Success in life is largely determined by the judicious economy which men Success Is Builded make of time, and though each hour of the day counts for something in the building up of character, the hours which are most effective in determining who shall take precedence in the competitions of life are the ones which come with the eventide. This statement may sound rather far-fetched at first, but if we will put on our thinking caps we will find that it very closely approximates the truth. Take for example the men who under mistaken ideas of relaxation spend their evenings in carousals and dissipations. Are they the men who succeed? We feel perfectly safe, says the Atlanta Constitution, in answering this question in the negative. Such men may not be conscious at first of the debilitating effects of the losses which they incur in prosecuting this course of self-indulgence, but if persevered in it is sure to bring about physical and intellectual deterioration and they will sooner or later find themselves dropping behind their rivals in business and wondering why it is, when the secret of it all lies in the fact that they have misapplied the time which they should have spent in gathering new ideas from wholesome reading and in getting themselves ready for the busy activities of the day ahead. On the other hand take the men who, realizing the need of keeping apace with the world, spend their even ings in an effort to inform themselves concerning what is going on in the world around them or seek in other ways, without taxing themselves too heavily after the work of the day is over, to gather new ideas from wholesome books or from helpful conversation with those around them whose habits of reflection or whose ripe experience will enable them to learn something which they need to know. Without sermonizing we wish to press this comparison home to our readers and we venture to say that on careful investigation it will be found that the men of ideas in every community and the men who are loked upon as leaders of thought are the men who have made the best use of the hours of leis ure which have come to them when the work of the day is over.

The "crazy-quilt" has, through the ingenuity of an old lady of 88, the Youth's Companion an inmate of the Peabody Home of New York, without any means of her own bewithout any means of her own beington: yond deft fingers and a heart overwith kindness for her fellows, has for some time been making dresses for little girls in missionary schools. Manufactures' samples of woolen and cotton goods are her stock in hand. The woolen frocks go to Indians in the west, and the cotton to negroes in the south. The waists often have fronts of one material, backs of another, under-arm pieces of still different patterns and colors; sleeves are things apart from all the rest, and the skirts rival those of Harlequin. The pieces are set together wiht pipings, cordings, braidings and feather-stich, know there's neither figure nor fashion in them," the maker of them admits, "but they keep the children warm and clean, and I love to do them." Reports say also that both negro and Indian children are delighted with the gay garments, and strive by exemplary manners to live up to their new finery.

Bishop Potter says that when he has been traveling in Europe or visiting public places he has never heard loud or harsh voice raised above the tone of others around him without turning with a shudder of apprehension to find if the voice were that of a fellow countryman. Are Americans in so much haste that they do not take time to modulate their voices? That conclusion is more probable than that the air of freedom is not favorable to an agreeable utterance. A man is known by the voice he keeps. Identification is just as practicable when a woman speaks. In the cultivation of good manners the vocal chords must not be forgotten.

PARTISAN INSINCERITY.

Senator Hanna Exposed the Poltroon Methods of Democratic Opponents.

Senator Hanna cleverly exposed the insincerity of the partisan opposition to the ship subsidy bill when, just be fore the vote was taken on the passage of the measure, he offered amend-ments to it whose effect was to remove those possibilities which democratic members had declared to be pernicious and against which they had directed the main force of their antagonism says the Albany Journal.

Democratic senators who had spoken against the bill had never tired of as serting that foreign-built ships would be likely to receive a goodly share of the money which it was proposed to appropriate to give material aid to the work of reconstructing the United States merchant marine. So Senator Hanna offered amendments providing that no foreign-built ship shall receive a part of the subsidy unless it is ex pressly stipulated in the bill that it shall, and, further, that hereafter no foreign-built ship shall be admitted to American registry.

Then the democrats voted against the amendments which removed ground of the objections of which they had made so much.

