States the greatest nation on earth. It would do nothing that would in its opinion bring reproach upon that party or would hinder it in its great work of progress.

When, therefore, it casts ALL its influence with Indiana county's candidate for Governor, it does so with its eyes wide open and in the absolute belief that no man is safer, that no man can better lead the Republican Party to victory than John P. Elkin.

Pennsylvania loves a self-made man. And so does the Inquirer. Indiana county's candidate—and the Inquirer's candidate—is just such a man.

There is no doubt whatever that Mr. Elkin will have the support of the Philadelphia delegates. But he is pre-eminently the candidate of the country, and the Philadelphia delegation will but add its great weight to the majority to make his nomination practically unanimous. The country itself outside of Philadelphia will alone furnish enough delegates to nominate triumphantly a man who has not got to go upon the defensive. Those who try to put him in such a position will, we think, quickly discover to their discomfort that defense is needed on their own part, not on his.

Mr. Elkin has always been in touch with the people because he is of the people. He has been brought up in the schools of the people and he has taught the schools of the people. He has had experience in the mills, and he knows what hard work means and what the people need.

Such a man the Inquirer accepts and it gladly supports Indiana county in offering him to the people.

FOR GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA—JOHN P. ELKIN.
And he will be nominated and elected by an overwhelming majority.

WILL PROTECT LABOR

Senator Penrose Meeting the Great Question of Chinese Exclusion.

OPPOSITION NOW DEVELOPING

Business Interests Trading With China Have Taken a Hand in the Fight, But the Republican Party Will Not Ignore the Workingmen.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, Jan. 21.—The insincerity of the average reformer has again been demonstrated in the present silence which has been observed among the insurgent newspapers over the question of the exclusion of the Chinese laborers.

The Pennsylvania insurgents have finally discovered that United States Senator Boies Penrose, by reason of his position as chairman of the committee on immigration of the senate, will wield great influence in shaping the legislation in congress on this subject. In an effort to cater to the labor vote some of the insurgent newspapers made a great ado over this issue some weeks ago in seeking to lead the movement for the re-enactment of the Chinese exclusion law. But things are different now. The editors of these papers have learned that Senator Penrose is the real leader in this agitation and that upon his shoulders will largely rest the responsibility of meeting the organized opposition of large capital interests for liberal legislation affecting the Chinese.

AN IMPORTANT PROBLEM.

Senator Penrose has arranged to give a hearing this week to representatives of both the advocates and the opponents of the proposed legislation to bar Chinese cheap labor from this country. It has developed that many business interests fear that if the action of congress shall be too radical on this subject trade with China will be seriously affected, and it may lead to retaliatory measures on the part of the Chinese government.

New England interests, including the Great Boston and Maine railroad, representatives of the Canadian Pacific railroad, in which a large amount of capital from the United States is invested, the Chamber of Commerce of New York, fearful of curtailment of the importing and export trade with China, and the Cotton Planters Association of the south, who ship millions of dollars worth of cotton and cotton goods to China, are among others who have requested an opportunity to be heard before Senator Penrose's committee.

On the other hand, Senator Penrose has extended a cordial invitation to all labor organizations throughout the country to have representatives at the hearings or to communicate with him direct by mail, that he may submit to his colleagues in the senate, in a practical way, the views of American mechanics and laboring men on this great question.

In conversation on this issue a few days ago, Senator Penrose among other things said: "I was not until recently aware of the many ramifications of this question of the exclusion of the Chinese laborers. I have received many communications from business men, manufacturers, importers and exporters and others on this subject, which go to show how keenly some of our commercial and manufacturing interests are considering this matter. From the outset of this agitation I have made it a point to keep in touch with representative workingmen, among them officers of various trade unions and other organizations, and I have gathered a vast fund of valuable information which will be available in framing the bill which will ultimately come from our committee."

PENNSYLVANIA'S INTERESTS.

"Throughout our own state of Pennsylvania the workingmen are fully alive to the situation, and I have had hundreds of letters from almost every section of the commonwealth insisting that there shall be no departure from the policy of exclusion of the Chinese laborers.

