Harry A. Barrows, Census Disbursing Clerk, Short.

Harry A. Barrows, years ago a resident of Cameron, where his father, the late Henry Barrows, was engaged in business, has "gone wrong." A dispatch from Washington, says:

"Playing the races with government money has caused a shortage of $7500 in the accounts of H. A. Barrows, disbursing clerk of the Census Office. Barrows has been suspended pending an investigation, and Appointment Clerk Langley is acting disbursing officer.

Barrows confessed the shortage, and had it not been for this it is likely that it would not have been discovered for several months. He saw Director Merriam, and told him that his accounts were short $7500, and that it had been caused by temporarily borrowing the government's funds to play the races. He lost small sums at first, and as they increased so did Barrows' bets, and as a result he confessed rather than continue hiding his defalcation. The government will lose nothing, as the American Surety Company is on Barrows' bond for $50,000. He received a salary of $3000 a year, and has a wife and six children.

That money can be lost quickly on the race tracks is again shown by Barrows' defalcation. Six weeks ago the Dennings season opened, and a few days before two Treasury accountants audited Barrows' accounts. They were found correct. Barrows began playing the races. He had many friends, and from them received the usual "good things," which did not go through. He lost steadily, and as his shortage became greater began taking larger sums and plunging, in the hope that fortune would smile upon him, and allow him to make good his shortage. Only a few of his friends knew that he was playing the races.

Mr. Barrows has turned over to the surety company a life insurance policy and what little property he has remaining, but this will not be sufficient to make up the shortage. He is under the surveillance of detectives employed by the surety company."

After the death of Mr. Barrows, Sr., the family removed to Washington, where they have resided ever since. Young Barrows secured a position with government and steadily advanced, until he occupied a first-class and responsible post. His down-fall is to be regretted.

Letter to L. Lockwood.
Emporium, Pa.

Dear Sir: There are two sorts of farmers, one wants his house and farm buildings to say "I'm comfortable and owe nobody, thank you;" the other don't care. The paint for the thrifty one is Devoe lead and zinc.

Mr. Thriftless, no matter, one point is as good as another for him. Any white-wash stuff will do. His clapboards are loose and windows out.

A man can't look thrifty, unless he is thrifty. Takes more than paint to save his property. Look at his horses—can't paint them!

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.
P. S.—Murry & Coppersmith sell our paint.

That Beautiful Gloss
Comes from the varnish in Devoe's Varnish Floor Paint; costs 5 cents more a quart though. Sold by Murry & Coppersmith. A