The bulk of the opposition to the bill comes from those who would oppose any proposition coming from the republican side, regardless of its nature Included in this general opposition is the specific opposition of those demo crats who are opposed to any and all measures for the protection and promotion of American industries, whose antagonism to the proposition to give material aid to American shipowners is of a piece with their antagonism to tariff protection for American indus

The urgent reasons for the enact ment of the ship subsidy bill into law have been so often stated in these columns that it would be superfluous to recount them. The action of the United States senate shows that the oundness of those reasons is recog nized by men who have given the sub ject thorough study. Hundreds of millions have been spent and other hun dreds of millions will be spent for the onstruction of warships, in order that this country may be well equipped to defend itself against hostile aggression and to protect its interests in all parts of the world, and no strong opposition to such expenditure has been encountered. It is manifestly grossly inconsistent to oppose the expenditure of a few millions annually for the pur pose of encouraging the construction of ships of peace, in order that the United States may become at last well equipped to protect itself against foreign trade aggression and to promote its commerce in all parts of th world. It is now the duty of the house of representatives to complete the carrying out of this part of the declared policy of the republican party passing the shipping bill which has just received the indorsement of the senate and has long had the indorsement of all Americans who want to see their country become as great in peace in every respect as it has proved itself to be in war.

PRESERVED ITS HONOR.

Pleages Made to Cuba Have Been Faithfully Kept by the United States.

The United States will formally re linquish control in Cuba and turn over the affairs of the island to the new re public which will be installed May 26 at which time President Palma is to be "Crazy Quilt" blossomed into a inaugurated. This will close the chapthing of utility ter in history which records what our and a joy to both country has done for its neighbor. The maker and recipient. According to chapter is one which reflects the high-ington:

"The government of the United States has shown a most beautiful example of good faith in dealing with a weak government which it undertook to rescue from its oppressors. It has demonstrated its generosity and partiotism, and by the shedding of its own blood has helped Cuba to break the chain which united it with Spain. Some countries would have sought some pretext for selfish gain in undertaking a work of this character, and taken advantage of some technicality for their own aggrandizement, but the contrary spirit has been manifested by the United States, and it has given to the world an evidence of good will seldom found. The people of the United States have remembered their own declaration of Independence, and have fulfilled a duty to manklad."

President-elect Palma's grateful and President-elect Palma's gratefu! and graceful tribute is one to be put on record and remembered, says the Trov Times. It might be well to read it oc-casionally to those unpatriotic faultfinders who seem determined, in de fiance of all the facts, to prove the United States untrue to its pledges to Cuba. Those pledges have been kept thus far with a faithfulness unsurpassed in the experience of nations. The United States can start the new Cuban republic proudly conscious that it has shown magnanimity without a parallel and that its honor is without

The democrats in congress-at least if the democratic members of the senate Philippines committee correctly represent them—are going to indorse "the policy of scuttle" in the indorse "the policy of scuttle" in the far east. These members of the committee have prepared a substitute for the Philippine government bill which proposes to relinquish United States sovereignts over the islands. is a good deal of a bunco scheree. It sets no time for such relinquishment. and it does specify conditions which it is probably impossible for the na-tives to comply with. It is so obviously a piece of political trickery that it will deceive no one-not even the Filipinos .- Troy Times.

AN ANSWER AT LAST.

A Democrat Tells Very Shortly Wha Should Be Done with the Philippine Islands.

At last, after years of begging the anti-expansionists to tell us what they would do with the Philippines, we have got an answer. It comes from Senator Money, of Mississippi, who, when asked in congress what he would do with the islands, replied: "Let them go to the devil."

It will be observed that there is no hypocrisy about that reply. There is no pretense that the Filipinos are fit for self-government, that they are a nation of enlightened love of liberty and independence is leading them to martyrdom by scores and hundreds at the hands of the brutal and despotic American government.

On the contrary, Senator Money appears to understand the tendency and destination of that people if left to themselves. The only explanation of his remark is that he regards them as what they really are, a semi-barbarous, semi-childish race, with a veneer of civilization over a small percentage of the number, beneath which exis all the passions and dispositions of ar inferior people but a short distance removed from primitive savagery while the great body of the people are still in the crudest and simplest stages of development from that condition.

Left to themselves, such a race would certainly fulfill Senator Money's prophesy; but retained under the re-straint of American control it will slowly be lifted upward towards bet er conditions and nobler principles. though the while acquiring some weaknesses and vices of the tronger race.

