WASHINGTON LETTER.

VOL. 37.

(From our Regular Correspondent.) Washington, Sept. 15th, 1902. Editor Press.

Those politicians and editors who have been banking on the President's political inexperience and predicting that, sooner or later, he would make what they were pleased to term a "serious he enters a larger field. Prof. Suhrie break," are likely to suffer serious is a polished gentlemen, thorough in all disappointment. In the opinion of he does and very popular with all Republicon leaders in Washington, one of the shrewdest moves in Mr. Roosevelt's political career will consist of the conference which will take place in Oyster Bay to-morrow when, at the personal request of the President, the leaders of the party will meet to confer on the policy which the former will advocate in his speeches during his western tour. An examination of the personnel of the conference will reveal the fact that the President has summoned the men who represent every shade of economic opinion within his party. From the center of the tariff revision movement comes Senator Allison of unless same are returned the party or Iowa while the extreme opposition is represented by Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island. From the conservative middle ground comes Senator Hanna, whe will add the weight of his political experience and great sagacity to the politico economic conference. Senator Spooner of Wisconsin is presumably thoroughly familiar with the sentiment which prompted Representative Babcock to offer a tariff reduction bill in the last session of Congress, and Senator Platt of New ion of the country. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Platt of Connecticut, will ably represent the New England interests while the President's great confidence in the judgment of the former will help to facilitate the work of the council. It is reasonable to assume that, after such a conference, the President will be in a position to ex-for the nomination of 1904. Sena-tor Platt says that he believes Mr. Roosevelt deserves the nomination of his party and that he thinks he will get it. On the other hand, the Senator doubts the advisability of beinging the subject up at the New York state convention, for purely local reasons. #### Two Good Sermons,

In the absence of Rev. O. S. Metzler, the Rev.W. W. Hartman, of St. Marys, occupied the pulpit at the First Metho-dist Church last Sunday morning and evening. The Rev. gentleman is a young man in years, but two masterly ermons delivered Sunday proved that he possessed an old head. Our people were delighted that the Rev. Metzler provided so amply for them in his abence. Our St. Marys friends are to be congratulated on their good fortune in having so capable a gentleman to York represents the financial opin- fill their pulpit each Sunday. #### Letter From an Old Friend.

G N. Baker, who will be pleasantly remembered by many of our citizens as the Pipe Line walker between Emporium and Colegrove, years ago, writes the following letter to Mr. J. D. Logan:

Considerable relief is felt at Sen-ator Platt's frank expression in re-gard to his attitude toward the President with reference to the pro-posed indorsement of Mr. Roosevelt for the nomination of 1904. Sena-tor Platt says that he believes Mr. Roosavalt desays that he believes Mr. DEAR FRIEND:-You will be surpris-

Politics. According to Senator Jones, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, the trust question is the great Perhaps in most cases nerve is a part Pa., is seriously ill at Pittsburg. issue before the people. With the trust, according to him, goes the tariff. there is only one thing necessary. The Democratic idea of trust smashing is tariff smashing, says Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Coal Strike Not a Matter of "The high price of beef and the conduct of this coal business," he says, "have gone a long way in convincing the people that the course of the Republican Party is against public interests."

The course of the Republican Party has brought the country at large the greatest prosperity known in its history, and this has been produced by meeting and overcoming the Democratic policies of free silver and free rade. The party of Bryan and Jones and of Candidate Pattison, for that matter, no longer talks glibly about free silver, but it returns to the attack on the protective system because of the combination of capital into vast business enterprises, some of which are in every way to the advantage of the public, some of which are not, but all of which the Democracy persists in grouping under the general head of the trusts. It would smash them all. and in order to do the smashing it would first smash the tariff.

Undoubtedly the Beef Trust is one that ought to be fought tooth and nail, for it has given us a specimen of what it can accomplish by raising the price of meats. According to Democratic opinion it can be conquered by removing the duty on beef and other articles of food in which it deals. This is an instance of what Mr. Jones would call the former at Ridgway and latter at a "protected trust." President Roosevelt has plans for dealing with such concerns which would place them under a certain governmental supervision, and if such as the beef combination can be reached by tariff revision. the Republican Congress would not nesitate to take such a step. It is not general revision of the tariff that is required, for such a step would mean a vast upheaval of all business and would lead to panic and confusion and to bankruptcy, as it did in President Cleveland's time, but revision of certain schedules were needed is a very different thing from a general smash. The Republican Party can be trusted o make all necessary changes. But why does Chairman Jones talk of the coal strike as if it were due entirely to the Republican administration of the country? Here he belies the Democratic assertion that the "tariff is the mother of trusts," for anthracite coal is not a protected commodity. The Dingley bill has nothing to do with it whatever. Not a miner laid down his pick on account of it. Not an operator has refused to arbitrate because it is on the statute books. In no conceivable way can the coal strike be linked with Republican administration either National or State.

It is not in any way connected with President Baer, of the Reading, who is oldingth arbitration, is a Democrat of the most pronounced sort.

INTERESTING COMMENT.

Free traders who say that trusts are the result of a protective tariff have not yet found an explanation for the countless British trusts.

President Roosevelt has given the stumper a new beginning. He said "Men and women of Boston," instead of "Ladies and gentlemen." And why not?

The Republicsn party is so friendly to labor in all of its legislation, that it does not have to buy fake endorsements for its candidates from leaders who have the itching palm.

If ever there was a time when Pennsylvania needed to renew her loyalty to Republicanism and the doctrine of protection, which has made her great among the States, this fall's that time.

The Pennypacker band-wagon now contains Col. A. K. McClure, ex-Senator Dave Martin and numerous other ex-kickers. They know a good man and also know when to support him.

The Democratic plan of campaign is to purchase labor union endorsements, wherever possible. The men who thus art the partisan politics will have short lives as labor leaders.

It is absurd to try to make a political question out of the strike. The miners had grievances, and their petitions were denied by the operators. A strike followed. That is all there is to the matter.