"The men engaged in the vast anthracite and bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania, our great coke industries, the lumber interests and the immense iron and steel plants and the other manufacturing establishments of the Keystone state, including many thousands of workingmen, are all deeply concerned in this subject.

"Personally, my aim from the outset shall be to protect American labor from all encroachment of undesirable foreign labor, which at low wages would come in competition with the men who have served to make this country great and prosperous.

"The American home, above all, must be protected, and I am satisfied that when this issue shall be finally met in congress the Republican party, which has always been a friend of labor, will not be found wanting in appreciation of the claims of the workingmen of the country, and the courage to afford them full protection in this matter."

Children Especially Liable.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often result in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draws out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cure for piles. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Mock, N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day." R. C. Rodson.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Bedford St. M. E. Church, Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me great pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it and know others who have never known it to fail." For sale by L. Taggart.

Anxiety is the poison of human life.

Remarkable Cure of Croup. A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth to-day.—Joel Demont, Inwood, Iowa. For sale by L. Taggart.

It is not the revolution that destroys the machinery; it is the friction.

Profitable Investment.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind. "I spent about $1,000 and never could get anything to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well." You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. R. C. Dodson.

The man rarely marries the woman he jokes about; she often marries the man she laughs at.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. For sale by L. Taggart.

All mankind love a lover.

Don't Live Together.

Constipation and health never go together. DeWitt's Little Early Risers promote easy action of the bowels without distress. "I have been troubled with costiveness nine years," says J. O. Greene, Depauw, Ind. "I have tried many remedies but Little Early Risers give best results." R. C. Dodson.

Life is a flower of which love is the honey.

Finds Way To Live Long.

The startling announcement of a Discovery that will surely lengthen life is made by editor O. H. Downey, of Churubusco, Ind. "I wish to state," he writes, "that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is the most infallible remedy that I have ever known for Coughs, Colds and Grip. It is invaluable to people with weak lungs. Having this wonderful medicine no one need dread Pneumonia or Consumption. Its relief is instant and cure certain." L. Taggart guarantee every 50c and $1.00 bottle, and give trial bottles free.

A heart without love is a violin without strings.

Child Worth Millions.

"My child is worth millions to me," says Mrs. Mary Bird of Harrisburg, Pa., "yet I would have lost her by croup had I not purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure." One Minute Cough Cure is sure cure for coughs, croup and throat and lung troubles. An absolutely safe cough cure which acts immediately. The youngest child can take it with entire safety. The little ones like the taste and remember how often it helped them. Every family should have a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure handy. At this season especially it may be needed suddenly. R. C. Dodson.

Not to know love is not to live.

A Cure for Lambago.

W. C. Williamson, of Annerst, Va., says: "For more than a year I suffered from lambago. I finally tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me entire relief which all other remedies had failed to do." Sold by L. Taggart.

A Life at Stake.

If you but knew the splendid spirit of Foley's Honey and Tar you would never be without it. A dose or two will prevent an attack of pneumonia or la grippe. It may save your life. L. Taggart.

She loves him best who last goes out the gate.

Stop It!

A neglected cough or cold may lead to serious bronchial or lung troubles. Don't take chances when Foley's Honey and Tar affords perfect security from serious effects of a cold. L. Taggart.

A maiden's heart is a dark forest.

In Bed Four Weeks With La Grippe.

We have received the following letter from Mr. Rey Kemp, of Angola, Ind. "I was in bed four weeks with la grippe and I tried many remedies and spent considerable for treatment with physicians, but I received no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar. Two small bottles of this medicine cured me and I now use it exclusively in my family." Take no substitutes. L. Taggart.

Glasses and lasses are brittle wares.

The many friends of G. H. Hausan, Engineer, L. E. & W. R. R., at present living in Lima, O., will be pleased to know of his recovery from threatened kidney disease. He writes, "I was cured by using Foley's Kidney Cure, which I recommend to all, especially trainmen who are usually similarly afflicted." L. Taggart.

Pneumonia and La Grippe Coughs cured quickly by Foley's Honey and Tar. Refuse substitutes. L. Taggart.
