WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.) Washington, Sept. 1st, 1902.

Although a calm pervades political affairs at the present time, the coming campaign promises to be conducted on whirl-wind lines, at least in so far as the Republican side of it is concerned. Probably never before has such a galaxy of able speakers been summoned together as those who have signified their willingness to speak this fall. Ever since the adjournment of Congress, Colonel Casson, of Wisconsin sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives, has been working indefatigably with this end in view, and, judging from a letter he wrote recently to a friend in the Department of Agriculture, his work has not been is vain. The formal campaign will be opened by the Secretary of the Treasury, who will address an immense audience in Boston on October 8. Secretary Wilson will speak in Iowa, and the attorney general has promised a number of brilliant speeches on the trust question, although time and place has not yet been determ-The three great leaders of ined. the House, Representatives Payne, Dalzell and Grosvenor, will be heard in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia and probably in several other states. Speaker Henderson will be provided with a private car and will elucidate Republican doctrines in almost every doubtful state, if any state can be properly called doubtful. Repre-sentative Littlefield of Maine, whose reputation as a powerful and persuasive orator is well-known, will go to California to assist in the good work. Representatives Landis and Watson will take the stump and work with exceptional energy. Representatives William Alden Smith, Corliss and Hamilton, all of Michigan, will be heard in many states outside their own. The great meetings to be held in the large cities will be cared for very largely by prominent senators, Messrs. Hanna, Foraker, Spooner, Quarles, McComas and others having promised every assistance. The Republican committee has been economical in its expenditures for literature with a view to conserving its funds for the purpose of enabling the leading exponents of Republi-can policy to explain by word of mouth the benefits to be derived by retaining a strong Republican ma-jority in Congress. Mr. Murat Halstead will address New York audiences on the Philippinc ques-tion and Mr. Ferdinand Ziegel, president of the Commercial Travellers Club, will address Swedish, Polish and German audiences. In light of the vigorous campaign which will be conducted by the Republican leaders the efforts of the Democrats seem somewhat futile. Mr. W. A. Wishard, Solicitor of Internal Revenue of the Treasury, has just returned from Indiana and describes the situation in that state in glowing terms. He says that a full corps of state officers, with the exception of governor and lieutenant governor, will be elected and that he regards the prospects of every Republican candidate as good, notwithstanding that the campaign has not actually opened. Mr. Wishard bases his sanguine pre-dictions on the fact that the democrats are badly divided and are fighting among themselves. He says the free silver Democrats and unite, that they are both absolutely tenacious of their own views and are suspicious of each other. In fact, he states that in many instances the hatred by the silver faction of the gold faction is more bitter than that felt for the Republicans. Under these circumstances, there will be much scratching of ballots and the Republican ticket will be elected by a majority of from 15,000 to 25,000. The news comes from New York and is generally credited, that the great anthracite coal strike will end on next Tuesday. The fear that the price of coal would be seriously enhanced by the forced idleness of the mines has been an occasion of worry to the Republecan leaders as they feared it might have some effect on the fall elections but that fear is dissipated by the encouraging news in regard to the mines.
