WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent Washington, March 3d, 1902. Last Saturday there occurred on the floor of the Senate Chamber a fist fight engaged in by the sena-tors from South Carolina. The Senate immediately went into executive session and declared the offenders "in contempt." It had been my intention to permit this disgraceful episode to pass unnotic-revenue bill came to a vote, President pro tem Frye refused to the senators in contempt an opportunity to vote and precipitated a protest from the minority, who claimad that the action of the president was unconstitutional in that it "disfranchised a sovereign state." The Chair adhered it its decision and the bill passed by a strict party vote.

On Tuesday Senator Frye, while affirming that his position had been correct and that senators in contempt had neither vote nor voics on the floor, restored their namee pending the report of the committee to which had been referred the question of censure, etc. Immediate adjournment was taken by the Senate on Tuesday and Wednesday. On that day the Senate approved the permanent census bill, as reported by the conference committee, as did also the House and with the signature of the President it will become a law. The Senate then took up the irrigation bill which was next on the calendar.

On Thursday Congress went into joint session in the House of Representatives and with its guests, the President and his Cabinet, Prince Henry of Prussia and his suite, the diplomatic corps, the Justices of the Supreme Court and a number of invited guests, partidelivered an eloquent enlogy of William McKinley. Adjectives will not do justice to the glowing tribute which the Secretary of State paid to his dead chief.

Your correspondent was present at the memorial exercises in the House of Representatives and noted particularly the bearing and presence of the distinguished personages and especially the foreign visitors. Prince Henry of Prussia was ushered into the hall twelve The United States is now exporting great quantities of silks to dent arrived. and took his seat. The address of Secretary Hay was delivered in a monotonous tone and was fully an hour and twenty-five minutes in length, during which time I observed particularly the bearing of the Prince. He sat bolt upright with his feet evenly in frontof him, and I think I may say with assur-ance that during that long ordeal there was not the movement of a limb or muscle. It was a revela-tion of the influence of rigid military training and etiquette as practiced in a country renowned for its rigorous observance of form. In marked contrast was the natural expression of fatigue of President Roosevelt, who sat by him. The President shifted his position again and again, and while doubtless interested, found the long address, or especially the necessity of sit-ting through it, a penance. It was evident that he would have given a great deal to vary it by a horseback ride or a running walk of ten
