Claude Putnam and Gordon Beattie, two Emporium lads visited the Press last Thursday and watched with keen interest the process of printing a paper.

George Hurteau, the obliging clerk at Warner House, has been busy sitting up cigars with his friends on account of the arrival of that handsome girl baby at his home.

County Superintendent of schools, Miss Mattie Collins, of Driftwood, came up on Monday to visit friends and make inquiries relative to Billy, the faithful horse, she contemplates purchasing.

Miss Hazel Crosby entertained a large party of friends last Thursday evening, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Wheaton. An enjoyable spread was served and the guests departed at a late hour.

Ralph C. Davison came down from St. Marys last Saturday and visited with his parents over Sunday. Of course he took in the State College entertainment Saturday evening. Ralph is employed at electrician by St. Marys Electric Light Company.

Attorney E. J. Jones, of St. Marys, accompanied by his wife, stopped at Warner House Monday night, taking Buffalo Flyer for the east, on a few days visit. Mr. Jones, who is an energetic attorney, is rapidly forging to the front and is prominently mentioned as the Republican candidate for State Senator in this district.

Capt. C. F. Barclay is transacting in town to-day.

Attorney C. W. Shaffer has returned from a business visit down east.

Thos. Dougherty, of Driftwood, is transacting business in town to-day. Miss Mary Davison came home from Chambersburg to visit with her parents over Sunday.

Miss Goldie Lyons entertained the Misses Hutchins, of Austin, several days last week.

Mrs. Fred Crosby and child returned last evening from visiting her parents at Keating Summit.

The venerable Galusha A. Grow, representative-at-large from the state of Pennsylvania, has announced his purpose to retire from Congress at the close of his present term.

P. & E. to be Double Tracked to Emporium.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Philadelphia & Erie railroad, in Philadelphia, Monday it was stated that the alliance with the Beech Creek will make it necessary to continue the double track a further distance of about thirty miles from Keating to Emporium. To provide for this work $400,000 has been appropriated.

The progress that has been made during the last year in the construction of the forty-six miles of double track between McElhattan and Keating is considered satisfactory and it will be ready for use by the early summer.

The aggregate cost of this work to December 31, 1901, amounts $1,001,041 96, of which $138,870 has been charged against the Renewal Fund for the replacement of the Queen's Run single track wooden bridge by a double track steel bridge, and $500,000 to the Extraordinary Expenditure Fund set aside last year toward the payment for this work.

The balance, together with the cost of sundry other necessary work, including a new station at Market street, Williamsport, extension of station and office at Sunbury, interlocking plants at Williamsport, McElhattan, St. Marys and Keating, and sidings at Emporium Junction, Sinnemahoning, Round Island and St. Marys, amounting to $469,896.94, has been charged against the income for the year.

The result of the operations of the road has been very satisfactory as the passenger business has been materially benefitted by close relations existing with the Western New York and Pennsylvania railway, which now furnishes a direct through connection to Buffalo and is operated, together with the Allegheny Valley railroad, as the Buffalo & Allegheny division of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Thanks.

We take this method of returning our heartfelt thanks to Mrs. T. J. Riley, of Driftwood, and Mrs. A. T. Nelson, of Huntley, for their letters of sympathy in the death of our dear Brother.

DEW DROPS.

Finding His Bride.

In one part of the canton of Ticino, in Switzerland, a very quaint marriage ceremony prevails. The bridegroom dresses in his "Sunday best" and, accompanied by as many friends and relatives as he can muster for the fete, goes to claim his bride.

Finding the door locked, he demands admittance, the inmates ask him his business, and in reply he solicits the hand of his chosen maiden.

If his answer be deemed satisfactory, he is successively introduced to a number of matrons and maids, some perhaps deformed and others old and ugly. Then he is presented to some large dolls, all of which he rejects with scorn, amid general merriment. The bewildered bridegroom, whose impetuosity and temper are now sorely tried, is then informed that his ladylove is absent and invited in to see for himself.

He rushes into the house and searches from room to room until he finds her in her bridal dress, ready to go to church. Then are his troubles over and his state as a Benedict assured.

