Coal a Luxury.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Anthracite at $14 a ton is the prospect here, according to one firm of miners and dealers. This is, of course, contingent on a continuation of the strike for a few weeks more. While anthracite which has been bought at $9.50 a ton wholesale is expected to be put on the market in a week or so at $11 and $11.50 a ton retail, some of the dealers have raised the present retail price to $10 a ton. A member of the firm mentioned said:

"All the coal that has been hoarded up is practically cleaned up, and those who happen to have small stocks on hand are not parting with it except to favored customers. It is impossible to fix a price now. Anthracite sells simply for what it will bring. It is a luxury, and is only bought by people who must have it, and who have the money to pay for it."

The representative of another large firm said: "I went along the line of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad between Jersey City and Boonton and found all the yards empty. There was not even coal dust in them. At other places I found barges laden with anthracite. What they carried might seem a large quantity to laymen, but it would be only a drop in the bucket so far as the needs of New York are concerned."

Presidents of the coal-carrying companies will not undertake to predict when the strike will be over. They are inclined to extend the probable time to when it will end from September 1 to October 1.

REDFIELD'S MAGAZINE for September contains an array of interesting short stories and special articles not to be found in any magazine at a similar price.

Dear Sir: You can paint your barn with a good barn paint, if you like. Our agent may not have it in stock, but will get it—we make it. What is good barn paint?

It is paint that will wear well enough look well enough for a barn, and cost about half by the gallon. How do you want your barn to look? Is the question. Anybody else's barn is another matter. Your barn is your business, your living, your profit. You'd better be extravagant with it. Paint it as well as a merchant or doctor or lawyer or banker paints his house.

Better paint your barn Devoe lead and zinc. It costs more a gallon than barn paint, but you use less gallons. Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & Co. P. S.—Murry & Coppersmith sell our paint.