It would be interesting, if it were not for the inevitable shock to human-ity it would occasion, could the Filipinos be left to themselves for about one year. At the end of that time it would be found that a large proportion of the people would have gone or been sent to the personage named by Senator Money. Why, Aguinaldo would not dare go about among his own fellow countrymen for fear of assassination if he were set at liberty to-morrow. When he was in the saddle he gave the world a specimen of what Filipino self-government would be. bloody-minded and bloody-handed tyrant, he was guilty of having his second officer in command among the in-surgents assassinated on his own doorstep. A reign of terror prevailed among all natives who, through a desire for peace or fear for their own security, accepted the authority of the American government. Hundreds if not thousands of natives have been boloed or buried alive or otherwise tertured and killed for refusing to take part with the insurgent factor.

To grant independence to such a people, with their hundreds of thousands of innocent women and children. would be like turning herds of lions and wolves and tigers in with flocks of sheep and deer and expect them to live together in harmony and peace

WRONG IN APPLICATION.

Democratic Resolutions Should Be Applied to Southern Conditions.

In resolutions adopted by the demeratic congressional caucus appears the following: "We shall insist upon the sacred force of the fundamental rule of Democratic self-government Southern members voted for this as freely as northern. It was meant to apply to the Philippines and not to the south. The most powerful apply plication, however, is to the south, where a large proportion of voters are disenfranchised. Such a declaration means nothing unless it is general in its use. The republican administration is giving the Philippines local self government as rapidly as possible. A reading of the resolutions convinces one that the democratic congressmen have accepted the supreme court decision that the is States. This being the case, the thing for the democrats to do is not velt covers this subject fully and shows that self-government is being rapidly given the various parts of the It must be remembered that some of the districts are still traversed by parauding bands and that peaceful inhabitants stand in need of military protection.
It is, however, worth something to note that the abandonment of Philippines has been given up by the democrats and that they have reached point where they, too, can regard Philippines as a part of the

Our Work in the Philippines.

We have already done a good deal for the Philippines. We have estab-lished supreme and lower courts and a police and constabulary force of 6,000; we have increased the receipts and decreased the expenditures; we have en-rolled 150,000 children in the public schools; we have set to work American and nearly 4,000 school-teachers; we have established agricultural and industrial schools; we have a night school in Manila whose enrollment has reached 25,000; building roads there, one of them to cost $1,000,000; we are improving Ma nila harbor at an expense of $3,000,-000; we are buying the 403,000 acres of land owned by the friars and reselling it to the people on easy terms; we have nearly $7,000,000 in the island treasury to help meet the outlays for improvements We have 40,000,000 acres of most valuable timber land in the world. Some day we shall think we made as good a bargain when we paid $20,000,000 for the Philippines as when we bought Alaska for $7,000,000,

PRISONER'S CRIME.

Fatally Wounds Wife While She Is Visiting Him in His Cell.

He Is Finally Overpowered by Sheriff After Desperate Struggle--Cut His Own Throat and May Bic--Washington C. H., O.

Washington C. H., O., April 17.— Henry Cross and his wife lie dying at the Fayette county jail. She is literally cut to pieces, and he has in-flicted upon himself fatal wounds. The crimes were committed Henry Cross with a barlow barlow knife whetted to a razor edge,

At 5 o'clock last night Mrs. Henry cross, accompanied by Hon. D. I. Vorthington and Lee Rankin, at-Worthington torneys for Henry Cross, who has been in jail here since last February, awaiting his trial for the murder of little 9-year-old Ralph Thompson, went to the county jail to see Henry

In about 40 minutes the sheriff heard the prisoners making a desper-ate effort to attract his attention by shaking the jail door. He ran to the door, and, learning what was the matter, he ran up stairs and found Mrs. Cross lying face down on the floor, while Cross was over her with his knife in his hand stabbing her in the neck and back as fast as he could move his arm.

The sheriff was armed with a po liceman's billy, and, rushing up to Cross, he struck him two terrific blows across the side of the head before he could move him. The sheriff, with the assistance of one or two of prisoners, attempted drag the bleeding woman along the corridor in the second floor between the two rows of cells to the iron stairway leading down to the corridor and cells below. Cross made an attempt to stab the sheriff, but the officer dodged and hit him three blows across the head to beat him back. He fell partially over the stair railing, but caught himself by his leg, and thrusting his hand into his open shirt where he had concealed open shirt where he had concealed his knife Cross made another deserate attempt to lacerate his wife.