Getting In Society.

Several young men in our smartest set were asked by an inquisitive genius how they managed to get in high society. "I danced my way in," said one, who frequently leads a cotillon. Another said: "I was too ungraceful for that. But I had a serious way with me, and got into the sacred circle by means of the Sunday school. I taught a Bible class, made acquaintance of the best young men, met their mothers, fathers and finally their sisters." A third: "I got in by being a stranger in New York. While on a hunting expedition in the west I was able, through a happy circumstance, to be of assistance to a very prominent leader of New York society. In gratitude, I suppose, he expected a promise that I would visit him if I ever came east. I came, I called, I conquered. He dined me at his club, then at his home, where I met his family. His daughter is now my wife."—New York Press.

Constantinople Beggars' Feast Day.

One day in the year Constantinople is free from the beggar nuisance—on Nov. 25. This is the festival of St. John the Almsgiver, the patron saint of the mendicant profession. No beggar of the Greek faith is on his or her beat that day. In the forenoon all, or nearly all, Orthodox mendicants attend a special service in the church of St. Constantine, at which an archbishop officiates. It is arranged by their corporation, for they are organized into a guild like any other trade. The church, spacious as it is, is none too large for the numerous congregation of cadgers, many of whom in their holiday garb look like respectable citizens. The rest of the day is spent in festivities, which are apt to extend so far into the night that many of the revelers are unable to attend to business on the morrow.

Where He Belonged.

A clergyman observed a horse jockey trying to take in a simple gentleman by imposing upon him a broken winded horse for a sound one. The parson, taking the gentleman aside, told him to be cautious of the person he was dealing with. The gentleman declined the purchase, and the jockey, quite nettled, observed, "Parson, I had much rather hear you preach than to see you privately interfere in bargains between man and man in this way." "Well," replied the parson, "if you had been where you ought to have been last Sunday you might have heard me preach." "Where was that?" inquired the jockey. "In the state prison," returned the clergyman.—London Standard.

A Thousand Dollars Thrown Away.

Mr. W. W. Baker, of Plainview, Neb., writes: "My wife had lung trouble for over fifteen years. We tried a number of doctors and spent over a thousand dollars without any relief. She was very low and I lost all hope, when a friend suggested trying Foley's Honey and Tar, which I did; and thanks be to this remedy it saved her life. She is stronger and enjoys better health than she has ever known in ten years. We shall never be without Foley's Honey and Tar and would ask those afflicted to try it." L. Taggart.

The Last Heard Of It.

"My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds, Mansfield, G. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure, very pleasant to take. The little ones like it. R. C. Dodson.

New Faces AT The Old Stand

Yes, although we are new at this old and for many years reliable General Hardware establishment of Walker, Howard & Company, we hope to meet with the hearty confidence bestowed upon our predecessors.

For the present we are quite busy replacing old goods, adding an entirely new line of hardware, stoves, (both coal and gas) tinware, carpenter and builders material, and propose to increase our line of goods to meet every demand of the public, and shall deem it a pleasure to promptly order just what you want. Yet we shall endeavor to have just what the people want. It is business we are after and propose to be fully up to date.

In connection with our general hardware and tinware department we have one of the most complete Plumbing and Steam Fitting establishments, with competent and first-class workmen. No matter what kind of contract work, we are prepared to serve you.

Drop in and see us and we may be able to save you some time and money.

Don't be a Rip Van Winkle. There is no use in fighting a windmill. In other words, it does no good to try to drive the wolf from the door, and continue to pay twice as much for your groceries as you should pay. Quit butting your head against a stone wall. Stop paying three profits on everything you eat. We can show you a better way, a more satisfactory way, a money-saving way. Buy your groceries from us. Buy them as we buy them—for spot cash. Pay but one profit, and that a small one. Buy staples in large quantities instead of in little driblets. The goods here mentioned you will find to be of a quality that will please you, and we know our prices are lower than you can get elsewhere. FRANK SHIVES. Established, 1886. Emporium, Pa.