Pulling his revolver from his ocket, Sheriff Phillips aimed it at Cross and cried, "Stop, there, you black demon, or I'll blow your brains out." This had the desired effect. Cross got down from the stairway and stepped back, while the sheriff assisted by several prisoners, carried the woman to the sheriff's apart-ments. She can live but a short time. It was found later that Cross had cut his throat, but did not sever the jugular, and had stabbed himself in the breast several times. He may Commercial Depositors Will Lose. Detroit, Mich., April 17.—The Wayne county circuit court yesterday handed down a decision holding that the savings depositors of the wrecked City Savings bank must be preferred over the commercial depositors in the distribution of the money to be re-alized from the sale of the bank's real estate investments. The court holds that the proofs show that the real estate loans amounting to $986,-82.86 were made from the savings department, that the interest was turned into the savings department, and that the failure of the bank was virtually a failure of the commercial side of the bank by overdrafts and mismanagement.

Off to Assume His New Duties.

New York, April 17.—Tomas Estra-da Palma, president-elect of the Cufor Cuba to-day on the steamship Admiral Farragut. Prior to his departure Mr. Palma made a statement in which he said he should endeavor to bring about a settled condition of bring about a settled condition of affairs in Cuba as soon as it possibly could be done. More than all else, he said, the country needs a reduction of tariff duties. He had made few promises and he did not believe in high salaried officials.

Life Man is Pardoned. Albany, N. Y., April 17.—Gov. Odell yesterday pardoned Amer Bon Ali, better known as "Frenchy," who has been serving a life sentence in Matteawan prison for murder of a woma called "Old Shakespeare" in New York City, in 1891. The pardon was granted because the governor be-lieves there are grave doubts of the prisoner's guilt, much testimony being of a peculiar character, and "Frenchy" being unable to speak English. The pardon was asked for English. several influential and prominent

SENDS PRESIDENT A LION. Colorado Admirer of Roosevelt

Sends Savage Present to the White House.
A genuine mountain lion has just reached the White House as a testi monial* to the president's hunting prowess. It is the gift of a friend at Hayden, Col., and an exception will be made in this case in that the beast will be kept at the White House in-stead of being sent to the zoological park, as is the usual custom. Coons, wild cats, bears, lions, tigers, alli-gators and other attractive pets have all been consigned to the zoo, while things like cats and dogs are usually allowed to stray or are given into the tender keeping of the White House attendants. Chickens fare differently, because Kermit Roosevelt happens to be a violent fowl fancier. Consternation was created about the White House when the rumor spread White House when the rumor spread about that the box lifted from the express wagon contained a mountain lion, and great respect was shown the new arrival. Later, however, whe it was understood that the lion is pretty example of the taxidermist pretty example of the taxidermists art, new courage was taken and the box was carried to the basement of the White House. The animal is beautifully mounted, and will find a place either in the upper hall of the private part of the house or in the library.

Fictitious.

Fictitious.

It is very seldom that we pay much attention to reports circulated in reference to the virtue of a patent medicine, as we have always considered that reports of this nature were more or less fictitious and gotten up for the purpose of creating a demand from the public. But the publication in various papers of the wonderful results obtained from using that famous remedy St. Jacobs Oil, and from the fact that it is a remedy for outward application only, led us to make trials of it in our own family. One, a case of lumbago of long standing which had previously resisted every form of treatment, was permanently cured by a few applications of the Oil. Another was a sprained ankle, with severe pain. This was instantly relieved and permanently cured in a few days by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, while for severe toothacheand neuralgia it acted almost like magic, so quickly did the pain depart after the Oil was applied. Our own experience in using the Oil, as above indicated, was so highly satisfactory that we determined in the interest of the general public to make a thorough local invessitigation among dealers and others who have sold and used St. Jacobs Oil. Recognizing Messrs. Taylor and Co. as head-quarters for all proprietary medicines, we called at their Briggate Store, and on making known the object of our visit to the general Manager, he stated that their three stores in Leeds was constantly increasing—that it was the most popular remedy sold and was highly spoken of by everyone who used it. The Manager said he had heard hundreds of people say they had been permanently cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, and similar complaints by the use of this famous Oil.
